The correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune in his elaborate description of things as they appeared to him upon the occupation of the modern Babylon, relates the following incidents:

There was rather a humorous scene at the office of the Charleston Courier. The editors had run away, but the business man remained and hoped to save his property. Col. Woodford called at the office at an early hour, and the following conversation took place: tion took place:

AN INCIDENT OF THE WEST.

"Music hath charms to soothe the savage breast." Some years since a temperance man moved with his family from New Hampshire to the West.his family from New Hampshire to the West.—
The sparseness of the population, and the continual travel past his place, rendered ta necessary act of humanity in him frequently te entertain travellers who could go no farther. Owing to the frequency of these calls, he resolved to enlarge his house and put up the usual sign. Soon after this an election came on; the triumphant party felt that it was a wonderful victory, and some young bloods of the majority determined, in honor of it, to have a regular "blow out." Accordingly mounted on their fine prairie horses, they started on a to have a regular "blow out." Accordingly mounted on their fine prairie horses, they started on a long ride: Every tavern was visited on their round, and the variety thus drank produced a mixture which added greatly to the noise and boister-ousness of the company. In this condition they came, about a dozen in number, to our quiet temperance tavern. The landlord and lady were absent—the eldest daughter fourteen years of age and five younger children, were alone in the house. These gentlemen, (for they called themselves such, called for blower. "We keep none." was the wed. and five younger charles, "Clear the server such, talled for liquor. "We keep none," was the modest reply of the young girl. "What do you keep tayern for, then?" "For the accommodation, of travellers." "Well then accommodate us with something to drink." "You see, sir, by the sign, that we keep a temperance tayern." (Here the travellers." "Well then accommodate us with something to drink." "You see, sir, by the sign, that we keep a temperance tavern." (Here the children clustered around their sister.) "Give me an axe, and I will cut down the sign." "You'll find an axe on the wood-pile, sir." Here the party, each one with an oath, made a rush for the wood-pile, exclaiming: "Down with the sign! Down with the sign!" But the leader, in going out, discovered, in an adjoining room, a splendid piano and its accompaniments. "Who makes this thing squeak?" said he. "I play sometimes," said she, in a quiet, modest manner. "You do? Give us a tune." "Certainly, sir," and taking a stool, while the children formed a circle close around her, she sung and played the "Old Arm Chair." Some of them had never heard a piano before; others had not heard one for years. The tumult was soon hushed; the whip and spur gentlemen were drawn back from the wood pile, and formed a circle outside the children. The leader again spoke: "Will you be so kind as to favor us with another song?" Another was played, and the children, becoming, re-assured, some of them pointed their sweet voices with their sister's. One would touch the sympathies of the strangers, another melt them in grief; one would arouse their patriotism, anothertheir chivalry and benevolence; at length, ashamed to ask for more, they each made a low bow and thanked her—wished her a good afternoon, and left as quietly as if they had been at a funeral. Months after this occurrence, the father, in travelling, stopped at a villiage, where a gentleman accosted him with: "Are you Col. P——, of S——?" "I am." "Well, sir, I am spokesman of the party who so groslsy insulted your innocent family, threatened to cut down your sign, and spoke so rudely to your children. You have a just cause to be proud of your daughter, sir; her noble bearing and fearless courdren. You have a just cause to be proud of your daughter, sir; her noble bearing and fearless courage were remarkable in one so young and unprotected. Can you pardon me, sir? I tell youthat I can never forgive myself,"

Tax on Whiskey .- The President having signed the new revenue bill, the Commissioner of Internal Revenue is taking the necessary steps to collect the tax of two dollars a gallon "on all spirits that may be distilled and sold or distilled and removed for consumption of sale on and after January 1st, 1865. It will now behoove whiskey drinkers to reflect se riously before determining to pursue their vocation any longer. Soon they will see, staring at them in big black letters from behind the bars they frequent the melancholy annoucement, "Whiskey 20 cts per.

WRITING TO THE LORD ON THE SUBJECT OF RAIL ROADS .- At the breaking of the ground for the commencement of the Lynehburgh and Tennessee Railroad, at Lynehburgh, a clergyman slowly and solemnly read a manuscript prayer, at the conclusion of which an old negro, who had been resting with one foot on his spade, and his arms on the handle looking intently in the chaplain's face, straightened himself up, and remarked audibly:—"Well, I reck-on dat's the first time de Lord's eber been writ to on the subjic ob railroads."

