CHRISTMAS PRESENT,-No more appropriate present for Christmas can pass between friends, and none that would be more highly prized than a "Photograph Family Record.

A MAN FIRED UPON .- On last Monday night Mr. Deremer, of Cumberland Valley township, came into town at a rapid rate in search of a physician, while dashing along the street, several soldiers attempted to halt him, he, however, paid no attention to their efforts, when one of them drew a pistol and fired at last, remove the great obstacle in the way upon him, the ball whistling by his head. Two of the offenders were arrested and lodged in jail to await trial.

Those indebted to us will bear in mind that Court week is an excellent opportunity to discharge their indebtedness. Paper is as high now as it has been at any time since we have been in business. This fact alone, without taking into account the monstrous prices we are compelled to pay for al-

duties. Of these, one of the most imperative is our care for those over whose pros peets orphanage has brought desolation and gloom. We know that many thousands of the children of our gallant dead are now looking

o the humane people of the country for that support which their fallen fathers would have given them. In behalf of these orphaned lit tle ones thus left upon the country's care, an Association, represented by the undersigned has been organized to raise a fund to found an Asylum in a central locality. The Institution is designed to be erected, as far as our advertising to accommodate our best practicable, by the Sabbath-schools of the land-a national memorial of our perpetuated

Union. "As a means of interesting the schools therein, they are furnished with photographic copies of the historic picture found grasped in the hands of the dead soldier of Gettysburg Sergeant Humiston), together with copies of the beautiful song composed upon the touch Schools taking "shares" in the Homestead will receive, if desired, the value of their contributions in copies of these affecting relics of the war.

"It is proposed that each Sabbath-school ontributing to the fund twenty-five dollars, shall be said to hold one share in the Home, and shall be entitled to name one orphan for admission into it; as also to have one vote in electing the spot where the Institution shall stand-whether on Cemetery Hill at Gettysourg, or near Valley Forge, of Revolutionary renown.

"Our Sabbath-schools are nurseries of pariotism, as well as of piety. It is earnestly hoped that superintendents will promptly sec ond his appeal in behalf of the soldier's orphan, and as early as practicable have their schools to co-operate in our interesting, pa triotic and humane enterprise.

"But we must appeal also to the general public to aid our undertaking. Having already an available fund of twenty-two thousand dollars ($22,000), we propose at once to receive orphans under the care of the Assofund may warrant the choice of the country

CLASSIFICATION .--- A WORD TO TEACHERS.

Nothing can be more important in our un graded schools, than thorough classification and yet, nothing has been more neglected. Without this, they can never render their full measure of usefulness. Hitherto, the varie ty of books has effectually prevented any thing of the kind. Now, however, Osgood's Spellers and Readers, Ellsworth's Penmanship, Brook's Arithmetic, Mitchell's Geographies, and Brown's Grammars are adopted in nearly all our districts, and arrangements have been made to enforce their exclusive use as soon as the sch cols open. We shall thus of classification, except in a few district where directors, in defiance of the law, still refuse to establish a uniform series of books. If teachers make good use of the present opportunity, most of our schools can now be thoroughly classified, and the present winter will begin a new era in their usefulness. Bad classification, however, is sometimes caused not by variety of books, but by the careless ness or incompetency of the teacher and it is of this we wish to speak. The classification of a school requires the best skill of the teacher. Many fail in this important particular. If the teacher lacks judgment or knowledge of human nature, we GOLD IN BEDFORD COUNTY .- The citizens | can say little, here, that will aid him. He in studying what they are unable to comprehend. Half the pupils in the county use readers of too high a grade. Those who should have the Second, have the third; those who should the Second, have the third; those who should have the Third, have the Fourth; and so on through the series. Nearly every school has through the series. Nearly every school has a class in the Fifth reader, when in truth there should not be a dozen Fifth reader classes in the county. Such a class should rarely be formed unless there are too many in the Fourth reader for one class. The Fourth reader contains enough to make good readers, and far more than most pupils will ever learn in the common schools. It should be remem bered, too, that the formation of a new For many years 'Peterson's the teacher's time is thus taken from the County Supt AN Essay .- The following composition was forwarded us by William C. Riffle, under date of St. Francis College, Loretta, Cambria county, Penn'a., Nov. 11, 1865. We ommend it to his many associates and acuaintances here. He fully demonstrated his love of country by three years' hard service in the Southern States, endeavoring to crush the rebellion:

"Love of country is one of the noblest teelings that animates the heart of man. It is a feeling that should be cherished by every one. And dead must be the soul of a man whose heart has never beat with pride when he reads the history of his country. With a feeling of pride the native of this country says, I am an American. Look at the present condition of America and see what love of country has done. A few years ago very little was known of America, but now she stands foremost in history. No country can show a nobler history than this; and what has done it, I an. swer, love of country-that love that animated the hearts of men like Washington, Adams, Jefferson, and a host of others, to do and dare what they did. What kept up the spirits of his noble sons at Valley Forge, and fact throughout the whole of that dark period known as the Revolution. It was that love that helped them to battle for freedom and justice. If they had not felt that feeling, to-day America would be groaning beneath the iron rule of England. But, thank God, we are to-day a free and independent nation, enjoying liberty as no other nation does. But every rule has its exceptions, and this one is not exempt. We have men in our midst who have not one spark of patriotism; men who have never felt that noble sentiment. But dark and narrow is the soul of that man who is dead to all the noble impulses of the soul. I can compare him to nothing but the miser whose God is gold. Arnold, the traitor was a man of that class, and what did he gain by it? Nothing but the abhorrence of all men; friends and enemies deserted him. History tells us that he died in a garret in London, despised by all. Judas and Arnold were alike: one sold his God, the other his countrr; and I am sorry to say that we have men of that class to-day, but they will go down to their graves unhonored and unwept. Devin Jan Love of country is not a momentary feeling; an impulse of the moment; but, as lasting as life. If it was an impulse of the moment, what would be gained by it. Go to history and see the many examples of its lasting character. When we are a distance from home, in a foreign land, then we feel the force of the instinct by which we are attached When a man is far away from home. no tender assiduities of friends, no wellknown roice, no wife, or sister, or mother to sooth his sorrows or close his eyes in death, and none but strangers surround him, then does the love of country prove itself. We are asked what ties bind us to our native land. We may have some difficulty to answer this at first, but finally your answer will come,my love for my country. No matter what circumstances you are placed in your thought will instinctively go back to the land in which you lived and loved. What sustained the Union cause during the late war? Ask the soldier or the sailor and he will answer-the love of country. But now the war is ended and peace reigns throughout the land. Yet that spirit which filled the hearts of the son
