Many farmers in consequence of broken health, occasioned by a too close application to hard labor, find themselves, in the meridian of life, unable to carry on their farm, and although surrounded by the conveniences, and many of the luxuries of existence, are compelled to sell out to younger men, abanhomestead, and remove to some country village to live an uneasy life, but one unattended by the large amount of hard work necessary apon a farm. The instances of farmers thus DRY GOODS, situated are numerous. One not long ago asked our advice about selling his farm and going into some other employment, stating that health was poor, and he could no longer carry on his farm. The reply we made, was in substance as follows:

Your farm is nearly all cleared, under a good state of cultivation, and well fenced. You have good buildings, and what is a consideration of great importance, one which no money value can be placed: it is the homestead of your father, perhaps your father's father, and the associations of two or three generations cluster around the old place. At your age of life no man should change his situation if it can possibly be avoided. Turn your farm into a sheep range, not at once perhaps, but do it gradually in two or three years. Keep a horse and cow, plant enough to keep you busy, or in other words to raise enough for your own use; apply your dressing to grass lands, and keep what sheep your farm will stock. They will require but little attention. True, it is quite a job to look after a flock of sheep, but see if you cannot, by keeping sheep exclusively, carry on your farm yourself with but little hard labor comparatively, pay all your hired help, and while living upon your own farm, also make more money every year, with less labor than you formerly did by a course of mixed husbandry. Try it and see .- Maine Farmer.

The excellence of buckwheat flour depends chiefly on the management of the grain between the time of ripening and grinding. The common way of treating buckwheat effeetually prevents making good flour, it being allowed to remain in the swath for several weeks, when it should never be suffered to lie longer than a day or two and it is decidedly better for the grain to rake it and set it on end, as tast as it is cradled. Much less grain will be wasted by shelling out; the straw will cure and dry out sooner, and make better fodder; the crop will be ready for threshing or housing in less time; and the grain will yield a much better quality of flour. It is especially injurious to the grain to be exposed to storms before it is set up, for dirt is spattered all over the grain, by the falling of large rain-drops. This makes the flour dark-colored and gritty. Wetting and drying the grain sequeral times, destroys the "life" of the flour. It will never be as white, nor make so good cakes, but will be sticky, and the cakes clammy, like the flour of sprouted wheat .-- Amr. Ag. for Sept.

WHEN TO SELECT SEED POTATOES.

The hest time to select seed potatoes is when they are dug. As soon as they are brought to the surface, and lie spread the best can be selected with less difficulty than at any other time. Those that are perflarked characteristics of the variety, and good average size, should be selected for seed, in preference to those of any other qualities. They should then be placed in boxes or barrels, and kept where they will not be injured by freezing or by warmth. If seed potatoes see saved in this manner.

When potatoes first come from the ground, the skins have a clearness, which they soon lose .- Am. Ag. for

INSECTS UPON INSECTS.

Several have sent us specimens, and others have sent us descriptions of caterpillars of various kinds, which were more or less covered by small white oval bodies, that some of the writers recognized as what they really are -the eccoons of a parasitic insect. It is one of the wise provisions for preventing the undue increase of insects, that most of them have insect enemies. Among the most destructive of these are the Ichneumon flies, a term applied to a large class of four-winged insects, which deposit their eggs in the larvae or pupae of other insects. The magget hatched from these eggs feed upon the living animal in which they are enclosed, and by the time it dies they have attained a sufficient size to undergo their transformation. The number of parasites that are nourished by one caterpillar is sometimes astonishing.

A few days ago we took from our tomat vines the larva of aSphinx, which was almost ompletely covered with the cocoons of an Ichneumon. From counting a portion of BUCKETS, three distances the whole number at heremarkable that this number of maggots could have lived within the caterpillar, attain their full growth and spin their cocoons, without killing it. Though still alive, the caterpillar was evidently much weakened by rearing such a large unnatural family, and will probably in a short time die from exhaustion .- Am.

IN-AND IN BREEDING.

