An amusing incident, says the Selings Grove (Pa.) Post, occurred in one of our churches last Sunday, which caused considerable merriment throughout the congregation. While the minister was in the midst of his sermon, a little boy about ten years of age quietly left his seat, took his hat walked up to the pulpit and asked permission of the minister to leave the church, saying that he forgot to feed the pig. The request was granted, and the boy left; but returned in a few minutes, no doubt greatly relieved. It embarrassed the minister for some minutes afterwards.

The last joke at the expense of the French Society for the protection of Animals is to the following effect: A countryman armed with an immense club, presents himself before the President of the Society, and claims that his prize. He is asked to describe the act of humanity on which he found his claim. "I saved the life of a wolf," replied the countryman. "I might easily have killed him with this bludgeon; and by saving the weapon in the air to the intense discomfort of the President. "But what was his wolf?" inquired the latter. "What had he done to you?" "He had devoured my wife," was the reply. The President reflected an instant, and then said: "My friend, I am of opinion that you have been sufficiently rewarded."

THE APPOINTMENT OF CONGRESS.—Congress closed its session at 10 o'clock on Monday. The only bill that measure which was not acted upon at the adjournment on Sunday, the bill imposing a special income tax of five per cent., collectible in October next, to provide for the payment of bounties and the expense of the war, was finally passed by the Senate—29 yeas, 20 nays. The House passed unanimously the resolution introduced by Mr. Washburn, of Illinois, renouncing to our officers, soldiers and men engaged in this great struggle for the suppression of the rebellion against our Government, our profound and heartfelt thanks for their services and our sympathy for their sufferings, and to congratulate them on their successes and their triumphs, and to express the hope of a speedy termination of the contest and their return to the peaceful pursuits of life. The President has approved the important bill passed by Congress with the exception of that providing republican governments for States usurped or overthrown by rebellion.

A JOINT RESOLUTION PROPOSING CERTAIN AMENDMENTS TO THE CONSTITUTION.

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania in General Assembly, that the following resolutions be proposed to the Constitution of the Commonwealth, in accordance with the provisions of the tenth article thereof:

Section 1. There shall be an additional section to the third article of the Constitution, to be designated as section four, as follows:

"Section 4. Whenever any of the qualified electors of this Commonwealth shall be in any actual military service, and shall be absent from the Commonwealth, or shall be by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in elections by the electors of the Commonwealth, as shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election."

Section 2. There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution, to be designated as sections eight, and nine, as follows:

"Section 8. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature, containing any tax on the subject of land, which shall be levied on the land of any citizen of this Commonwealth, or on the land of any citizen of any other State, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in elections by the electors of the Commonwealth, as shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election."

Section 9. There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution, to be designated as sections eight, and nine, as follows:

"Section 8. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature, containing any tax on the subject of land, which shall be levied on the land of any citizen of this Commonwealth, or on the land of any citizen of any other State, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in elections by the electors of the Commonwealth, as shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election."

Section 9. There shall be two additional sections to the eleventh article of the Constitution, to be designated as sections eight, and nine, as follows:

"Section 8. No bill shall be passed by the Legislature, containing any tax on the subject of land, which shall be levied on the land of any citizen of this Commonwealth, or on the land of any citizen of any other State, or by the authority of this Commonwealth, such electors may exercise the right of suffrage in elections by the electors of the Commonwealth, as shall be prescribed by law, as fully as if they were present at their usual place of election."
