fum, Garden & Household, VALUABLE PROPERTY

From the Germantown Telegraph HOME EDUCATION OF FARMER'S FAM-ILIES.

Farmiers, living a somewhat isolated life, do not have the advantages for educating their families that the denizens of the thick-ly populated towns and cities possess. Yet they should not fail to provide such helps as may readily be ebtained to forward the cultimay readily be obtained to forward the cump-vation of the minds of the members of their households. Knowledge is power, and other things being equal, he or she who has the most culture will meet with the best suc-successful to the interval of the sector of the secto the most culture will meet with the best success and rise to higher and more responsible positions. To no one instrumentality-if you except the common schools-is the American public more greatly indebted, for the universality of its knowledge than the newspaper press. It is one of the great Archimidean levers that moves the enlightened world; and the farmer who neglects to provide hinself and family with one or mor of the best papers published in the country is standing directly in the way of his own and family's prosperity and advancement. He shuts out the light which brightens up the intellect of his household, and will soon find that he is outstripped by his more sagacious neighbors. Another article that is almost indispensaple in home education is a good dictionary. It is a daily want in every intelligent family, and he is penny wise and pound foolish,, who neglects to provide his family with the best standard lexiconin the language. The pages of Webster's New Illustrated Edition furnish such a vast fund of useful information that it should be daily consulted in every family. No one who has any aspirations to culture and refinement can afford to dispense with it. The few dollars that it costs are soon compensated for and returned tenfold. Better, far better live on plainer food, or wear the old clothes a little longer, than to deprive yourself of a good dictionary. Farmers, rest assured there is noteconomy in depriving your family of the newspaper or the dictionary.

TO KEEP TIRES ON WHEELS. Hear what a practical man says on the subject : "I ironed a wagon some years ago, for my own use, and before putting on the tires I filled the fellics with linseed oil : and the tires were worn out and were never loose. T ironed a buggy for my own use seven years ago, and the tires are now as tight as when put on. My method of filling the fellies ACENTS WANTED FOR with oil is as follows o I use a long cast iron oil heater, made for the purpose, the oil is brought to a boiling heat, the wheel is placed on a stick, so as to hang in the oil, each felly an hour, for a common sized felly. The timber should be dry, as green timber will not take oil o Care should be taken that the oil be not made hotter than a boiling heat, in order that the timber be not burnt. Timber filled with oil is not susceptible to water and the timber is much more durable. I was amused some years ago, when I told a blacksmith how to keep the tires tight on whoole by his telling me it was a profitable busines to tighten tires, and the wagon maker will say it is profitable to him to make and repain -but what will the farmer, who supports the wheelwright and smith, say ?' These Powders have proved, after a trial of sev-eral years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use. The chief superiority of these powders arises from the fact that they are compos-ed of medicines that have Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties. The laxative ejects erudi-ties from the stomach and intestines, the tonic gives strength to the system of the Horse, and the puri-fying medicines contained in them cleanse the blood, and lay the foundation for a vigorous and healthy circulation. The use of them improves the spearance, vigor and spirit of this noble animal.
