We are requested to say that T. H. & N. J. Lyons have just opened out at the old Groceries, &c., which they are prepared to Advertisement next week.

A number of petitions praying for a daily mail from Hopewell, via Enterprise to Woodberry, have been signed by the friends of that much needed improvement. We hope the persons interested will send them to us immediately to enable us to forward them to Washington at an early moment.

IMPROMPTU OYSTER SUPPER.—The Mite Society of the M. E. Church gave an impromptu oyster supper at the Court House, on Thanksgiving evening, where a large num. ber of our citizens resorted for the purpose of regaling themselves with the luxurious bi valves prepared for the occasion. All passed off pleasantly and harmoniously. We learn that the society realized a very handsome profit, which is to be appropriated to the furnishing of the M. E. Parsonage.

THANKSGIVING DAY .- There was a general suspension of business in this place. The weather was quite cold with a strong Northwestern wind. Services were held by agreement of all the churches in the Lutheran church. Rev. Barrow and Rev. Essick open ed and closed the ceremonies, and Rev. A.R. Miller delivered the usual sermon. It was listened to with much interest until its close by a very large and intelligent audience.

The Base Ball Clubs had advertised a match for the day, where a large number of persons attended in the afternoon regardless of the severity of the weather. Quite an intense interest was manifested in the game. Each party had its friends, and as the game began to draw to the close, the warmest feeling was visible, but all within the rules of propriety. The Mineral Spring Club came off the winning party. The losing club served up an oyster supper at the Washington Hotel in the evening. The bar-rooms of the different hotels were closed and everything passed off decently.

A NEW BOGUS WATCH DODGE .-- An individual giving his name as William Smith, made his appearance in South Woodberry township, on Monday or Tuesday of last week who represented, in most pitiable terms, that he was without money, and that he desired to visit an uncle residing in the upper end of the county, and to enable him to raise funds sufficient to take him to the uncle aforesaid, he proposed to pledge a gold watch valued at $125, for $25, which he promised to return and redeem as soon as he reached the residence of his uncle, and secured the necessary money, which would not exceed four or five days at farthest. He prevailed upon several parties in South Woodberry and Bedford townships to accept his stories of poverty and distress, and for their Greenbacks he turned over a bogus watch, worth, at the outside cent, five dollars. In one case he succeeded in getting $25 advanced; he then noticed that a member of the family had a new American lever watch, valued at $50, which he deliberately asked him to loan him, until he would return, stating that he could not well do without a time-peace. Of course both man and watch will only return in the strong grasp of the law if ever either returns. His rascality was discovered a few hours afterwards, and ful duty to chronicle the news of the death of pursuit commenced. He was followed from the Rev. Wesley M. Showalter, late Pastor of the neighborhood of Enterprise, through St. the M. E. Church in our town. Rev. Sho-Clairsville, he, apparently, travelling very walter, during his short stay among us, preachrapidly, offering his bogus watches at every ed with great acceptability and usefulness, house along the way, into Dutch Corner, and and was universally esteemed on account of from there into Bedford, where he stopped at the amiability displayed in his intercourse the Washington Hotel, registering his name with the people, and his Christian charity, as M. R. Swartz. On Thursday morning, before the parties in pursuit had discovered his whereabouts, he took the six o'clock coach for Chambersheet The six o'clock coach for for Chambersburg. Telegram's were sent ah ead to put the officers of the law on his track, but when the scoundrel reached Bloody Ruu, he concluded that he would not go any further. He took breakfast at J. P. Weaverling's hotel and immediately after left, on foot. It is supposed that he walked left, on foot. It is supposed that he walked down the Plank-road towards John's Branch, Yours in Christ, where, quite probably, he took the ears. We have not heard of his arrest up to the present | Musical Instruments.—There is a feeling side whiskers, heavy moustache, black frock our citizens.

COLONEL FRANCIS JORDAN.-A corresponthe nomination of Col. Jordan for Governor by the next Union State Convention. He

"It may not be improper that the inquiry, who is to be our next Governor, should now engage the attention of the people.

