2. By more system. The farmers should have a time to begin and stop labor. They should put more mind and machinery into their work, they should theorize as well as practice, and let both go together. Farming is healthy, moral and respectable; and in the long run, may be made profitable. The farmer should keep good stock and out of debt, The farm is the best place to begin and end life, and hence so many in the cities and professional life covet a rural home.

3. By taking care of health. Farmers have healthy variety of exercise, but too often ne glect cleanliness, omit bathing, eat irregular ly and hurriedly, sleep in ill-ventilated apartments, and expose themselves to cold. Ninetenths of the human diseases arise from cold and intemperance. Frequent bathing is profitable, so is fresh air, deliberation at the dinner table and rest after a meal.

4. By adorning the home. Nothing is lost by a pleasant home. Books, papers, pictures, music and reading should all be brought to bear upon the in-door family entertainments. and neatness and comfort, order, shrubbery, flowers and fruits should harmonize all with-Home should be a sanctuary so holy and happy that children will love it, wome delight in it, manhood crave it, and old age enjoy it. There would be less desertions of homesteads if pains were taken to make them agreeable. Ease, order, health and beauty are compatible with farm life, and were or dained to go with it .- Auburn Journal.

NOTES AND SUGGESTIONS FOR THE MONTH.

Grain has ripened and has been gathered by the careful husbandman, seeds of wild plants neglected by man, are matured and being scattered, ready to be covered with falling leaves, or already hidden in crevices of the soil, from which new life will awaken at the touch of Spring; insects have taken their winter-form; the birds are hastening to more ge nial climates, and everything warns the proident farmer to finish what yet remains under his hand. It is not too late to save much vexatious labor next year, by cleaning up hedge rows, and clumps of weeds, which should be burned to destroy the ripened seeds. If crops are all housed, draining now where needed may give a week's start in the season of plowing. The present prices of grain may contin ue, but if gold comes down as it should, and ultimatety must, those who have threshed and marketed their grain early, will have most satisfactory returns. Thanksgiving is but few weeks distant, and the best fattened poultry will bring tip-top prices. Let our readers and Log Barn. Also, take the hint, and have their turkeys, chickens, geese and ducks ready. In fine "What thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might,' for the chilling storms will soon herald the approach of Winter.

Agricultural Reading .- The days are now shortening and the nights lengthening. If a farmer is diligent and ambitious, he can find at least a few hours daily to read.

Animals.-Feed fattening animals well this month, as they will fatten much faster before cold weather comes on. Store animals of all kinds also need particular attention, feed them well and protect them from storms.

Barns .- See that no corner, or portion of the foundation rests on the ground, or is exposed to wet that will shortly cause decay. Sometimes a projecting corner stone will con duct rain inwards against the sill, and rot i in a few years.

Butter .- Now is the best time to pack butter for next winter. See that jars, or tubs are thoroughly cleansed. A spoonful of clean, white sugar to a pound of butter, put in at the last working, will improve the quality even of good butter, and cause it to bring a higher

Calves and Colts .- Give colts and calves good feed, access to salt and pure water daily, and a shed during cold storms. It is ruinous policy to allow young animals to grow poor in Cows.-Milch cows will very likely need a little extra feed, or their full flow of milk may not be maintained. Let them have the benefit of the best pastures; when there is any choice. If fed four quarts of wheat bran or corn meal daily, or two quarts of the two mixed, the quantity of milk will be increased.

Corn .- Cut up the stalks at the roots, before dead ripe; but before cutting go through the field and select ears for seed, tying a red string around those ears that ripen first. If you desire to procure seed of a neighbor, now is the best time to do it. Seed corn should uever be set in large stooks, nor put in cribs with other ears. As soon as fit to husk, braid it by the husks in long strings, and suspend with wire, so that mice and red squirrels can not reach it.

Horses.-Let working horses be stabled during cold and stormy nights. They will not eat grass all night. When they work all day, turn them to grass two hours at night, and early in the morning, and they will do better, and not destroy half as much grass with their feet. One cold and stormy night in October will injure a tender horse more than a

Hogs .- Feed well with cooked meal and fruit or vegetables. Let fattening swine and brood sows have access, at all times, to clean water, dry apartments, and a small plot of clean and dry ground. Swine are naturally much neater in their habits than horses and neat cattle.

Implements. Have a place for every too and implement, and let every laborer under stand that his days's work is not done, till his tools are well cleaned and put in the proper place under shelter. Rust often wears out more tools than work does.

Indian Corn .- Husk the ears and secure the stalks for fodder as soon as possible, after the grain is well cured. Let nothing be

Meadows .- Top-dress this month with any kind of fertilizing material. It is better to harrow in bone dust, guano, or home made poudrette. Plowing .- Fall plowing heavy soils, an any kind of soil, where there are many weeds, may be done at any period before winter. Where there are Canada thistles, Ox-eye Daisies, or Quack grass, plow deep with nar row furrows. Always keep a plow in good condition, to work well. Potatoes .- Exposure to air, sun-light, and too much heat will soon destroy the excellence of the best potatoes. If put in a dark place, they will usually keep better than in a Poultry .- Feed well while the warm weath er continues, as they will fatten much faste and eat less grain than when it becomes cold. -American Agriculturist.

Horse and Cattle Powders. These Powders have proved, after a trial of sev-These Powders have proved, after a trial of reveral years, to be superior to any preparation of the kind in use. The chief superiority of these powders arises from the fact that they are composed of modicines that have Laxative, Tonic and Purifying properties. The laxative ejects crudities from the stomach and intestines, the tonic gives strength to the system of the Horse, and the purificing medicines contained in them cleans the strength to the system of the Horse, and the purifying medicines contained in them cleanse the blood, and lay the foundation for a vigorous land healthy circulation. The use of them improves the wind, strengthens the appetite and gives the horse a fine, smooth and glossy skin—thus improving the appearance, vigor and spirit of this noble animal. These powders are not intended, as most powders are to bloat the animal, so as to give him the appearance of being fat when not really so—but to remove the disease and promote his general health.

These powders will strangthen the search.

These powders will strengthen the stomach and intestines, cleanse them from effensive matter, an bring them to a healthy state. They are a sureprovention of Lung Fever, and a certain remedy all diseases incident to the Horse, as Glanders, Yellow Water, Distempers, Founder, Heaves, Slavering, Coughs, Fevers Loss of Appetite and Vital Energy, &c.—These powders, if used two or three times a week, through the winter and spring, your horses will never get the Lung Fever Coric or Botts. A few does of these powders will remove the worst cough, on any horse. Were owners of horses to feed a few of these powders every year, they might save the lives of many valuable horses.

MILCH COWS.

The properties this powder possesses in increase the quantity of milk in cows, gives it an in ortance and value which should place it in the ands of every person keeping a cow. In fatten-g cattle, it gives them an appetite, loosens their de, and makes them thrive much faster, HOGS.
