REDFORD, PA., FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1865.

CONVOCATION OF THE EPISCOPAL CHURCH. Several clergymen connected with the Epis copal church in this and adjoining counties held a convocation in the Lutheran church here last week which was kindly lent for the occasion, the services were very interesting, and sermons were preached by the Rev. John F. Esch of Paradise, Lancaster Co., Rev. J. Newton Spear of Altoona, and Rev. John Cromlish of Columbia. Episcopal services are being held in the Lutheran church every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock and at the Springs every Sunday morning and evening. Efforts are being made to erect an Episcopa church edifice in this village.

15. We would call the attention of our rea ders to the fact that Prof. J. W. Taverner, the listinguished teacher of Elocution is staying at the Springs. We hope that the Professor may be prevailed upon to give some Readings from Shakspeare in town and at the Springs during his stay. As regards his reputation we need only call attention to the following high testimonial from Right Rev. Bishop Stevens : From Rev. Wm. Bacon Stevens, D. D. PHILADELPHIA, 12th Jan., 1857.

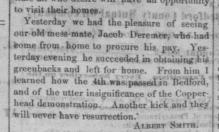

Dear Sir.—Having gone with you through one course of your instruction. I am happy to testify my appreciation of your abilities as a Teacher, and of the subject matter of your teaching. Having been myself a Professor of Belles Lettres and Oratory in the University of Geor-gia for five years. I carefully scrutinized and sified your instruction in every possible way, and am prepared to say that your system has in it more true philosophy, more real excel-lence and more practical value than any I have ver met with.

ever mef with. Your lessons on the graces of Time, on Flexibility of Voice, on Melody, on Oratoric-al Delivery, and on Gesture, are invaluable, for the sound principles and deep philosophy which they contain. The man who thorough-ly masters these, possesses the instruments increde the contained of the source of the sourc reby he can become a superior reader and speaker.

THE Press of the 7th inst has the follow ing sensible view of the Oil trade and Oil stocks:—The oil-stock business is still in its transition state. The wonderful success in the past, the remarkable swiftness with which fortunes were made, by the lucky, stimulated speculation to an extraordinary extent. In the beginning everything was favorable, but too much speculation has affected the whole oilproducing occupation, and at the present time the petroleum inter-est is flattened out. Oil stocks are discour aged, and buyers are cautious. Undonbt dly many of the moonshine corporation hich have been started will have to fail They will exhaust the means and patience of their stockholders. The latter will resolv to pay no more money, considering what they have already contributed as inevitably lost. Either a few men will get the management of them, or they will be sold out, and those who come in at the death will bag the game. And yet, with all these disadvantages petrolum, per se, will not suffer. It has be-come an object of worth to commerce, and the demand for it will be steady. If the number of producers decrease, the value of the productions increase. The companie organized for the production of oil, which ave avoided the arts of the stock exchange have avoided the arts of the stock exchange which have at all times paid attention to the development of their lands, and which have been managed with patient industry, will reap the bonefit. Their course was dese from the first. It was to attend to their own business, unmindful of the turmoil around them. They are now approaching the time when it will be demonstrated that this noise will pay. As the number of the time when it will be demonstrated that this policy will pay. As the number of filmsy companies fide out—as the chaff is riddled from the grain—the old-fashioned, honestly conducted companies will rise in estimation. They will find their reward in good prices for their all and enhanced value good prices for their oil and enhanced value for their stocks. Happy they who have in-terest in such concerns for they will undoubt-edly receive the benefit of their patience and perseverance. The general depression in all branches of usiness has seriously effected the stock arket, and oil stocks have been extremely dull for some weeks past. Indeed there are very few sales of any stocks, and there will be but few until the summer months are passed. But while stocks are dull in specupassed. But while stocks are due in spece-lative channels, there never was such earnest, gigantic and diversified development in the oil region as this summer. Despite the se-verity of the winter, which, stopped all operations preparatory to rowing, and the des-tructive March flood, which carried off half the derricks on the oil streams, the work of developing has been prosecuted with boundless energy, and must soon tell sensibly on the value of all stocks which have any substance in them. All the leading commerce journals predict a degree of activity in oil stocks this fall surpassing anything we have yet witnessed. They will then be better un-derstood—the worthless and bogus com-panies will be exposed and driven from the market, and the good companies will gener-ally have tested the quality of their lands. The sooner the bogus companies are exploded the better, as the public will then be able to invest with much more safty and the stock of reliable companies, which is now pro-trated with the bogus organizations because accurate discrimination is impossible advance in value to a just standered. advance in value to a just scattered. We are glad to see the officers of several swind-ling concerns in the courts now in Philadel-phia and New York, and the more vigor-ously that work is pushed by defrauded stock holders, the sconer will holders of good stocks realize a just value for them. All the indi-cations point to the production of vast quan-tities of oil this summer and fall, and many stocks which now hang sluggishly on the There are over twenty wells in various stages of progress on the Imperial property, and four on the Sterling—all of which must be tested within sixty days, and some of them sconer. World* stated that they were all with-the construction. Catholics. This assertion This brave and daring soldier descross more than a passing notice. He entered the ranks as a pri-vate, but owing to the integrity of his character and gallantry in action, he was promoted until he ranked as 1st. Lieutenant. He was a pure patriot, and entered the army because he loved the Union. He was highly esteemed by officers and men, and distinguished himself upon many a battle-field. God protected him amid the dangers incident to a soldier's life, and permitted him to die in the bosom of his family. He leaves a wife, five chil-dren, a large circle of relations and friends, to mourn his early death; but these have the consola-tion of knowing that he died a peaceful and hap-py death, and is now enjoying the bliss and hap piness of a true christian. May we, also, be ready. ADAM WEAVERLING. N. T. World stated that they were all with-out an exception, Catholics. This assertion was extensively copied into the papers of the country, and was looked upon as true, for no Catholic paper here in New York attemp ted to refute. The Catholic Telegraph of Cincinnati denied its truth, but the World did not make the correction. Now, what is the Set 2. Tom of the compirators were upder not make the correction. Now, what is the fact? Four of the conspirators were yester-day hanged, and on the gallows expirated their awful crime, but only one of the four died a Catholic. Of those imprisoned, on-ly one, Dr. Mudd, is a Catholic. Now, what I wish to say about this is, that if The Tribune has made the statement The World did, we would not have yet heard the last of it: for The Tablet, The Freeman, Irish American, &c., would have denounced it as a Black Republican, Abo-lition lie! You would have been abused by these organs of Irish Catholicism (?) through all the moods and tenses; and it would be adduced at the next election as an evidence of the anti-Catholic and anti-Irish spirit of adduced at the next election as an evidence of the anti-Catholic and anti-Irish spirit of Abolitionism. But The World being a good sound Copperhead-Pro-Slavery-Democratic paper, it has I suppose, a special license to say whatever it pleases about Catholics.— One thing is certain, Democratic papers can abuse the Irish and the Catholics to their hearts' content without a protest from the abuse the irrsh and the Catholics to their hearts' content, without a protest from the would-be-Catholic press, which shows plain-ly enough that the Democratic-ridden Cath-olics of New York think more of their pol-itics than they do of their religion. I came to that conclusion years ago, and every day confirms it more and more in my mind.

