Strive to make everybody happy, and you will make at least one so-yourself. If you would know a man, mark his gait; most themselves happiest when others share their happi ness with them. We paint our lives in fresco. The soft and facile plaster of the moment hardens under every stroke

In the beginning of the month of September last, Sheridan was simply a Captain in the 13th Regular Infantry. Twenty days later he became a Briga dier, and in less than two months' time a Major General in the regular service. Such are the re wards of gallantry and skill.

It has recently been determined by the Prussian authorities that marriages concluded simply by Dissenting clergymen, and not by ministers of the Evangelical or Catholic church, have no official va lidity. All the children of such marriages are de clared illegitimate.

The Kenturky Legislature has appointed a con mittee, with authority to contract with compete artist for a portrait of Henry Clay, to be placed in the Senate Chamber in Frankfort. The picture to be seven feet by eleven, full length, life size, and completed by May 1st, 1865.

It is said that the rose of Florida, the most beautiful of flowers, emits no fragrance; the bird of Paradise, the most beautiful of birds, gives no Farmers, Mechanics. Lawyers, Docsongs; the cypress of Greece, the finest of trees, yields no fruit; dandies, the shiniest of men, have no sense; and ball-room belles, the loveliest creatures in the world, are very often ditto-only more so; and politicians have no-scruples, temperance men-no drams.

A FACETIOUS OFFICER.-A Cincinnati paper, in speaking of the overthrow of the rebels at Atlanta, says that just before the Federal troops entered the | NEW town, an Indiana company, almost worn out with the march, were straggling along with very little regard to order. Hurrying up his men, the Captain shouted: "Close up, close up! If the enemy were to fire when you're straggling along that way, they couldn't hit a cussed one of you!" The boys closed up immediately.

To be a woman of fashion is one of the easiest things in the world. A late writer thus describes "Buy everything you don't want, and pay for nothing you get; smile on all mankind but your husband; be happy everywhere but at home; neglect your children and nurse lap-dogs; go to church every time you get a new dress."

TABLE ETIQUETTE.-In the town of W. Oneids county, New York, resides a wealthy but ignorant and eccentric farmer, named Wilcox. Mr. Billings, from the neighboring city of Utica, called to see him one day on business, and was invited to stay to dinner. The substantial portion of the meal having been discussed, a piece of pie was placed before each person at the table. Taking his fork in hand, Mr. B. essayed to eat according to etiquette, but his proceedings soon attracted the atfentior of the host, who was industriously shoveling up the contents of his own plate with a knife.-"Mary," shouted the hospitable farmer, "why don't you bring Mr. Billings a knife ?" Here he is a tryin' to eat his pie with a fork! And by the way if it was a two-pronged steel fork (as is probable) he had a difficult undertaking.

THE SECRET .- "I noticed," says Dr. Franklin, "a mechanic among others at work on a house erecting but a little way from my office, who always appeared to be in a merry humor, who had a kind word and cheerful smile for every one he meet .-Let the day be ever so cold gloomy or sunless, a happy smile danced like a sunbeam on his cheerful countenace. Meeting him, one morning, I asked him to tell me the secret of his happy flow of spirit. "My secret, doctor," he replied, "is that I have got one of the best wives, and when I go to work she always has a kind word of encouragement for me, and when I go home she meets me with a smile and a kiss and then tea is sure to be ready, and she has done so many little things through the day to please me that I cannot find it in my heart to speak an unkind worn to any body." What an influence then, hath woman over the heart of man, to soften it and make it the fountain of cheerful and pure emotions! Speak gentle, then; a happy smile and a kind word of greeting, after the toils of the day are over, cost nothing, and go far towards making a home happy and peaceful."

