Five pounds will put out a large washing, and by putting the clothes to soak in the evening, they can be put out by 8 o'clock the morning, thus saving three fourths of the day and a great deal of labor and sickness. Many families give from 50 to 75 cents per week, for washing, who, by this method can save from $20 to $30 per year. Don't fail to call soon. Bedford, Nov. 15, 1861.

THE NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

NEW VOLUME. On the seventh of September, 1861, THE NEW-YORK WEEKLY TRIBUNE commenced the twenty-first year of its existence. THE DAILY TRIBUNE being some months older and the SEMI-WEEKLY TRIBUNE somewhat younger. For more than twenty years, this journal has labored in what its conductors have felt to be the cause of Humanity, Justice and Freedom, endeavoring to meliorate the condition of the oppressed and unfortunate, to honor and encourage useful exertion in whatever sphere, and to promote by all means the moral, intellectual and material advancement of our country. It has aimed to be right rather than popular, and to espouse and commit to-day the truth that others may not be willing to accept till to-morrow. In pursuing its course, its editors have doubtless been made and faults committed; but, having in all things invited our readers to think and judge for themselves rather than adopt blindly our own or others' conclusions, we believe we may fairly claim for this journal the credit of having qualified its readers to detect and expose even its own errors. To develop the minds of the young by the most general, thorough and practical Education, and to encourage and stimulate Productive Industry, through free grants of Public Lands to actual settlers and cultivators, as also through the protection of immature or peculiarly exposed branches from too powerful foreign competition, and among the aims to which this journal has adhered through its long career, and which it steadfastly commends to American patriotism and public opinion. As to the Civil War now devastating our country, we hold it to have originated in a Rebellion more wanton, wicked, inexorable, than was ever before known; a Rebellion in the interests of the few against the many; a Rebellion designed to raise higher the walls of caste and to tighten the chains of oppression. Having done all we could without a surrender of vital principles to avoid this War, and witnessed the forbearance, meekness, and long suffering with which the Federal Government sought to avert its evil consequences, we stand by the nation and its fairly chosen rulers, and to second with all our energies their efforts to uphold the Laws. And though the Rebellion has become, through usurpation, deception, and spoliation, fearfully strong, we believe the American Republic far stronger, and that the anxious, earnest efforts of loyal hearts and hands will insure its overthrow. But on all questions affecting the objects, the scope, and the duration of this extraordinary contest, we defer to those who, as the American People have clothed with authority, holding unity of purpose and of action indispensable in so grave an emergency. In a crisis like the present, our columns must be largely engrossed with the current history of the War for the Union, and with elucidation of its more striking incidents. We shall not, however, omit attention to Literature, to Foreign Affairs, to Agricultural Progress, to Grains, Markets, &c., &c., which has always, we trust, been the THE TRIBUNE an honorable position among its contemporaries. Our main object is and shall be to produce a comprehensive newspaper from which a careful reader may gain a vivid and faithful history of the times, not merely in the domain of Action but in that of Opinion also. As our facilities for acquiring information increase with years, we trust that an improvement in the contents of our journal is perceptible, and that, in the variety and fulness of intelligence afforded, we may still hope to "make each day a critic on the last." In this hope, we solicit a continuance of the generous measure of patronage hitherto accorded to our journal.

TERMS. DAILY TRIBUNE (311 issues per annum) $6 SEMI-WEEKLY (104 issues per annum) $3 WEEKLY (52 issues per annum) $2 To Clubs—Semi-Weekly—Two copies for $2 five for $11 25; ten copies to one address for $20; and any larger number at the latter rate. To clubs of Twenty we send an extra copy.

Twenty copies to one address for $20, with one extra to him who sends us the club. For each club of one Hundred, THE DAILY TRIBUNE will be sent gratis for one year.

When drafts can be procured it is much safer than to remit Bank Bills. The name of the Post-Office and State should in all cases be plainly written.
