Childhood's days now passed before me, Forms and scenes of long ago, Like a dream they hover o'er me, Calm and bright as evening glow Days that know no shade of sorrow, There my young hears pure and free, Joyfal hailed each coming morrow, In the Cottage by the sea.

CHORUS.

In the Cottage by the sea, Io the Cottage by the sea, Joyful hailed each coming morrow, In the Cottage by the sea.

Fancy sees the rose tree twining, Round the old and rustic door, And below the white beach shining, Where I gathered shells of yore. Hears my mother's gentle warning, As she took me on her knee; And I feel sgain life's morning, In the Cottage by the sea. In the Cottage by the sea, &c.

What though years have rolled above me, Though 'mid fairer scenes I roam, Yet I ne'er shall cease to love thee, Childhood's dear and happy home ! And when life's long day is closing, Oh ! how pleasant it would be; On some faithful heart reposing, In the Cottage by the sea. In the Cottage by the sea, &c.

A DISPATCH EROM THE EMPEROR TO HIS MINISTER.

The Acknowledgement of Secreta-ry Seward

WASHINGTON, Sept. 8. 1861. The Russian Minister, M. De Stoeckl, had an audience of the President on Saturday, and read to him the following dispatch:

ST. PETERSBURG, July 10, 1861. "M. DE STOEKL, &c. - Sir: From the beginning of the conflict which divides the United States of America, you have been desired to make known to the Federal Government the deep interest with which our august master was observing the developement of a crisis which keeps in question the prosperity and even the existence of the Union. The Emperor profoundly regrets to see that the hope of a peaceful solution is not realized and that American citizens, already in arms, are ready to let loose upon their country the most for-midable of the scourges of political societya civil war.

For more than 80 years that it has existed, the American Union owes its independence, its towering rise, and its progress, to the concord of its members, concentrated under the auss piece of its illustrious founders, by institutions which have been able to reconcile the Union with liberty. This Union has been faithful. It has exhibited to the world the spectacle of a prosperity without example in the annals of history It would be deplorable that, after so conclusive an experience, the United States should be hurried into a breach of the solemn compact, which up to this time has made their power. In spite of the diversity, Providence seems to urge them to draw closer the tradi. tional bond, which is the basis of the very conditions of their political existence. In any event, the sacrificat which they might impose upon themselves to maintain it, are beyond comparison with those which dissolution would bring after it. United, they perfect themselves, isolated, they are paralyzed.

"The struggle which unhappily has ariset persons, whom you may meet, giving them the assurance that in every event the American nation may count upon the most cordial sympathy on the part of our august Master during the important crisis which it is passing through at present.

"Receive, sir, the expression of my very deep consideration. (Signed) GORTSCHAKOFF."

The Secretary of State has delivered to M. Stoeski the following schnowledgement: DEPARTMENT OF STATE, WASHINGTON, Sept 7 1861. "The Secretary of State of the United States

"The Secretary of State of the Oblice Ostice is authorized by the President to express to M. De Stucekl, Envoy Extraordinary and Minister Pienipotentiary of His Majasty, the Emproved of Russia his profound sense of the Minister Pienipoteutiary of His majoray, the Emperor of Russia, his profound sense of the liberal, friendly, and magnanimous sentiments of His Majisty on the subject of our internal differences, which for a time have seemed to threaten the American Union, as they are threaten the instruction from Prince Gortschakoff to M. De Stoeckl, und by him read, by His Majesty's direction, to the Presi-dent of the United States and the Secretary of State. M. De Stoeckl will express to his Government the satisfaction with which the Government regards this new guaranty of a triendship between the two countries, which had its beginning with the national existence of the United States. The Secretary of State offers to M. De Stoeckl renewed assurances of bis Ligh consideration. "WILLIAM H. SEWARD.