How an Oil-well is Bored .-- In selecting a spot for a well, the Artisan driller raises a derrick about 110 feet in hight, bringing up a steam engine of about six-horse power, and then, after driving down an iron pipe about six inches in diameter through the earth and gravel some fifty feet, to the first strata of rock, introduces a drill of about two-and-a half inches in diameter attached to a temper-screw, and thence to the "walking beam" and engine with which he bores now at the rate of eight or ten feet per day into the solid slate and soap stone, say one hundred feet; he then comes to the first strata of sand stone, which may be ten or twelve feet in thickness; and boring through this comes again to a slate and soap stone of a bluish cast, and working on, say for twenty-five feet or so, he reaches the second strata of sand stone, out of which there comes rushing up, when the right vein is struck, inflamable gas, salt water, and petroleum. The bore of the well is enlarged by a "rimmer," and then an iron tube in sections of about fourteen feet and closely screwed together, is intersected by sections and run down to the veins of oil; a flax-seed bag, which expands when wet, is fixed between the tubing, and the walls of the well in order to prevent the water from decending; a "pluger," or valved piston, is introduced into the tube, and the "suckrod" being attached to the walking-beam, the conduit pipes and tank, which may hold sixty barrels, being in readiness, the engine moves and the precious treasure gushes forth. This is what is called pumping a well. In the "flowing wells," -that is such as send the oil out spontaneously—the drill must go down to the third strata of sand stone; but this, in some instances is very deep. In a well on Watson's flat the drill has reached the depth of one hundred feet, and yet the third bed of sand stone is not reached.

FOUTZ'S CELEBRATED HORSE AND CATTLE

POWDERS.

THESE Powders have proved, after a trial of several years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use. The chief superiority of these powders arises from the fact that they are composed of medicines that have Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties. The laxative ejects crudities from the stomach and intestines, the tonic gives strength to the system of the Horse, and the purifying medicines contained in them cleance the blood, and lay the foundation for a vigorous and healthy circulation. The use of them improves the wind, strengthens the appetite and gives the horses fine, smooth and glossys kin—thus improving the appearance, vigor and spirit of this noble arimal.

These powders are not intended, as most powders are to bloat the animal, so as to give him the appearance of being fat when not really so—but to remove the disease and promote his general health.

These powders will strengthen the stomach and intestines, cleanse them from offensive matter, and bring them to a healthy state. They are a sure prevention of Lung Fever, and a certain remedy for all diseases incident to the Horse, as Glanders, Yellow Water, Distempers, Founder, Heaves, Slavering, Coughs, Fevers Loss of Appetite and Vital Energy, &c.—These powders, if used two or three times a week, through the winter and spring, your horses will never get the Lung Fever Coric or Botte. A few doses of these powders will remove the worst cough, on any horse. Were owners of horses to feed a few of these powders every year, they might save the lives of many valuable horses.

MILCH COWS.

The properties this powder possesses in increasing the quantity of milk in cows, gives it an importance and value which should place it in the hands of every person keeping a cow. In fattening cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their hide, and makes them thrive much

HOGS. In all diseases of swine, as coughs, ulcers in the lungs and liver, &c., by putting from half a paper to a paper of these powders in a barrel of swill, the above diseases can be cured or entirely prevented. By using these powders the hog cholera can be prevented.

Prepared only by, S. A. Foutz & Bro. at their Wholesale Drug & Pattent Medicine Depot, No. 116 Franklin St. Baltimore Md.

För sale by H. C. Reamer, and Dr. B. F. Harry and Druggists and Storekeepers throughout the United States, These powders can be had at manufactures' prices of Johnson Holloway & Cowder, No. 23 North Third St. Philadelphia.

HARRISDURG, Feb. 8th, 1864.

C. A. BANNVART—Dear Sir: I have used Brown's Bronchial Troches, Wistar's Lozenges and other preparations for hoarseness and Throat Troubles, and in comparison with them all, can cheerfully commend your own as a most admirable specific for public speakers and singers, in cases of Hoarseness, coughs and colds: I have found them serving in time of need most effectually.

To C. A. BANNVART—Dear Sir: In the habit of speaking very frequently, and in places where the vocal organs are very much taxed, I have found the need of some gentle expectorant, and that want has been supplied in your excellent Troches. I consider them very far superior to any Lozengee that I have ever used, in removing speedily that huskiness of the voice arising from its too frequent use, and ir pairing the effectiveness of the delivery of public addresses.

Yours, &c.,

Pastor of the Locust Street Methodist Church.
