

Printing Establishment for Sale!

The press, types, cases, &c., upon which the Bedford Patriot was printed, are for sale. The material is nearly new, having been used only five months. It consists of a very full assortment of newspaper and job types, a Washington press, cases, stands, rollers, &c., altogether forming a very complete selection for a country newspaper. Terms Cash. Address B. F. McNEIL, Bedford, Pa.

RELIGIOUS.—A series of religious meetings will be held in the M. E. Church at Trans Run, commencing on Saturday the 21st inst. (Jan. 21) and in the M. E. Church at Hartley's, commencing on Saturday the 4th of February. G. BERKSTRESSER, Pastor.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—We regret to hear of the death of Maj. W. W. Anderson at Cumberland last Tuesday, caused by the falling of his horse while he was riding. The Maj. is a son of Esq. Anderson of this place, and leaves many friends to mourn his sudden and early death.

SMALL-POX IN JOHNSTOWN.—There are some twelve or fifteen cases of small-pox in Johnstown, caused by the arrival there of a small-pox patient from the army. Most of the cases are confined to the Fifth ward and Cambria city.

ROBBERY.—The house of A. G. Allen near Mt. Dallas Station about a mile this side of Bloody Run was entered Friday night the 6th inst., and between two and three hundred dollars in bank notes, taken from the pants-pockets of a son of Mr. Allen. A person calling himself Charles Stevens, who has been heard about Bloody Run for a number of weeks, paid, now in jail on a charge of assault and battery, is suspected of the robbery.

THE DONOR'S QUOTA.—Hon. John Cessna writes from Chambersburg, Jan. 17th, that the borough has a credit of ten over its quota on the five hundred thousand call of last August. If this credit is allowed on the last call it will leave our quota of men to be raised, at from ten to fifteen. Is it too early to begin a movement to fill this quota? The men can probably be raised now for a local bounty of three hundred dollars, and the Government bounty of one hundred dollars. Huntingdon borough pays a bounty of three hundred dollars, and is rapidly filling up its quota. Who will move in the matter? Any person in the borough, or any district may put in a substitute at any time for one two or three years. Before draft the substitute must be one not liable to draft.

CONNELLSVILLE & SOUTHERN PA. R. R.—At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the C. & S. P. R. Co., Company, held at the office of the Company in Philadelphia, on Monday the 9th, the following named gentlemen were elected the board of Directors for the ensuing year:—John A. Wright, President; Thomas A. Scott, Josiah Bacon, John M. Kennedy, Wistar Morris, Edward C. Knight, S. L. Russell, G. W. Case, D. R. Davidson, D. E. Smith, John D. Roddy, Asbell Green, A. K. McClure.

FIKE.—The Foundry of Messrs. Stutzman and Keeser was destroyed by fire on the night of the 12th inst. It is not known how it originated. It was discovered about 2 o'clock in the morning and the building was then already enveloped in flames. Nothing was saved, the patterns and everything else in the building except the metal was consumed. The engine and boiler, we believe, were not materially damaged. Loss estimated at $4,800. No insurance. —Sonneter Democrat.

MORE OIL DISCOVERIES.—Oil has been found on the "North Fork Branch" of the Red Bank, in Jefferson county Pa., and the indications are such as to warrant the immediate commencement of boring. These indications have been observed for a number of years, but from some cause no attention was given to the matter until quite recently. The oil is found to ooze out upon the snow in such quantities as to color it, and many other facts it is said, lead to the belief that oil will soon be taken from the ground in large quantities. Good judges pronounce it the best "oil indications" on the surface yet discovered. These indications are found on the property of A. S. Rhines, who owns about four hundred acres along the stream.

MARRIED. MORTIMORE—BEQUETH—Jan. 16th, 1865, by John Sparks, Esq., at the house of the bride's father, in Monroe township, Mr. Henry Mortimore to Miss Rachel R. Bequeth.

DIED. BRIDHAM—At camp Lorton, Ga., in August, 1864, of disease contracted through starvation, Henry W. Bridham, Co. H, 5th Regt. Pa. Vols., son of John Bridham of this place. Being a staunch patriot, and a fond lover of the country which had borne him in his infancy, he felt that it was his duty to go forth and to die for the cause of the Union and fight against the tyrant who had ruined his father and his home, and to see that the Union and its principles were preserved. He was killed by a bullet which penetrated his heart, and he died at the age of 34 years. He was buried in a private and quiet manner at camp Lorton, and his remains were conveyed from there to Andersonville, Ga., where he was taken with the Cholera Diarrhea, contracted through neglect and want of nourishment, and died sometime in August, and as evidenced by companions who were with him in the dark hour, his death was happy and joyful, with the full hope of an everlasting abode with the blessed Redeemer, in whom he reposed his trust. To his parents we would say—mourn not, neither give way to affliction, for although your son is dead he is not lost; being laid by the minions of death, he has come out more than conqueror through the interposition of Him who laid down his life for the sake of mankind. To his bereaved wife, although he will never more gladden the hearts of yourself and little ones he loved so dearly, by his presence here on earth, live with the hope of uniting with him in another and a better world where the cloth of woe and sorrow doth not and all is peace, joy and happiness. Editor Inquirer.—The transfer of the Sixth Army Corps from the Shenandoah Valley to the Army of the Potomac is no doubt well known to most of your readers. The Rebel General Early having sent the greater part of his force from our front, and the bad condition of the roads which rendered the movement of either army impossible, made it unnecessary to keep so large a force with Sheridan. Accordingly under orders from Gen. Grant we were sent here, and now occupy a position near the extreme left of the line on the Weldon R. R. Our Regiment is for the present detached from the main line, occupying the front works, and are now doing garrison duty at Fort Dushane a very strong earth-work surrounded by a wide and deep ditch, and abatis, which it would be almost madness for an enemy to attempt to get over. It has embrauses for the mounting of eight guns but at present only one battery of four field pieces are in it. It is also provided with a bomb-proof and magazines in which is stored enough ammunition to stand a regular siege. This is only the continuation of a number of strong forts and earthworks which protect the flank and rear, and prevent the possibility of a flank movement by the enemy. Brig. Gen. Truman Seymour of Florida regiment is in command of our Division (3d Div. 6th A. C.) having been assigned to it in October when Gen. Ricketts was wounded. He is making himself generally obnoxious, and from the great number of uncalculated orders which he issues, the boys have given him the title of "General Orders."
