It is understood that Brigadier General McKinatry is to take the field in the approaching conflict, and there are current reports that Gen. Harney and Major General Fremont in per-son will also be "there to see."

A St. Louis correspondent of the New York Herald expresses the same opinion. He says: General Price, whether he has or has not taken Lexington, is evidently in a position where only the most powerful anti-laxitives will save him. With General Sturgis on the north, Lane ou the southwest, Huater (at Rolla) to intercept a retreat towards Springfield, and a strong force at Jefferson City, with the railroad to Sedalis in federal pressession, General Price is in a far tighter condition than he was at Booneville or Carthage. Preperations for an immediate forward movement in some direction, probably toward's Price's rear, are being pushed with the atmost rapidity. Brigs adier General McKinstry informed me to-day that he would be in active service in the field, but was an communicative as to the precise time or place.