CURTAILING THE CURRENCY .- The frac

tional currency is undergoing the process of curtailment. Large quantities are redeem-ed daily at the Treasury Department in Washington, and at the various sub-treasu ries. It must be put up in packages when sent for redemption, containing even hun-dreds of pieces—that is to say, each package of five cent pieces must contain five dollars of ten cent pieces, ten dollars, &c. Differ ent varieties of the same denomination of currency must be sent in separate packages faced uniformly upwards, and mutillated currency must be kept separately from the the whole. Thus arranged. if these packa-ges be addressed to the Treasurer of the United States at Washington, and registered at the Post-office, returns by check may be expected in from eight to ten days. This is all very well so far as it goes, and we hope the business of adding it in for redemption will be increased. But we should be glad to the hear that the printing of three and five cent notes has ceased entirely. While they are kept in circulation the one, two and three cent coins that are in large supply at the Mint, will not onter freely into circulationnot for the reason, however, that some gue, that the people prefer the paper to coin, for the very opposite is true. He started out with the Missouri troops at He started out with the introduct troops at the commencement of the war, and stuck to them until the 'dog was dead' and never ceceived a scratch. Soon after he was mus-tered into the rebel service, the regiment to tered into the rebel service, the regiment to which he belonged appeared before the Col-onel on dress parade, and the Colonel, who prided himself on the fine appearance and good size of his men, cast his eyes along the line with a smile of self-satisfaction, until they rested on the towering form of the tall Missourian, when he knit his brows, and called out fiercely in thunder tones, that stump, you impertinent scoundrel, or I'll order you under arrest." The soldiers hocked at each other, wondering what the Colonel meant, but no one moved. Finding his authority treated with disrespect, he his authority treated with disrespect, he fairly boiled with race, and, advancing to the big soldier, he exclaimed, "What in the d-l are you standing on?" The soldier re-spectfully replied, 'On my feet, Colonel.' The Colonel was completely taken back, as he surveyed this tall specimen of humanity from head to foot in blank amazement; he marghed an anology for bis rude cremarks

Emigrants Wanted.

The Richmond Republic, quoting the ac-counts of emigrants arriving in New York, says: "Send them South. We are hunger-ing and thirsting after these stout, healthy enigrants. Our fields want them; our for-ests are sighing for them; finance wants them; the fireside wants them; politics wants We have broad acres and for many a day's important ares and a web-many a month's cargo even at this high rate and we have a genial country, a hospitable people, easy employment, indulgent task-masters, and abounding room for all. Let masters, and abounding room for all. Let them come, with their healthy country blood and stout country limbs, their new ideas and new systems of labor, with their intelligence cleanliness, thrift, sobriety, industry, their virtuous habits, their respect for authority, their obedience to law—and we will make room for them gladly. All that is needed to true the current of winter the cuttbered room for them gladly. All that is needed to turn the current of migration southward, and especially towards Virginia, is to con-vince the workingmen that they will have equal rights there. They object to 'task-masters,' no matter how "indulgent" they may be; and while there is any air of task-masters about Virginnia, no inducements will get free men down there.—N. Y. Post.

GRAPE CROP IN ILLINOIS.-The grape crop in the western part of Illinois is very heavy this season, especially in Hancock co., where the estimated yield of wine will be nearly 1,000,000 gallons, against about 250, 000 gallons last year, when the grape grop was almost an entire failure. Almost every farmer in that county has a vineyard. The grapes cultivated are the Catawna; the Del-aware, which produces a wine like the Forsterriesling, one of the best brands of the Rhine: and Norton's Seeding, which pro-duces a wine similar to Port. The produers reolize from $3 to $4 per gallon.
