> try, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, inexcusable, than was ever before known—a Rebellion in the interests of the few against the many—a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of easte and tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principles to avoid this War, and witnessed the forbearance, meekness, and long saffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its horrors, we hold it our clear duty, with that of every other citizen, to stant by the nation and its fairly chosen railers, and to seedury, with that of every other citizen, to stend by the nation and its fairly chosen rulers, and to seel ond with all our energies their efforts to uphold the Union, the Constitution, and the supremacy of the Laws. And, though the Rebellion has become, through usurpation, deception, terrorism, and spoilation, fearfully strong, we believe the American Republic for stronger, and that the unanimous, earnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will insure its overthreas. But on all questions of feature the its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and duration of this most extraordinary contest, we defer to those whom the American People have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable in so grave an emergency.

J. B. Farquhar is Agent for the sale of Family Wrights for the Borough of Bedford, and any who may wish to purchase a wright, he will furnish with enough soap to give it a fair trial, and will give them a Family Wright gratis if he does not demonstrate the fact that the soap can be made at a cost of one cent per pound. Five pounds will put out a large washing, and by putting the clothes to soak in the evening, thus saving three fourths of the day and a great deal of labor and sixtness. Many families give from 50 to 75 cents per week, for washing, who, by this method can save from $20 to $30 per yest. In a crisis like the present, our columns must be tion but in that of Opinion also. As our facili-ties for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an improvement in the contents of our Journal is perceptible, and that, in the variety and fulness of intelligence afforded, we may still hope to "make each day a critic on the last." In this hope, we solicit a continuance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our ournal.
