He was strongly liberal in his | 438 tendencies, and interested himself much in the movements for the improvement of the lower classes in England. On his father's side he was related to 55 some of the most wealthy titled families of England, 250 and on his mother's to several American families residing in Pennsylvania.

THE REBEL DEAD AT GETTYSBURG.—From evidence developed to the workmen and others engaged in removing the dead bodies on the battle-field, they are 135 now fully convinced that not less than seven thousand rebels lost their lives in this conflict, the bodies | 168 of whom are still there. In one space of three acres was found three hundred and twenty-five Confederates slain; and elsewhere, in a single trench, two ates slain; and elsewhere, in a single trench, two hundred and fifty more. A considerable portion of the battle-ground is likely to be plowed up this spring and summer, by farmers owning it, preparatory to 3724 planting corn and other grain. As a matter of course the Confederate graves must be obliterated, and the 410 trenches which now indicate their places. There is 3400 a strong desire with the people, in respect to humanity, to have these bodies, though of the enemy, re- 27 pectably and decently put away, in some inclosure 50 pectably and decontry put away, in some humanity should impel us to such a step .- Gettysburg so Stor and Panner,
