SANITARY MEASURES. - Now is the time to go to work if we value life, health and comfort during the coming summer. The few days of sunshine have already begun to develop noxious odors from filthy alleys and back yards, that give warning of what is in store for us if we do not promptly go to work our town last autumn was the result, in great part, of the filthy condition of the streets and the town generally. The borough officers seemed to be entirely indifferent and are so still. Te-day is the election let the people elect men who will not only attend to this but to the many other duties that have been grossly neglected heretofore. Not only are our streets at present in an unpardonably filthy condition, but there are scores of back vards and allevs which in the next few months. inless speedily and thorougly cleansed, will be nost every man, woman and child will be reeking with noisome smells and noxious vapors and which, in spite of our pure moun benefitted by it. With these truths staring us tain air, when fugitives from cholera in the n the face our Representatives allow this subtle monopoly to diddle away three years cities shall crowd our town in the summer, will at a time to gratify the inordinate avarice of be a pressing invitation to that dire pestilence to visit us in our mountain homes. In this as time that the people of this district aroused in many other matters an ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure. Let us have an early and thorough cleaning up of streets, alleys, back-yards, sinks, water courses, &c. and we will be secure even from the fear of cholera or any other epidemic.

The Grand Jury at February Term, 1866, respectfully submit the following report: After a careful inspection of the Poor House of the county aforesaid, We are ef the opinion that the Building in which the paupers are kept is in a very bad condition and totally unfit for the purpose for which it is intended, because the house in addition to the decay seems to be too small for the comfortable quartering of the paupers and way-farers that continually crowd it. It would doubtless be beneficial to the poor (as it is essentially necessary that another house should be provided) and also to the taxpayers to have a location remote from the Borough of Bedford and the turnpike. A Poor House whether it is to be brick or not, and not only this, but in consequence of the filthy condition which the house always seems to be in, is a very excellent source for Epidemics which would spread with great rapidity over this entire community.

All of which is respectfully submitted this Fourteenth day of February, 1866

The Rear wall of the Jail Building on the outside is being much injured in consequence of the

The Lecture by Rev. Barrow, on Tuesday of lectures, there are still many who have Governor will veto it, but we have reason though they would be both entertained and

viously without any opposition. Part of the second section of this bill reads thus: "That so much of the said act incorporating the said Connellsville and Southern Pennsylvania railway company as limit the time for the con struction of the main line of their road to three years from the passage thereof be and the same is hereby repealed, and that THE TIME FOR COMMENCEMENT OF THE CONSTRUC TION THEREOF SHALL BE EXTENDED FOR THREE TEARS FROM THE PASSAGE OF THIS ACT. This is what we have been expecting for ometime, so that it does not take us by surorise; but we must confess that we are surprised that two Representatives, sent especi ally to Harrisburg to guard the immediate terest of the counties of Somerset, Bedford and Fulton, should allow a measure of such vital importance to their constituents to pass without a word of opposition or evena protest. Every intelligent man in the district knows hat the Pennsylvania Central was charged with seeking the charter of the Southern Pennsylvania for the express purpose of occupying the ground and keeping other parties rom putting down an opposition read. So ormidable was the opposition to the scheme that it was only passed by embodying a proviso in the bill that the company must organize in ninty days and complete the main line of road in three years. This was a compromise, a stoop to conquer, and having succeeded in getting the charter so much desired the Pennsylvania Central comes back to the body that placed it under obligations to fulfil its conract within a specified time, when the greaer portion of that time has expired, and asks the same body to give it as much more time o commence the construction as it before stipulated to complete itin. Glaring and rascally as this proposition is two representatives well acquainted with the suspicions of their onstituents in regard to the good faith of ence of the Postmaster. We here say that no legislation could affect the people of this representative district more than this bill. At least eighty miles of this road will run through the heart of these counties, entering the eastern border of Fulton and going out on the western line of Somerset, thus directly nter esting ninetenth of the entire populaion. Its construction will dispense millions of money to the citizens of the district and al-

> have the ability and the decision of character o stand up and defend our interest. No section of Pennsylvania to-day, has greater nterests at stake than Southern Pennsylvania and it is high time that these interests were properly taken care of. If the Southern Penna. harter were out of the way to-morrow not less than half or dozen companies, composed of the heaviest capitalist in the land, would compete for the route but here we are ied up like Parhasius to the cold rocks of Mount Caucasus, with the vultures devouring at our vitals, unable to resist, or to break the fetters that bind us. It is due to Mr. Householder to say that he is making every preparation to meet the issue in the Senate. He has drawn up the follow ing substitute for the Section ab ove quoted:

"Section 2. That so much of the said article incorporating the said Connellsville and Sou hern Pennsylvania railway company as limits the time for the construction of the main e of this road in three years from the passage thereof be and the same is hereby ex. tended for the period of five years, provided, that portion of the main line situated between Mount Dallas and Buffalo Run, in the county of Bedford, be placed under contract within one year from and after the passage of this We do not expect that this amendment will prevail. All the Pennsylvania Railroad will have to do will be to raise a dust and those who do its work, however dirty, will come to with out a jar in the music of Legislation. If the bill becomes a law we earnestly hope the

to expect the worst. LEASE OF THE BROAD TOP RAILROAD .- A rumor has been floating about our streets for the last few weeks in regard to the lease of the Broad Top Railroad by the Pennsylvania a good example for others. Let us have a Railroad company. We have made diligent inquiry in regard to the matter, and find that otiations are pending between the respec tive Companies, for this purpose. The only obstacle, which has, thus far prevented the consummation of the design has been the rolling stock of the road. The Central Com pany does not manifest a willing to take the rolling stock belonging to the Broad Top Company. But we do not see how this can obviate the contemplated lease, as the stock is certainly not of so much value as to interfere with a project of so much import ance to the stockholders of the Broad Top

Company. We have very little sympathy for the Central road, nevertheless, we hope this change will be promptly made, as the Broad Top road requires regeneration. Sequel to the Moore Marbourg Affair.— Joseph Moore, the man who killed Marbourg some two years ago at Johnstown for improper intimacy with his wife, for which crime he was tried and sentenced to six years imprisonment, but was afterwards pardoned, has turned up again. It will be remembered that after his restoration to freedom, he hastened to again embrace his wife, who was the guilty to a commission as a Second Lieutenant in one of the colored Regiments. Instead of a Second Lieutenancy, contrary to his expectations, he received a Captain's commission. Since then he has participated in many battless with his troops. Before Petersburg he received a severe wound in the left arm which crippled him for life. We predict for him a brilliant success in his new position. There lives no more earnest friend of the downtrodden negro than Captain Frank Holsinger. J. S. Trait, Decatur, Illinois.
