GOOD ADVICE. - When a wife advises her husband to get a "Photograph Family Record" the first opportunity, he should do it for it is good advice. The fifth Lecture of the series for the benefit of the Cemetery Association will be delivered on next Tuesday evening by Dr. C. N. Hickok, subject: "Bedford and Bedford Life." We predict a cowded house. Spring Elections.—The election passed off very quietly throughout the county on last Friday. A very small vote was polled. The Copperheads, as a general thing, made more of an effort than the Republicans. We have not learned the result in half the county.

When eer I take my walks abroad, How many folks I see, Who dont know half that's going on, It seems so queer to me. The muse he says has said before BOUNTY LAND .- The House Committee, to whom the subject of an equalization of Boun ties was referred in Congress, has reported; bill granting Bounty lands to soldiers. bill proposes to give 600 acres of land for the greatest length of service and graduating the amount down to those who were in the Uni ted States Service for three months. Th Committee are unanimous in favor of the passage of the Bill.

The General Fish bill passed the House some weeks ago by a decisive vote whether it has passed the Senate we are unable to say. If it has not it will. It is a ques tion after the bill becomes a Law whether the different companies obstructing the streams will quietly obey its provisions. It is thought by many that their vested rights cannot be taken from them in which opinion we concur. However we hope some compromise will be effected, that will remove all obstocles to the speedy opening of all the tributaries in RARE GAME. -On the 20th inst our friend Wood Alsip and Wm. Hartzell killed two fine white swani in the vicinity of the town the one measuring 7 feet 2 inches from tip to tip of the wings and the other 7 fee: 5 inches They had come dome into the river during the foggy weather attending the equinoctial storm We since learn that five others have been captured by various parties along the river. Some days ago E. M. Alsip, Esq., killed five wild geese within a few miles of the town. Such extensive captures of these rare birds have not occured for a long time in this neighborhood.

THE LAST DAYS OF WINTER.—The weather has been playing some queer pranks during the past week. From mild and spring-like on Thursday it suddenly changed to cold and stormy, and Friday and Saturday would have done credit to the stormiest days of mid-winter. Sunday was cold, Monday we had snow enough to bring out a few sleighs and sleds, Tuesday we had cold rain, and thanks to our borough regulations, a delightful slush of two or three inches of snow, mud and water. On Tuesday night mid a war of elements-rain, hail, rolling thunder and vivid lightning Old ferer. Winter passed away. Vale Hieme! Though grateful for the many happy hours thou hast afforded to old and young, in the social circle, following the swift steed and merry bells o'er white expanse of snow, or gliding smoothly o'er the glassy bosom of the blue Juniata, still we bid thee farewell without a tear and gladly turn to greet thy smiling neighbor, Spring.

SOUTHERN PENNSYLVANIA AND CONNELLS-VILLE RAILROAD. -The border counties, through which this road is expected to pass, have been fully aroused within the last week in relation to the contemplated extension of the time for the construction of this great improvement. Up to the present writing we have not heard 17th to the 28d inst. in getting from Houston, the fate of the bill before the Senate alluded a distance of only 80 miles. The difficulty of to by us in our last. Its friends have manifestly not pushed it, whether they cannot count a sufficient number of votes to pass it, we cannot say, but it strikes us that this cannot be the reason. We have seen so much wild legislation in favor of the Central Railroad that we cannot for a moment hesitate to accord them a majority sufficient to pass any thing they may demand. If the Central Railroad insists upon a continuation of the selfish policy which has characterised it for the last five years, it will find the people rising in their might and placing their emphatic condemnation upon such burdensome and selfish monopolis. If the question of a Free Railway System were submitted to the people of this Representative district, there would not be a orporal's guard against the proposition outde of those in the employ of the railroad. And the conduct of the Central Company is rapidly driving the people to this last alternaive and when the masses once move, woe unto nim who stands in the way of the sovereigns

The people in this county, and all along the contemplated line of the road, should hold eetings without delay and express thems elves upon the subject, and forward their ac tion to the Senate, if not in time for the ac tion of that body, in time at least to make an impression on the Governor and induce him to withhold his signature and return the oill to the House, where it originated, with nis objections. Let us realize now that if we allow the Central Company to pass this bill and the bill to become a law, that we are ied up for the next ten years, that the mil ions of money, which would be expended in he construction and the stocking of the road will not be expended, that the benefit which would be diffused to every individual by the expenditures of so much money on the line, will not be experienced; that property which would be enhanced in value beyond conjecture will not be advanced but recede; that our mineral resources will not be developed; that the villages and towns which always follow railways, will not be built, and consequently the value of the products of the farm and the dairy will not be in demand, that all the advantages of a heavy population will no be reaped, and the railway, which all so much desire, will not be built. Then in the name of Justice, let our people act. Overwhelm ur Representatives and Senators at the cap tol with your letters and petitions. Recollect that millions are at stake. Remember that

