Although, as it will be seen, this correspondence is marked private, its publication was rendered absolutely necessary, as well to maintain the truth of history as to serve the ends of justice. This must explain its appearance in the columns of the Telegraph .-The letter of the President, in his own bandwriting as follows: [PRIVATE.]

> EXECUTIVE MANSION,) WASHINGTON, Jan. 11, 1862.

DEAR SIR: Though I have said nothing hitherto in response to your wish, expressed long since, to resign your seat in the Cabinet, I have not been unmindful of it. I have been only unwilling to consent to a change at a time and under circumstances which might give occasion to imisconstruction, and unable, till now, to see how such misconstruction could

But the desire of Mr. Clay to return home, and to offer his services to his country in the field, enables me now to gratify your wish, and at the same time evince my personal regard for you, and my confidence in your ability, patriotism, and fidelity to public

1 therefore tender to your acceptance, if you still desire to resign your present position, the post of Minister to Bussia. Should you accept it, you will bear with you the assurance of my undiminished confidence, of my affectionate esteem, and of my sure expectation that, near the great Sovereign whose per-sonal and hereditary friendship for the United States so much endears him to Americans, you will be able to render services to your country, not less important than those you could lender at home Very sincerely, your friend,

A. LINCOLN. Hon. SIMON CAMERON, Secretary of War.

Gen. Cameron's reply to the President is as follows:

WAR DEPARTMENT, WASHINGTON, Jan. 11, 1862.

MY DEAR SIR: I have the honor to asknowledge your favor of this date, and to thank you, with profound respect, for its kind and generous tone. When you were elected President, a result to which I contributed my best exertions, I had no thought of leaving the Senate of the United States, or of sen cepting any office within your gift. But when you invited me to Springfield, Illinois, and presented me the choice of one of two named places in the list of your constitutional advisers, I could not, for grave reasons, and after great reflection, refuse a trust so trying and laborious. My life had been one of constant labor and excitement. I looked to the Senate as the best field, after such a life, in which to serve my country and my State. It was only when I realized that I might be of service to the general cause, in the darkly-foreshadowed future, that I ventured to undertake the manifold and various responsibilities of the War Department. I felt, when I saw the traitors leaving their seats in Congress, and when the Star of the West was fired upon in Charleston barbor, that a bloody conflict

I have devoted myself without interruption I have devoted myself without interruption be retofore incurable complaints, and take to my efficial duties, and have given to them pleasure in calling the attention of our readall my energies. I have done my best. It ers to the advertisement in another column of was impossible, in the direction of operations our paper, of Doctor Leland's Anti Rheumaso extensive, but that some mistakes should have happened, and some complications and complaints should have arisen. In view of such considerations, I thank you for the expression of your confidence in my ability, patriotism, and fidelity to public trust. Thus, my own conscientious sense of doing my duty by the Executive and by my country is approved by the acknowledged head of the Govern-

When I became a member of your Administration I avowed my purpose to retire from the Cabinet as soon as my duty to my country would allow me to do so. In your letter of this day's date, so illustrative of your just and upright character, you revive the fact that I some time ago expressed the same purpose to you, and in reminding me of this you proffer for my acceptance one of the highest diplomatic positions at your bestowal, as an additional mark of your confidence and esteem.

In retiring from the War Department, I feel that the mighty army of the United States is ready to do battle for the Constitution; that it is marshalled by gallant and experienced leaders; that it is animated with the greatest enthusiasm for the good cause, and also that my successor in this Department is my personal friend, who unites to wonderful intellect and vigor, the grand essential of being in earnest in the present struggle, and of being resolved upon a speedy and overwhelming tri-umph of our arms. I therefore frankly accept the new distinction you have tendered me, as soon as important and long-neglected private business can be arranged, I will enter upon the important duties of the mission which you have assigned me.

I have the honor to be, my dear sir, Your obedient and humble servant, SIMON CAMERON. ABRAHAM LINCOLN, President.

GEN. LANDER AT ROMNEY, VA.

Washington, Feb. 8 .- Further information has been received from Gen. Lander, by which it appears that, having been reinforced, he marched, on Thursday, at the head of be-tween seven and eight thousand troops, upon Cabinet and his appointment as Minister to about equal to his own. They declined fight-Russia. The Telegraph says: ing, however, and retreated across the river, destroying the wire bridge in their rear, and running off, probably to Winchester. > A DEADLY ENCOUNTER:-An extraordinary disturbance arose in Edmonds' Menagerie, at Newcastle, on Saturday night. The exhibition was closed, and the majority of the men employed about the caravans had repaired to their lodgings, at a neighboring inn. A policeman who was passing heard a loud crash in the caravan, which proved to be one occu-pied by a Bengal tiger, followed by the noise of a severe struggle. In a very short time the men were called from their lodgings, and having obtained lights, about a dozen of them entered the menagerie. It was feared that the tiger, which is known to be a most ferocious beast, had broken through the bars of its cage, and was at large in the area, but on approaching the carayan where it was usually confined, the men saw that the enraged animal had broken through a wooden partition into an adjoining cage, containing a single panther, with which it was engaged in a terrible combat .-An iron bar was brought with a view of driving him back into his compartment and rescuing the panther from his clutches. These cans only exasperated the royal beast still further, and after a fearful fight of about ten minutes' duration, he succeeded to seizing the exhausted panther by the throat in his powerful jaws, and held him with bull dog enacity until he was quite dead. The tiger then as if satisfied that his work was completed, walked quietly into his own compartment, and allowed a new partition board to be thrust between himself and the body of his vanquished antagonist. The scene is described as one of great excitement among those who witnessed the encounter; but, strange to relate, not-withstanding the unusual disturbance among their fellow prisoners, all the other animals in the large collection lay perfectly quiet in their cages. The panther, which was valued at 100 guineas, was taken out quite dead; and the tiger is said to be the animal that killed a lioness in London some time ago .- Newcastle

> OUT OF FUNDS .- We learn that the rebels down about Bowlinggreen are so poorly off for money that even their Generals are unable to pay their pegro cooks and washerwomen. Gen. Hardee had in his couployment a negro woman who, after cooking for him a month, went to him for her pay. He told her he had no money but would give her a pass through the lines so that she might come to Louisville to her master. Some ladies from Nasaville were in Gen Hardee's camp on a little visit, and on their return to Nashville, they forwarded to him a bolt of flannel, which the negro woman made up into shirts for him. THE LATEST WAR NEWS.

It is stated that since the recent rebel dea feats at Mill Spring and Fort Heury the Se. cessionists in Tennessee have wonderfully changed their tone and bearing towards those who have been suspected of cherishing Union

The Southern prints had their own fun out of the panic which seized some of our exhausted troops after the battle of Bull Run, and drove them in double quick time towards Washington. The distance they made was about twenty miles. But Zollicoffer's men beat those who retreated from Buil Run by ong odds. Some of them, it is said in a Nashville paper, did not stop from the Somers set fight until they reached Lexington, Tenn., which is seventy five miles from the battle

The army under the command of General Grant is still at Fort Henry, but active preparation for an advance movement are being made. The rebel troops who retreated from Fort Henry have concentrated at Fort Donelson, which is now defended by a force fo about eight or ten toousand men. The Tennessee river is considered virtually opened to our gunboats, and they have already captured or destroyed saveral rebel steamers.
