PROTECTION. A growing feeling in favor of a high protective tariff is evident in the tone of our western exchanges. Numerous articles, Boots, western exchanges. Numerous articles, characterized by great ability, appear in their columns. The importance of diversifying our industry is conceded and two great points are powerfully presented, viz: first, that the farmer best serves his interest by encouraging manufactures which furnish a home market and diminish competition in agricultural pursuits; and second, that the internal revenues of the Federal Government being chiefly derived from the manufacture. internal revenues of the Federal Government being chiefly derived from the manufacturing industry of the country while real estate furnishes the basis of the taxation levied for the support of State and municipal purposes it is vitally important to stimulate the former and thus prevent the whole indebtedness from being thrown on the latter. It would be difficult if not impossible for a nation exclusively devoted to agriculture to maintain our credit, while by a Liberal encouragement of cur manufacturing and mining interests it will be easy to defray the annual interest of our debt and to provide for the speedy extinguishment of the principal. A gratifying proof of the feeling of some of gratifying proof of the feeling of some of the agriculturists of the west, is afforded by the following letter to the tariff association of Cleveland, written by Hon. J. B. Grinnell M. C. from Iowa, who is the owner of six thousand acres of land an extensive grower of grain and stock;

"It gives me pleasure to say that I con cur most fully with you in principle and policy. A nearer market in the agricultural States is always to be chosen in preference to a foreign one. The hope that our new States will be manufacturing States is a chimera, if we do not foster and protect what manufactures we have, I am for the highest duties on all articles which we can fabricate or raise at home, and as earnestly for a pre mium on all the skilled labor it is necessar; to import that we may feed clothe and warn all who labor for us on our own soil. A great vital struggle is at hand, and I wish you all sagacity and enterprise in behalf of our material interests."—Phila Press.

ONE WAY TO TELL .- A traveler called lately at night full at a farmers house in Alabama; the owner being from home and the mother and daughter being alone they refused to lodge the wayfarer.

'How far, then said he is it to a house where a preacher can get lodging?''

'Oh! if you are a preacher, said the lady,

you can stop here?"

Accordingly he dismounted, deposited his saddle-bags in the house, and led his horse to the stable. Meanwhile the mother and daughter were debating the point as to what

'He cannot be a Presbyterian,' said one,
'The is not a Methodist,' said the other, 'for his coat is not the right cut for a Meth-

'If I could find his hymn book,' said the daughter, 'I could soon tell what sort of a preacher he is.' And with that she thrust her hand into the saddle bags, and pulling out a flask of liquor, she exclaimed. 'La! mother, he's a hard shell baptist.'

On the little Miami Railroa I is a station called Morrow. A new brakesman on the road, who did not know the names of the stations, was approached by a stranger the other day, while standing by his train at the depot, who inquired.—"Does this train go to Morrow to day?" "No," said the brakesman, who thought the stranger was making game of him "it goes to day vesterday." game of him. "it goes to day yesterday

"You don't understand me." persisted the stranger, "I want to go to Morrow." "Well, why in thunder don't you wait until to morrow, then, and not come bothering around to day. You can go to morrow or any other day you place."

or any other day you please. ""Won't you answer a civil question civily? Will this train go to day to Morrow?"
"Not exactly. It will go to day and come back to morrow."

As the stranger who wanted to go to Mor-row was about to leave in disgust, another employee, who knew the station alluded to came along and gave him the required information.

HISTORY OF THE REBELLION.

THE DRUNKARD has been known to re nounce his darling vice; the slave to sin and extravagance, her besetting sin; but the waspish temper, the irritating tone, the rude dogmatic manners, and the hundred nameless negligencies that spoil the beauty of as-sociation have rarely done other than proceed less negligeneres that sociation have rarely done other than proceed sociation have rarely done other than proceed till the action of disgust and gradual alienation has turned all the current of affections from their course, leaving nothing but a from their course, leaving nothing but a was bound. It is the work people want.

A Word for Massachusetts.—The Norristown (Pa.) Herald answers some caviling cotemporary as follows:

"Massachusetts threw the tea overboard, and the first battle of the Revolution was fought at Lexington. She leads off in all reforms that result in the benefit of the people and in favor of an intelligent Government and that is the reason why she is denounced by all demagogues, pot house politicians dummies, fools, traitors and copperheads.

THE BEAUTY OF A WOMAN'S ARM. - Who has not felt the beauty of a woman's armthe unspeakable suggestions of tenderness that lie in the dimpled elbowand all the var-ied gently lessening curves down to the delicate wrist with its tiniest, almost imperceptible nicks in the firm softness? A woman's arm touched the soul of a great sculptor two thousand years ago, so that he wrought an image of it for the Parthenon which moves us still as it clasps lovingly the time wor marble of a headless trunk.

A GOOD ONE.—The following is reported as having happened in Bristol county, Connecticut:

A witty elergyman, accosted by an old acquaintance of the name of Cobb, replied:

"I don't know you, sir."

"My name is Cobb," rejoined the man, who was about half seas over.

"Ah, sir," replied the elergyman, "you have so much of the corn on you that I did not see the cob."

THE BEAUTY of a religious life is one of a greatest recommendations. What does THE BEAUTY of a religious life is one of its greatest recommendations. What does it profess? Peace to all mankind. It teaches us those arts which will contribute to our present comfort as well as our future happiness. Its greatest ornament is charity; it inculcates nothing but love and sympathy of affection; it breathes nothing but the purest spirit of delight; in short it is a system perfectly calculated to benefit the heart, improve the mind, enlighten the understanding.

We must refer in terms of eulogy to the high tone and varied excellences of Harper's Magazine—a journal with a monthly circulation of about 170,000 copies—in whose pages are to be found some of the choicest light and general reading of the day. We speak of this work as an evidence of the American People; and the popularity it has acquired is merited. Each number contains fully 144 pages of reading matter, appropriately illustrated with good wood-cuts; and it combines in itself the racy monthly and the more philosophical quarterly, blended with the best features of the daily journal.
