Lecture on Rome. The Rev. Thomas Heyden delivered a lecture on Rome in the Court House Tuesday evening last .-The storm of snow and rain throughout the day and evening, was not a favorable symptom of a full house. But at the appointed hour a crowded audience, filling every seat and most of the standing room greeted the appearance of the lecturer. The Coliseum, its games and other public diversions made an interesting feature of the discourse. The persecutions of the early Christians, and Roman life in the first century of the Christian era, were dwelt upon at length and with eloquence, A beautiful painting, (not an exotic) of the Coliseum, by a lady, added much to the entertainment of the evening.

Taud Slide.

The earth at Cypher's cut, four miles south of Hopewell, slid on the truck of the Rail Road, Thursday the 31st ult., about se en o'clock in the evening twenty minutes after the up train passed through the cut. The slide is one hundred and eighty feet in length, and twenty feet deep on the track. Thirty men are employed night and day removing the dirt from the track. At the present rate of progress it will require four weeks to clear the way. The trains run as usual without serious interruption. Passengers walking around the cut. Freight is hauled around in wagons.

Thorough theoretical and practical instruction in all branches pertaining to a finished Business Education.

The Philadelphia College stands first in the State, both in point of reputation and local advantages. The point aimed atis; to place Commercial Education where it belongs—in the front rank of useful instruction. To this end a most thorough course of busines training is adopted longs—in the front rank of useful instruction. To this end a most thorough course of busines training is adopted and carefully enforced under the personal supervision of competent Professors in the various departments. The most perfect system of practical training over devised has been put in operation, and is successfully carried out, affording to students advantages such as have hitherto been considered possible only in connection with the counting house. After becoming proficient in the science of Accounts, Penmanship, Commercial Calculations and Cormercial Law, the student is advanced to the Practical Department, where he becomes an artual Book-keeper and Merchant; passes through the different Houses; acts in turn as Teller, Cashier, &c.; learns the duties and responsibilities of each office, and becomes thoroughly informed not only in the forms which are in universal use, but in managing the affairs of business with system and dispatch. managing the affairs of business with system and dispatch. Scholarships issued at one point, are good for an imited period in the eighteen Colleges comprising the "chain."

Diplomas are awarded to those who falfill the prescribed centre of study, and pass the requisite examination.