There is probably no greater folly that the common stock raiser can be guilty of, than breeding from animals close akin. The results are in almost all cases unfortunate, and tend to the degradation of his stock. This is true of horses and neat cattle especially, of sheep essentially, of swine in a less degree, but still noticebly :and in the case of fowls and pigeons, the evilresults are more quickly seen than in any other classes, perhaps. In and in breeding, where most carefully conducted, has produced very favourable results; but this was under the direction of men who gave their lives, with severe, assidious study of animals and their ponts, their differences of constitu tion and temperament, of form, size, &c.; and who were also possessed of an intuition as to which animals would cross well. In those herds, too, where in-and-in breeding has been successfully practised, it must be remembered that the relative numbers of males and females approached much nearer a natura standard than is ever profitable in econor stock raising. If any one wishes to see how quickly he can run down a superior flock or herd, let him undertake to imitate Bakewell on a small scale. - Am. Agriculturist.

ACENTS WANTED FOR The Secret Service,

The Field, The Dungeon, and The Escape, BY ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalieled experience for four years; travelling through the South in the secret service of the "Tribune" at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It will abound in stirring events, and contain more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and expectation of profitable employment, will find it pectualized adapted to their condition. We have agents clearing $150 per month, which we will prove to any doubting applicant. Send for circulars. Address. JONES, BROS. & CO.

FOR SAILES.

The undersigned offers his new grist mill in Bedford Township, for sale, together with 132 acres limestone land.

The mill contains two pairs burrs and one pair chopping stones of a first rate quality, with all the modern improvements of mills for merchant and country work. The land is well improved and in good state of cultivation with farm house and barn, mill house, barn, &c., thereon erected. This property lies about five miles from Bedford, in the heart of the "Dutch Corner," with numerous good roads to the mill and from the mill to Bedford, and the terminus of the Bedford rail road.

The stream which supplies the mill is from springs of the neighborhood and from the mountain, which, in general, affords sufficient water power the whole year.

The mill is entirely new and is a very desirable property, and will be sold on reasonable terms.

The undersigned will also sell his tract of land, known as the "Feight saw-mill tract," containing 103 acres, about 75 acres cleared. This is also limestone land, with house, saw mill, stable, &c. thereon erected. It is on cove creek. The water power is regular and inexhaustable. It lies in Friend's Cove, seven miles from Bedford and six miles from the terminus of the Bedford Rail Road.

POUTZ'S CELEBRATED

Horse and Cattle Powders. These Powders have proved, after a trial of several years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use. The chief superiority of these powders arises from the fact that they are composed of medicines that have Laxative, Tonic and ed of medicines that have Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties. The laxative ejects crudities from the stomach and intestines, the tonic gives strength to the system of the Horse, and the purifying medicines contained in them cleanse the blood, and lay the foundation for a vigorous jand healthy circulation. The use of them improves the wind, strengthens the appetite and gives the horse a fine, smooth and glossy skim—thus improving the appearance, vigor and spirit of this noble animal. These powders are not intended, as most powders are to bloat the animal, so as to give him the appearance of being fat when not really so—but to remove the disease and promote his general health.

These powders will strengthen the stomach and These powders will strengthen the stomach and bring them cleanse them from offensive matter, and bring them cleanse them from offensive matter, and strength of them to the flores, and a certain remedy all diseases incident to the flores, as Glandors, Yellow Water, Distempers, Founder, Heaves, Slavering, Coughs, Fevers Loss of Appetite and Vital Energy, &c.—These powders, if used two or three times a week, through the winter and spring, your horses will never get the Lung Fever Corie or Botts. A few doses of these powders will remove the worst cough, on any horse. Were owners of horses to feed a few of these powders every year, they might save the lives of many valuable horses.

AND

Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine(Tory) The American Publishers continue to reprint the above-named periodicals, but as the cost of printing has doubled and the price of paper nearly trebled, they are compelled to advance their terms as folpublic.

The interest of these Periodicals to American readers is rather increased than diminished by the articles they contain on ourgreat Civil. War, and though sometimes tinged with prejudice they may still, considering their great ability and the different stand-points from which they are written, be read and studied with advantage by the people of this country of every creed and party.