THE LADY'S FRIEND FOR APRIL. -- In the steel plate for this number, "Waking," we find the usual superiority maintained by this magazine, for exquisite naturalness and high artistic finish. It is a sweet heart-picture o waking endearments between mother and child; the clear sunrise streaming through the broidering vines about the lattice and lighting up the scene-morning light and morning life, both pure, both fragrant with the breath of heaven. The fashion plate is as unsurpassed. We sometimes wonder how it is that the publishers invariably secure this point. Even when the same artists have been at work there seems to be an unconscious favoritism that reserves for The Lady's Friend their best efforts and most signal suc cesses. Very appropriately in this April number the children, spring buds of men and women, have it all to themselves, and an un commonly pretty, graceful group they make The wood cut illustrating "The Forsaker Wife" is full of tragic pathos; a winter scene dreary and desolate as the heart of the sui

Ex-rebel mayors in southern cities, and secesh governors in northern States are evidently not to his liking.—Harrisburg Teledently not to his liking .- Harrisburg TeleTexas Correspondence. BEUMONT, Texas, Feb. 28, 1866.

Messrs Editors-I have arrived at my destination and established my head quarters I had some difficulty in getting here, owing to recent heavy rains. In fact, I was from the repairing the road was not so great. On one of our northern roads all the damage would have been repaired in six hours, but wher there is such lethargy as among this people the traveling public will be thus inconvenier ced. There is no enterprise among them of any kind, now that their trade of Negro-breed ing has ceased. I am still of the opinio that the citizens (white) of this State, bear us or the Union no love, and that should there be any chance of a successful revolt they would go heartily into it. There is not a day but we are insulted by their making such re marks as that "we are not whipped," "we wont patronize the North," "we have no sympathy with the d-d Yankee Abolition Government." These, and in some cases worse remarks are indulged in. Here let m give you a little anecdote, happening m while at Liberty, midway between this and Houston. Owing to a break in the Railroad, four miles from the former place, the conductor informed us "of his inability to go on but that all the passengers that desired could do so on the hand-car"-there not being more than a dozen. Among the number was a very interesting young widow traveling alone and as we had to walk a fourth of a mile of more, I, of course, offered to relieve her of a traveling bag, which she was very willing to trust in my charge. Arriving at the hote we called for supper, after which the Landlord busied himself (being much crowded) in making his guests as comfortable as possible. On his distribution of quarters I was astonished at being booked for the same coom as my travelling companion, at which being exceedingly bashful) I demurred when I was informed that "great effort had been made to do the best possible for me. Other quarters were provided, and the nex day in conversation with my companion, she gave me her conversation with the landlady who was anxious to know our status. "Are you not," she asked, "the wife of the Cant?" 'Oh, no!" said my companion. "How the does it come that you travel together and seem such good friends?" My companion replied. "I am a resident and widow of Beu nont, having lost my husband in the rebel service; I was travelling alone, and do not know what I should have done, but for the kindness of the Captain, as I have already been four days on the road, and have been quite sick. I am sure I should not have been able to get home, but for his services." am surprised and shocked," said the landlady, "that any Southern lady would degrade herself so much, under any circumstances, as to accept the services of a Yankee officer, that for myself, I would sooner accept the services of a big buck nigger." This is perfectly true, and I don't doubt it, neither would I envy the happy darky his good for tune. This is the greatest place for widows I ever was in; there being not less than 35 (white) out of a population of less than 600, to say nothing of perhaps and equal number of colored. I know of no place where the narriage obligation is so little respected as nere. I was informed by Mr. Armstrong (a former lawyer, but who now, that he has only 75,000 acres of land, has gone to farming, that before the war he knew of as many as 45 petitions on the docket for divorce at one trouble. As to the "Freedmen," I find them much petter contented, and by far more industrious than I expected. The Houston Telegraph (a paper purely Southern) quotes from 19 other Texas papers, 18 of which acknowledge that "the Freedmen, do much better than was expected, by the most credulous of their friends.'

