The husband of a pious woman having occasion to make a voyage, his wife sent a written request to the clergyman of the parish, which instead of spelling and pointing properly, namely, "A person having gone to sea, his wife desires the prayers of the congregation," she spelt and pointed as follows: "A person having gone to see his wife, desires the prayers of the congregation."

Two important arrests of counterfeiters have been made this week-the first and most extensive a Port Jervis, New York, where $40,000 in spurion farctional currency was seized; the latter in New York early Thursday morning, 30,000 of notes o the same denomination being secured. The par ties engaged in the manufacture of the spurious i sue, with their paper, presses, dies etc., are in the hands of the detectives who "worked up the cases."

An amusing circumstance occurred in a singing school, some years ago. A Mr. Paine was the teacher, and a Miss Patience one of the pupils. In the course of the evening the teacher gave out the tune set to the words-

"Come, gentle patience smile on pain." The pupils were so excited by laughter that it was found impossible to sing the line. Soon the teacher gave out another, in which were the following

"Oh give me tears for others' woes, And patience for my own."

The resibilities of the school were so affected that all singing was deferred until another occasion.

FRENCH CHASERS.—While a regiment of New Jersey cavalry, armed and uniformed something like the French Chasseurs, was passing through Washington the curiosity of a member of Congress was aroused by their exotic dress and appearance, and being informed they were Frenchmen, he walked up to a fiercely moustached fellow among them, and inquired, "Etes vous Français?" The soldier looked at him fiercely and burst out angrily: "None o, your Dutch to us if ya plase, we're all Frinchmin-Frinch chasers, de ye mind, an' we'd like mighty well to get a dhrop o' whiskey if ye have any about ye.' A REBEL CANINE DESPATCH CARRIER An officer who came up from City Point had with him an ugly looking specimen of the genus canine, which he guarded very carefully. The dog it ap pears, was a great pet with both our own and the Rebel pickets in front of Hancock's Corps. The dog had been trained to carry messages between the pickets. A rebel paper would be placed in his mouth and he would scamper off to the Union lines, deliver up the paper, and return with a Nothern paper. He has been entrusted with packages of coffee and tobacco, and always delivered them promptly and

The Rebels, however, tried to make use of him for transmitting information from one portion of FISH, their lines to another, and the four-legged messenger having been caught with one of those message he was confiscated and brought North .- Washing ton Star.

A HARD HIT AT McCLELLAN.

The New York Herald which our readers all know gives an ardent support to McClellan, but denoun ces the Chicago Platform, in Monday's paper pays the following left handed compliment to "Little

We were very much astonished by the indication given in General McClellan's receet speech that he had never heard of General Grant. General McClellan, as the majority of our readers know, is the candidate of the Chicago Convention for President, and that Convention in its platform proclain ed its sympathy with our army and navy. Its candidate is therefore expected to give expression t that sympathy in his speeches, and this Genera McClellan is understood to have done at Orange He spoke of Sheridan, Sherman, and Farragut; but he very strangely omitted the greatest of all-Gen eral Grant-the man who certainly, by. General Mc-Clellan's example, is entitled to praise and glory, not only for his own particular achievements, bu for the achievements of all others; for when General MsClellan occupied the position that General Grant now occupies, all the victories, East and West, North South and every where were his. He claimed this. and the country admitted it. But, whether or no General McClellan ever heard of the existence of this General Grant, we can assure him that it is the universal opinion of the people of this country that there is such a man. It is believed that this General fought a great battle at Fort Donelson quite early in the war, and achieved a great victory there capturing fifteen thousand prisoners. It is assert ed that he captured the rebel stronghold of Vicksburg, with forty thousand prisoners, and gained a great battle at Chattanooga in the same year. It is positively known that he has fought great battles and been able to move his army next day. There is indeed, one reason that has tended to keep him out of sight; he has never made any great noise in the papers with complaints against the bad treatment of the administration. Yet, in spite of all this, his name is in all the histories of the war. How is t that General McClellan should not have met with it in his reading lately. He has had nearly wo years of leisure? What has he been at?

Thorough theoretical and practical instruction in all branches pertaining to a finished Business Education.
The Philadelphia College stands first in the State, both in point of reputation and local advantages. The point aimed abis to place Commercial Education where it belongs—in the front rank of useful instruction. To this end a most thorough course of busines training is adopted and carefully enforced, under the personal supervision of competent Professors in the various departments. The most perfect system of practical training ever devised has been put in operation, and is successfully carried out, affording to students advantages such as have hitherto been considered bossible only in connection with the counting house. After becoming proficient in the science of Accounts, Penmanship, Commercial Calculations and Commercial Law, the student is advanced to the Practical Department, where he becomes an actual Book-keeper and Merchant: passes through the different Houses; acts in turn as Teller, Cashier, &c.; learns the duties and responsibilities of each office, and becomes thoroughly informed not only in the forms which are in universal use, but in managing the affairs of business with system and dispatch.
