SUMMER DRINKS. Many wish something other than water during the hot days of summer, and there are many drinks in use which serve to allay thirst more readily than the same amount of pure water. All of these popular beverages ontain vegetable acids in a dilute state, and tnese, when taken in moderation, are both cooling and tonic. The very general use of emonade, which may be taken as a type of these drinks, is due to something more than its agreeable taste, and is popular testimony to the refrigerant property of citric acid. -The citric acid of the lemon, qualified by sugar, and flavored with the oil from the rind, more or less of which becomes mixed with the juice in the process of squeezing, forms lemonade. This may be imitated and the component parts put up in a dry form as in Morris' Concentrated Lemonade, which we have before noticed as a most convenient substitute for fresh lemons. Those who live where lemons are not obtainable, or where they are too expensive, make use of substitutes. A kind of "switchel" is made in some localities, which serves as a very good namer drink, and is much used in the hay field. It is made of vinegar molasses and water, and flavored with ginger -a homely substitute for lemonade, but very good and such better than many things that are Some of the acid fruit may be made to furnish cooling and pleasant beverage, and we allude to the matter now to suggest providing a stock for another summer. -Currants, dried as described in another article, will be found very convenient, as their DRY AND FANCY GOODS, acid is very refreshing, and a large supply may be put up with very little expenditure for sugar- Where the Barberry is commo a most excellent material for summer beverages may be stored up. The fruit simply preserved in sugar, makes a sort of conserve which infused in boiling water gives a pala table drink; but the best way is to make a syrup by boiling the fruit in water and conert the strained liquid into syrup by adding ttled and set in a cool place it will keep a long time. Added to water in palatable quantity, it is not only pleasant in health out very useful as a drink in fevers. Raspberry Vinegar or Raspberry Shrub is one of the pleasant and nice articles that can be made in the family. Raspberries are placed in a jar and covered with strong vinegar, and set in a cool place for 24 hours. The next day as many more berries are added as the vinegar will cover, and so for a third day. After the last berries have been in for a day, | The Secret Service, set the jar in a little of water, and bring it to a scald, and then strain out the juice through a flannel. Add one pound of white sugar to each 11 pint of juice, and heat in a tin or porcelain vessel to the boiling point, skim, and bottle. Do not boil any longer than necessary to remove the scum. Thus prepared it will keep for years. - American Agriculturist. SHARP MOWING-MACHINE KNIVES.

The cutting edge of all kinds of knives is composed of numerous small saw-tooth like scratches made by the file, grindstone or whetstone. The same exists on the edge of a razor, but there they are exceedingly fine. The cutting edge of a grain sickle consists of very fine teeth made as a file is cut, with a sharp cold chisel, cutting creases sloping obliquely backward on the under side of the blade, extending quite to the edge. When the serratures thus formed become battered or bent over, the tool is dull; but so long as they are kept sharp-pointed and erect, which is done by grinding on the smooth side, the edge is sharp.

For cutting straw, hay, or cornstalks, when knives are worked with a drawing stroke, they are usually most effective if their as when ground on a rather coarse stone. On the contrary, when knives operate with direct stroke, the finer the edges are ground, the easier they will cut. This is particularly true of knives of mowing maficient to cut an even swath through heavy GOOD GOODS AT FAIR PRICES, Where the ground is smooth and and all he asks is for his friends to give him a call hard, and the grass not very thick at the bottom, and the knives of a mower are knives, however, or those having a coarse edge, will require sometimes twice as much power to mow heavy grass, as if they had been put in order with a fine whetstone Knives of mowing machines are often filed to an edge. If they were operated with a drawing stroke, they would cut grain better than if sharpened with a fine stone. But, as the cut is a direct or crushing one, they should always be rubbed after filing, with a fine stone. Great efficiency in such knives depends almost entirely on the perfection o the cutting edge. - Am. Agriculturist.

These works will be printed on a greatly improved quality of paper, and while nearly all American Periodicals are either advanced in price or reduced in size—and very generally both, we shall continue to give faithful copies of all the matter contained in the original editions. Hence, our present prices will be found as cheap, for the amount of matter furnished, as those of any of the competing periodicals in the country.
Compared with the cost of the original editions, which at the present premium on gold would be about $100 a year, our prices ($15) are exceedingly low. Add to this the fact that we make our annual payments to the British Publishers for early sheets and copyright in Gold—$leosting us at this time nearly $2.50 in currency—and we trust that in the scale we have adopted we shall be entirely justified by our subscribers and the reading public.

The interest of these Periodicals to American

The interest of these Periodicals to Ame eaders is rather increased than diminished by th readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on ourgreat Civil War, and though sometimes tinged with prejudice they may still, considering their great ability and the different stand-points from which they arewritten, be read and studied with advantage by the people of this country of every creed and party.

3. The refusal for sixty days, of a lease on Sugar Greek, of two acres of ground; five-eighths of the oil to the company.

4. Seven acres in fee simple on the waters of Ritchey Run, one mile from its junction with the Allegheny, about the same distance from the Fox and Widel well, owned by the "Stump Island Oil Company." Allfat, boreable territory, at present under cultivation, with a good frame house upon Black Silks, Alpaoas, Bombazines, Mohairs, Reps, Poplins, Sheperd Plaids, Delaines, Challies, Bril ants, Lawns, Prints, Cambrics, Jacourts. Shirting Linens. Best Blenched and Unbicached Muslins, in all widths, from 121 ets. up. White, Scarinder cultivation, with a good frame house upon it.

5. Three acres in fee simple on the Allegheny river, just below the mouth of the Clarion river. There is room on this tract for a half dozen wells. The "Allegheny and Clarion River Oil Company," of Philadelphia, are now sinking several wells immediately opposite this property, with excellent prospects of success.

In presenting the above basis to the public, it is confidently believed that it cannot be excelled by that of any other company yet organized. The two leases on Cherry Run are themselves worth more than the territories of many companies which profess to be based upon a million capital. The Cherry Run region has proved to be the surset oil-producing territory yet discovered. Nine-tenths of the wells bored on this stream have been successful. The great "Reed" well, flowing 375 barrels per day, the "Mountain" well flowing 400, and in fact nearly all of the large wells yet struck, are located on Cherry Run.

It is proposed to sell a sufficient number of shares to pay for the territory and to raise working capital for its development, at the low price of twenty-fice cents per share, thus placing every subscriber to this fund on the ground-flour, and giring each subscriber a pro rata interest in the territory, engines, and other property of the company, as well as the shares of stock remaining unsold after the purchase money and working capital are raised. From the nature of the leases boring upon them must be commenced within sixty days from the 20th of April, 1885, which is a sufficient let, Solfirena, Grey and Check Shirting Flannels.