Although several names have been occasionally spoken of in connection with this office, and different candidates have been somewhat urged by their friends, it has hitherto been deemed injudicious to agitate this question, as it might have distracted attention our advertising to accommodate our best from the questions of great importance involved in the late canvass.

That is successfully over, and the principles are shown to be deeply imbedded in the hearts of the people. They have again manifested tions. that the mere politicians whose influence may have controlled them when the subordinate considerations which shaped parties years ago ere to be passed upon, have no weight when the integrity of the Union was before them that after the Union has been re-cemented with blood, they are not to be deceived into the support of men, who, though now thinly disguised in the garments of patriotism, have just laid aside the polluted clothing in which | self bound by honor and interest to select and they had been assaulting the Government.

. The friends of Col. Francis Jordan, of Bedford county, have supposed that, in all res pects, he would meet the wishes of those who desire that the position in which the late elec tion left this State should be maintained. The interests of the commonwealth would be subserved and advanced under an administration of which he might be the head, and the stand ing which she has had amongst her sisters, in peace and in war, would continue pre-emi-

Col. Jordan is in the maturity of life, being about forty-five years of age, -a lawyer by profession, he has for years held a command ing place at the bar of Bedford and Somerse counties, amongst men of no mean legal acquirements and reputation. He served in the Senate of this State for three years, ending with 1857, and was in the foremost ranks then, which is to be esteemed no small commendation when some of its oth er seats were then filled by Judge Wilkins Charles B. Penrose, and Glenni W. Scofield In the session of 1857, he ably filled the post of Chairman of the Judiciary Committee the most important position next to Speaker stand, a splendid assortment of Dry Goods, Probably to his influence, skill, and exertions more than to that of any other Senator, is du sell ten per cent cheaper than the cheapest. the passage in that body of the bill for the sale of the public works. Private considerations, much to the regret of his constituents and the public, called on him to decline a re-election, and he remained in the practice of his profession until the breaking out of the Southern treason in 1861. Then, without his solicitation or knowledge, he was appointed Paymaster in the army and served with self-denial and fidelity for nearly three years, principally in the South-eastern study.

Upon the solicitation of Gov. Curtin, about two years ago he took charge of the Military Agency of this State at Washington.

How laboriously and successfully he has filled that office, the records of the military department of Pennsylvania and of the United States will show. The gratitude of many a soldier and soldier's widow and mother will testify to the kind attention and sympathy with which their desires have been met in

From the beginning of our struggles with the traitors, Col. Jordan has left no doubt of his unconditional loyalty.

His experience, ability and untiring industry, give assurance that the affairs of state would be skillfully managed under his direction. Even above all these are to be placed a character for high morality and purity-afirm and intelligent integrity, which would secure the Commonwealth against the wiles or assaults of the corrupt.

The memory of none of the eminent men who have occupied the Executive chamber in this Commonwealth, would suffer anything by association with the name of Francis Jordan.

A GRAND THIEF AND SCOUNDREL .- John Hammond, of Sharpsburg, Blair county, was arrested and lodged in jail several weeks ago, on a charge of theft, preferred by Henry Fluck, of Woodberry. Hammond, while on a 'spree rifled the drawer in Fluck's bar-room of a $20 greenback and several bills of a less denomination. An effort was made by coun sel to release him from jail. Esquire Brenneman, by whom he was committed, directed a Liberate to the Sheriff, commanding that officer to deliver the prisoner before him. Deputy Sheriff McCauslin took the prisoner out in obedience to the writ, and bail was entered tor his appearance at the last term of our Court. On the same night Hammond stole the horse upon which Deputy McCauslin had carried him to Woodberry, and lett for parts unknown. He was followed to his home at Sharpsburg, where all trace of him was lest. He next turned up at Freedom, Blair county, where he sold the horse for $30; from there he made his way to the oil regions. where he was discovered and re-arrested. Deputy McCauslin proceded to Franklin. found the bird sately caged, put on him a new set of irons, and returned here, with the clever scoundrel, on last Friday evening, and lodged him in jail for a second time. In the oil regions, we learn, he passed himself off as a United States detective, and succeeded in getting the run of the police, but it didn't save him.