On my arrival here, I was instructed by Gen. Gregory to make an effort to raise a school for colored children, which I did, and at a mere suggestion on Sabbath last, after church, no less than 83 scholars were subscribed in less than 15 minutes. Teachers can be had in abundance from the North. The matter meets with no favor here, and some have even gone so far as to threaten any and all persons, interested in the matter. No danger of that! "Barking dogs don't bite." As for ignorance, I never saw a lo cality equal to this. Of the young ladies that I have met, none can more than read, and I have been assured that not more than two families have ever sent their daughters away to school, from this neighborhood. On my arrival here, I found our friends, the Methodists, at work, striving to awaken an interest, for good, among the people, (and they need it,) as I heard the minister say, from the pulpit, on last night, that "he had made particular inquiry of the oldest citizens of the place, and that he had failed to learn that there had been a single conversion in the town of Beumont for the space of twenty-five years." It is to hoped that an inroad has been made into "Satan's kingdom," as the same night, the door of the church was open ed, and one member admitted, whom the minister exhorted, that "it would be difficult to walk aright, now that he was the only young Christian in the place."

These, Messrs. Editors, are our Southern brethren, who so long lorded it over us "mud sills." Another thing I must not omit: that there is but one laboring young man in the place, and he has not a friend among the rest, why, I do not know, unless that he is a 'greasy mechanic." Their young men have certain peculiarities, such as wearing their old gray uniforms, (which are very small and dirty,) wear very long hair, loa around the saloons, gamble on a small scale get drunk, "dama the Yankees and Abolitioners" a good deal, ditto "Niggers" and a great many other qualifications, so that our boys have given them the sobriquet of "be Jesus fellows," (their favorite oath.) I neglected to say that many of the women chew obacco, also sweet gum, similar to that which oozes from the pine tree. This seems the favorite amusement of the girls in church. In fact, I have seen them eat sweet-meats during services, without endeavoring to hide it in the least, and that too, the very pretti est and best dressed of the number. Hoops are almost entirely unknown, and as the best have little clothing they present a strong con

I called upon a widow to-day to secure board for my expected school marms, and was very cooly informed that "I and them, might be better employed, that "she would have nothing to do with such people, that they werrent decent," etc. I informed her | March 16.

that I did not think, it necessary for laboring people to be as she represented, that it was no disgrace to labor, but I failed to convince her. Yet she was a widow (made so by the war) with two children without any risible means (other than the needle) of support and dependent on the U.S. soldiers stationed here. Her room was little more than barn -not a particle of carpeting, the walls pine boards, no paint any where, two little sands, no stove and tour rude chairs, completel this good ladies luxurious comfort, who sould sneer at northern "servant girls" and "shoo

I will here say for the benefit of the young "sprigs of the law" that there is no letter place than this. The health is good, and not a single lawyer worthy the name in the coun ty and scarcely in my whole district, which embraces the seven counties adjacent. The oil prospect is represented as good. I have not visited the springs as yet. Will to so as soon as possible and give you the particulars. Yours,

To the Honorable Judges of the Court of Quarter Session of Bedford county, Pa. The Grand Jury at February Term, 1866, respectfully submit the following report: After a careful inspection of the Poor House of the county aforesaid. We are of the opinion that the Building in which the paupers are kept is in a very bad condition and totally unfit for the purpose for which it is intended, because the horse in addition to the dec_y seems to be too small for the comfortable quartering of the paupers and way-farers that continually crowd it. It would doubtless be beneficial to the poor (as it is essentially necessary that another house should be provided) and also to the taxpayers to have a location renecessary that another noise should be provided, and also to the taxpayers to have a location remote from the Borough of Bedford and the turnpike. A Poor House whether it is to be brick or not, and not only this, but in consequence of the filthy condition which the house always seems to be in, is a very excellent source for Epidemics which would spread with great rapidity over this entire community.

All of which is respectfully submitted this courteenth day of February, 1866

The Locks and Keys in our opinion are insufficient for the safe keeping of Prisoners.
The Rooms also appear to be detrimental to the health of the prisoners on account of the existence of an offensive smell, insufficient, and dirty Bed clothing, and torn chaff ticks.
The Rear wall of the Jail Euilding on the outside is being much injured in consequence of the bad condition of the spouting, the wall receiving water from the roof, rendering it measurably easy for prisoners breaking through and effecting their escape.

It is also noticed that one Room is used for smoking Bacon. Rendering it extremely danger-ous from fire.

A Coal house is also situated against the wall of the Jail building in the rear yard, and other rub-
