"A SOLID SHOT."

ONE OF THE SOLDIERS THAT CAN'T BE HUM-BUGGED.

A Democrat of the True Metal. Soldiers Read this Letter.

At the late meeting of the skedaddlers &c., at Schellsburg, which we learn was a at a omplete fizzle, an effort was made to organze the meeting by the appointment of soldiers as officers, among others selected was the writer of the following letter, a life long Democrat, who understands the true position of affairs and can't be humbugged:

SCHELLSBURG, Sept. 25, 1865. MR. EDITOR: - With your kind permission I wish through the medium of your valuable paper, to make a correction, and explain my position politically, so that your readers, and the public generally may know exactly how I stand. In the first place I would inform my former political friends that they have greatly mistaken the man when they suppose me to be a COPPERHEAD. I have always been a Democrat, and am a Democrat still, but not of the MODERN TYPE. The true Demo crat is the man who will stand up in defense of his country and not sympathize with and and give "aid and comfort" to its enemies, as the Copperheads have done. I have proven my loyalty by going to help in putting down the rebellion, whilst these cowardly raitors staid at home and called us "Linhirelings," "Lincoln's pups," &c., GLORIED OVER OUR DEFEATS, AND EXULTED IN REBEL VICTORIES. Not only this, BUT THEY VOTED TO DIS-FRANCHISE US AND PLACE US ON A LEVEL WITH THE NEGRO.

Mr. Editor, I fought for my country, WILL VOTE FOR THE INTERESTS OF MY t, AND THE SOLDIER, AND IT IS THE DUTY OF ALL SOLDIERS SO TO ACT TOWARDS THE MEN WHO SOUGHT THEIR DEGRADATION AND DE-STRUCTION.

But now to the correction. The so-called lemocrats had a meeting, or rather a "blackguarding match" in this town, on the 16th nst, on which occasion, I am told, they professed great love for the soldier, and selected nearly all soldiers for officers to their meeting. Among the rest I see my name is on the list of Secretaries published by the Gazette of last week, though I was not present, nor even near the meeting, and I am satisfied there are several other names in that record cho WOULD SPURN THE ASSOCIA-

Now I would inform Mr. Meyers, and his mpudent associates, that they have used, (or eather abused) my name without my knowledge or consent, and that I cannot accept so slimy an honor. I cannot be wheedled and cajoled in that way, if, perhaps (?) some of the soldiers can. I cannot for the life of me see HOW ANY SOLDIER CAN VOTE WITH SUCH A PARTY, AND, ON THE OTHER HAND, I CANNOT SEE HOW THAT PARTY can put on face enough to ask it after the way they treated them. In conclusion, I would say that I INTEND TO VOTE FOR MY OLD CAPTAIN, SI-MON DICKERHOOF, than whom there was no braver soldier, AND THE WHOLE UNION TICKET, AND ADVISE ALL MY FELLOW SOLDIERS TO DO THE SAME. Do not be flattered by the men who were your enemies, who try with honeyed words to make you believe that they are Democrats; they ha-Daniel Metzgar's, Juniata, Friday, Oct. ted you in the army, and they care nothing about you now except to get your votes. They resisted the passage of the bill in its various stages in the Legislature, and endeavored to defeat it before the people, not only by open and hostile opposition, but by the utterance and circulation of the wilful and malicious falsehood, that the object of the proposed amendment of the Constitution was, to give "the niggers a vote" thereby wickedly attempting to de grade the American soldier, and lower him to the level of the negro. The Union judges believing, that the return judges had no right under the law to reject any votes, did not sign the papers. At the meeting of the District judges, one from each of these counties to sum up the vote of the District, it was discovered that the copperhead judges of Fulton and Bedford had not thrown away a sufficient number of votes to defeat Ross and Armstrong, and the two judges from these counties, being in a majority of one over the Somerset judge, DELIBERATELY REJECTED THE ENTIRE SOLDIER monstrous and horrible, that the mere statement of it will shock every decent and right thinking citizen. This scheme was not permitted to succeed. The Union judge from Somerset made a return, certifying the correct vote, and upon both being presented to the Legislature, that body rejected the fraudulent and spurious one, and promptly admitted Ross and Armstrong to their seats. Findley and Meyers conscious of the weakness of their case, not only did not make a contest as was their right, yea, their duty to do, if they felt themselves aggrieved, but hands of their party, thus shrinking from that tribunal, whose decree had been so set at naught by their party, and doubtless having a premonition of the defeat that awaits their candidates, as the just retribution due such an outrage upon the rights of the peosuch an outrage upon the rights of the peple. It is true there was a wing of the party, known as "War Democrats," but they were powerless, and such as attempted independence of action were promptly read out of the party. The peace men controlled the organization and policy of the party, and the war men never failed to support them at the polls. Practically, the party was a unit in favor of peace; and in this it was consistent faver of peace; and in this it was consistent from first to last.

At the great Democratic meeting of January 16, 1861, at Philadelphia, the ninth resolution adopted declared.

"We are therefore utterly opposed to any such compulsion as is demanded by a portion of the Republican Party; and the Democratic Party of the North will, by the use of all constitutional means, and with its moral and political influence, oppose any such extreme policy, or a fratricidal war thus to be inaugurated." And a month later, at the Democratic State Convention, held at Harrisburg, February 22, 1861, the following resolution "was received with the most, rapturous applause, M. Wells Provisional Governor of Louisiana. He was some time since elected to that office by the people, but the President seems to consider it best that Louisiana, as well as the consider it best that Louisiana, as well as the rising, cheering, and waving their hats." Benjamin G. Harris, a Democratic member of Congress from Maryland, on April 9, 1861, had the effrontery to declare in the House of Representatives:

"The South asked you to let them go in peace. But no; you said you would bring them into subjection. That is not done yet, and God Almight, great that it most done yet, and God Almighty grant that it never may I hope that you will never subjugate This being good Democratic doctrine, it is not surprising that, with one exception, the Democratic members voted in a solid body against Mr. Harris' expulsion, nor that, when he was sent as a delegate to the Chicago Convention, he was received there as a member of the party, in full communion and good standing. At Chicago, indeed, Mr. Harris found himself among congenial spirits. There the Rev. C. Chauncey Burr, of New Jersey, publicly declared, "You cannot have the face to ask the South to come back into the Union until you withdraw your marauding army. Is there a man in this audience that wants to have one half of the States conquered and subjected? [No.] When this is done you have ended the Government. After three years of war, who are conquered, you or the South? I say you are conquered. You cannot conquer the South and I pray God you preser

James S. Rollins, of Missouri "I love our Southern friends; they are a noble, a brave, and a chivalrous people [cheers], although they are trying to break up the Government; and however much we may hate them, we must remember that they are our countrymen, and cannot be subdued so long as we insist upon depriving John J. Van Allen, of New York:
"War is disunion. War could never produce peace. It was impossible to subjugate eight millions of people, and it ought not to be done, if it could be done."

A want has always been felt in this country of some system by which a record of families can be kept and handed down to coming generations. This want, it seems to us, is completely filled by the "Photograph Family Record" now being sold by agents in this county.
