DUTCH COCNER NOV. 5TH, 1864. MR. Eniron. - A few days ago there was a smal ocument handed to some Republican in this neigh orhood, written over the signature of H. P. He says he thought he was right until within "the last year or Now it seems very strange to us that this man did not turn sooner and not continue to advocate this wrong doctrine a year after he knew it to be wrong. A few words in regard to Mr. Diehl's course for the past few years will assist us in forming an idea of his present position. Mr. Diehl has been for the last five years-continually running, (most of the time a considerable distance behind his party ticket) for some petty township office, and threatening that if his own party did not soon elect him he would leave it. We frequently heard the remark that "Henry P. Diehl would change his politics if The Cover House was filled Monday evening, at he thought the opposite party would place him in office." SHOOTING ACCIDENT-Copperheads trying to make the most of it.-A son of John Berkheimer of Union Tp. who carries a pistol to defend himself against ttacks from Lincoln's Hords, accidentally shot himself through the hand, while feeding a horse in his father's stable Tuesday morning. The Copperheads at the election polls circulated the story that the shooting was caused by a "Black Republican" who shot at the father, with the intention of killing him to prevent his voting for McClellan. The copperheads about the polls in St. Clair and Union on election day affected to believe this foolish story.

A PIECE OF RASCALLTY. - The Harrison and Juniata election boards, composed of Copperheads were opened about five o'clock on the morning of election day, three hours before the time fixed by law, and some twenty deserters voted in Juniate and a number in Harrison. Such a flagrant violation of the law ought not to be passed without a thorough investigation and the offenders, whoever they may be should have their deserts meeted out to them.

A GOOD OPPORTUNITY FOR INVESTMENT .- We hear of a number of good properties in the market for purchasers, the owners having, early on Tuesday evening, determined to sojourn no longer in these parts. The properties consist of stores, a hotel or two, a tan nery, and several farms, all of which we dare say, judging from the anxiety of the owners to leave this country, can be had on reasonable terms. In this connection the proprietors will do well to remember that the BEDFORD INCUIRSE is unsurpassed as a medium of advertising, in consequence of its very large circulation generally and particularly among persons especially interested in the sale of valuable properties.