From John B. Wickersham, Esq., firm of Wickersham & Hutchison, the celebrated Manufacturers of Fancy-Iron Works, 259 Canal St.

I am the recipient from you of one of the greatest favors that can be conferred upon man, viz: that of health. For many years have I suffered from one of the most annoying and debilitating complaints that the human family can be afflicted with, Chronic Diarrhea.

During the long time I was suffering from this disease, I was attended by regular physicians, giving me but temporary relief. The cause seemed to remain until I was induced to try Hoofland's German Bitters. After the use of a few bottles of that valuable medicine, the complaint appeared to be completely eradicated.

I often inwardly thank you for such a valuable specife and, whenever I have an opportunity, cheerfully recommend it, with full confidence in its reliability.

Truly yours,

JOHN B. WICKERSHAM.

JOHN B. WICKERSHAM New York, Feb. 2, 1864. From Julius Lee, Esq., firm of Lee & Walker, the most extensive Music Publishers in the United States, No. 722 Chestnut Street, Philadelphia. February 8th, 1864.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Gentleman:—My mother in-law has been so greatly benefitted by your Hoofland's Ger-man Bitters that I concluded to try it myself. I find it to be an invaluable tonic, and unhesitatingly recommend it to all who are suffering from dyspepsia. I have had that disease in its most obstinate form—flatulence—for many years, and your Bitters has given me ease when every thing else had failed. Yours truly, Julius Lee.

From the Hon. JACOB BROOM,

Philadelphia, Oct. 7th, 1865.

Gentlemen: In reply to your inquiry as to the effect produced by the use of Hoofland's German Bitters, in my family, I have no hesitatien in saying that it has been highly beneficial. In one instance, a case of dyspepsia of thirteen years' standing, and which had become very distressing, the use of one bottle gave decided relief, the second effecting a cure, and the third, it seems, has confirmed the cure, for there has been no symptoms of its return for the last six years. In my individual use of it! I find it o be an unequalled tonic, and sincerely recommend its use to the sufferers.

Truly yours,

JACOB BROOM,

Rev. W. D. Seigfried, Pastor of 12th Baptist Church Philadelphia, December 26th, 1863. Philadelphia, December 26th, 1863.

Messrs. Jones & Evans—Gentlemen: | I have recently been laboring under the distressing effects of indigestion. accompanied by a prostration of the nervus system. num erous remedies were recommended by riends, and some of them tested, but without relief. Your Hoofland's German Bitters were recommended by persons who had tried them, and whose favorable mention of the Bitters induced me also to try them. I must confess that I had an aversion to Patent Medicines, from the "thousand and one" quack "Bitters" whose only aim seems to be to palm off sweetened and drugged liquor upon the community, in a sly way; and the tendency of which, I fear, is to make many a confirmed drunkard. Upon learning that yours was really a medicine preparation, I took it with happy effect. Its action was not upon only the stomach, but upon the nervous system, was prompt and gratifying. I feel that I have derived great and permanent benefit from the use of a few bottles. Very respectfully y 2 s. W. D. SEIGFRIED. No. 234 Shackamaxon St.

From the Rev. Thos. Winter, D. D., Pastor of Roxber ough Baptist Church Dr. Jackson:—Dear Sir:—I feel it due to your excellent preparation, Hoofland German Bitters, to add my testimony to the deserved reputation it has obtained. I have for years, at times, been troubled with great disorderin my head and nervous system. I was advised by a friend to try a bottle of your German Bitters, I did so, and have exprienced great and unexpected relief; my health has been every materially benefited. I confidently recommend the article where I meet with cases similar to my own, and have been assured by many of their good effects. All of which were bought at nett cash prices, and which will sell on the same terms at a small advance.

> From Rev. J. S. Hrrman, of the German Reformed Church, Kutztown, Berks County, Pa. Dr. C. Jackson;—Respected Sir:—I have been troubled with Dyspepsia nearly twenty years, and have never used any medicine that did me as much good as Hoofland's Fitters. I am very much improved in health, after having taken five bottles.