and Letrywhere. This is a most perfect preparation, and seldom fails to dogood. It is harmless in its effects but powerful to relieve Pain. If you use it once you will not likely be without it again. You will find it a constant household friend, giving case and relief just when needed. Keep it constantly on hand and it will save you many hours of pain and suf-fering. There is hardly a pain it will not ease... There is hardly an accident that will occur where it will not be useful. keep the cloth saturated with it. In a short time it will draw all the fire out. It will cause a prick-ling sensation-this is the fire coming out. Keep it wet with the "Master of Pain" until the pain and prickling ceases. Let the wet cloth stay on for six or eight hours, after which apply some healing ointment or sweet oil. In nearly all cases of Pain or Soreness of the Chest, Throat, Side, Back Spine, Limbs or Joints, it will give relief.-Rub it on freely with the hand or with a flannel cloth until the skin becomes heated and burning. For soreness of the throat rub it on until it pro-duces a little soreness. For Group use it in connection with the Cough Syrup, by rubbing it on the chest. For Rheumatism and all deep seated pains, if the pain is not speedily removed by rubbing with the hand, lay a cloth wet with the liquid over the part affected, and pass a warm smoothing iron over it.

For Pains in the Breast, Side or Back, the same may be done. For Tooth-ache, drop it on cotton, and apply it to the uerve of the tooth, also rub the gums and

It is called "Master of Pain." I did not give it this name—I don't like the name. When I first commenced making it it was without name or label. I made it and sold it by the ounce at my Drug Store. I had no idea then of making a business of it. Some who bought it called it Master of Pain, and by this name it became known for many miles round. And finally, when I had a label printed I was compelled to a top the name, for by that name it was known. After all, the name is not so very inappropriate. It is used to alleviate or remove pain. It is put on wherever there is pain. Sometimes it will canse pain, but the result always is freedom from pain.

oin neuher be indefinitely prolonged, nor lead to the total destruction of one of the parties. Booner or later it will be necessary to come to some settlement, whatever it may be, which may cause the divergent interests now actuals ly in coeffict to coexist. The American nation would then give a proof of high political wisdom in seeking in common such a set lement before a useless effusion of blood, a barren squandering of strength and of public riches, and acts of violence and reciprocal refusals shall have come to depen an abyss between the two parties of the Confederation, to end, definitely, in their mutual exhaustion, and in the ruin, perhaps, irreparable of their commercial and political power.

"Our august master eannot resign himself to admit such deplorable anticipations.

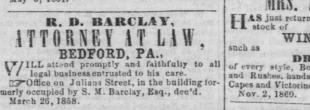

"His Imperial M jesty still places his confidence in that practical good sense of the citizens of the Union who appreciate so judiciously their true interests. His Majesty is happy believe that the members of the Federal Goverument and the influential men of the two parties will seize all occasions, and will unite all their efforts to calm the effervescence of the passions. There are no interests so divergent that it may not be possible to reconcile them by laboring to that end with zeal and perseverance, in a spirit of justice and moderation.

"If within the limits of your friendly relations, your language and your councils may contribute to this result, you will respond, Sir, to the intentions of his Majesty the Emperor, in devoting to this the personal influence which you may have been able to acquire during your long residence at Washington, and the consideration which belongs to your character as the representative of a Sovereign animated by the most friendly sentiments toward the American Union. This Union is not simply in our eyes an element essential to the universal political equilibrum; it constitutes, besides, a nation to which our august master and all Russia have pledged the most friendly interest, for the two countries, placed at the extremities of the two worlds, back in the ascending periods of their developement, appear called to a natural comof interests and of sympathies, of munity which they have already given mutual proofs to each other.

I do not wish here to approach any of the questions which divide the United States. We are not called upon to express ourselves in this contest. The proceeding considerations have no other object than to attest the lively soleitude of the Emperor in the presence of the dangers which menace the American Union, and the sincere wishes which his Majesty entertains for the maintenance of that great work so laboriously raised, and which appeared so rich in its future.
