Broad Top Correspondence.

HELENA, Pa., Jan. 28, 1866. MESSES. EDITORS:-Last evening, the 24th inst., a goodly portion of the people of Broad were permitted, and highly gratified to meet a half can scarcely be better invested. Send ident of the meeting, assisted by a corps of the choice of Mr. Silas Evans, as Sec'y to re port proceedings to the Welsh press, and O. G. Crillis to report to the English press.

This much being done and the process of organization completed, our first pleasure was o listen to the discoursing of a splendid piece of music by the Helena Choir, whose services had been secured for the occasion, under the direction of Mr. Silas Evans. We should not feel justified by omitting to mention in this place, that much credit is due this body of singers, for the admirable manner in which they rendered their several parts, as as a con sequence, adding much to the pleasures of the occasion. After which the President, with a few preliminary remarks, introduced to the audience the oratress of the evening. The speaker after repeating the subject of her led ture, and mentioning its several synonyms touching upon various interesting points i ties as citizens, to the soldier, and no less aptly portraying the duties of the soldiers, to vice of intemperance, and the other sordid cating the erection of some suitable monu ment in every county in our Union, to th memory of our brave soldier dead, either i or lain down his life for his country and his people, plainly and prominently engraved thereon, that in addition to the already made generations shall look upon them, and won der of the great revulsion our country withstood, and the fearless daring of its brave de fenders-and closing with an eloquent tri bute to our country, in view of its greatness, its immense area, and last, but not least, its genuine feeedem. We can, in this connection, do no more than to repeat the expressed sentiment of all, that the subject was well handled. With a splended rendering of 'The Sword of Bunker Hill," by the choir, the meeting adjourned, and the company, fully satisfied, made their way to their respective homes. We must not omit to mention that it is due to our esteemed citizen, Thomas John, Esq., that it was mainly through his enterprise and liberality, that we were permitted to enjoy the rich treat. We can only wish that we all may be witness of many such recurring scenes of pleasure and

NEW YORK TRIBUNE. 1866-

Our most momentous, arduous struggle having esulted in the triumph of American Nationality the utter discomfiture and overthrow of Secession and Slavery, THE TRIBUNE, profoundly rejoicing in this result, will labor to conserve the legitimate fruits of this grand, benignant victory by rendering Liberty and Opportunity the common heri tage of the whole American People now and ever

Discountenancing all unmanly exultation over or needless infliction of pain or privation on the upholders of the lost cause, it will insist on the carliest possible restoration of the Southern States to their former power and influence in our Union on the basis of All Rights for All their People. It will labor in hope to prove that the substitution of Free for Slave Labor must inevitably and universally conduce to the increase of Industry, Thrift, Prosperity and Wealth, so that the South, within the next ten years, must look back amazed on her long persistence in a practice so baleful as the chattelizing of Man.

It will labor for the diffusion of Common School Education, Manufactures, the Useful Arts, &c., &c., throughout every portion of our country, but especially throughout the sections hitherto devoid of them, believing that every good end will thereby be subserved and the interest of every useful and worthy class promoted.

It will urge the Protection of Home Industry. Discountenancing all unuanly exultation over by be subserved and the interest of every useful and worthy class promoted.

It will urge the Protection of Home Industry by discriminating duties on Foreign Products imported, with a view to drawing hither the most capable and skillful artificers and artisans of Europe, and the naturalizing on our soil of many branches of production hitherto all but confined to the Old World, while it would strengthen and extend those which have already a foothold among us.

extend those which have already a loothout among us.

It will give careful attention to progress and improvement in Agriculture, doing its best at once to bring markets to the doors of our farmers and teach them how to make the most of the opportunities thus afforded them.

It will devote constant attention to Markets, especially for Agricultural Products, with intent to save both producer and consumer from being victimized by the speculator and forestaller.

And, giving fair scope to Current Literature, to the proceedings of Congress, and to the general News of the Day, it hopes to retain its old patrons and attract many new to bear them company.

We rarely employ traveling agents, as so many impostors are habitually prowling in the assumed capacity of solicitors for journals. We prefer that our subscribers shall pay their money to persons they know and of whose integrity they are assured. Any friend who believes he will do good by increasing the circulation of the Tribune is authorized to solicit and receive subscriptions. Specimen coyies will be promptly sent without charge to those requiring them, and we trust many friends will be moved to ask their neighbors and acquaintances to join in making up their clubs.
