CAMPAIGN INQUIRER

The INQUIRER will be issued as a cam aign paper from and after the 1st of July to he 12th of October, 1866, to accommodate those who are not regular subscribers.

The importance of the campaign should this production:

Man, the child of circumstance, was a wanderer from his home influences. He was a stranger among ctrangers. He was lonely, heart-sick and weary. He was lonely, heart-sick and weary. He was destitute and dyling. He saw around him on every side, those whose forms and faces bore the impress of the same creative power—the marks of the same handiwork. They were his brothers. Did they recegnize the fraternal claim? Did their common humanity impel them to pause, that they might cheer the lonely one; that they might nake glid the heart of the described in his deserters voted to make this majority. Since then the bill disfranchising deserters has become a law and they will be excluded from the marks of the same creative power—the marks of the same creative power—the marks of the same knallwork. They were his brothers. Did they recegnize the fraternal claim? Did their common humanity impel them to pause, that they might cheer the lonely one; that they might comfort the dying? Alas' no! "The Priest and the Levite passed by on the other side" and left the stranger one to go on in his lone influences. He was a stranger among ctrangers. He was lonely, heart-sick and weary. He was destitute and dy-late the way. He vas destitute and dy-late the falle by the way. He vas destitute and dy-late him to make the way. He was destitute and dy-late him the way. He vas destitute timulate the Republican party to place the come a law and they will be excluded from the multitude?

I regret very much that in the trial of this issue, I have not had the assistance of Geary Club.—Pursuant to notice, a number of our citizens met in the Court House on Saturday evening last, for the formation of Court of the court of Saturday evening last, for the formation of a Geary Club. The meeting was organized by the appointment of Hon. S. L. Russell, as Chairman, and Wm. G. Riffle and M. A. Points, as Secretaries. sign under a provision of the Constitution, became a law on the 19th of August of the same year, repealed the charter of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company. That law this Court declared to be unconstisutional, being a law impairing the obligation of a contract which the State of Pennsylvania made with a corporation and which is in violation of the Constitution of the University of the Universit is in violation of the Constitution of the Uni is in violation of the Constitution of the Cur-ted States. As there was a writ of quover-ranto at the instance of the Attorney Gen-eral of the State pending in the Supreme Court, we deemed it due to the parties litigating, as well as a proper courtesy to that high court that an opportunity should be af-forded to the law officer of the Common-wealth to inquire in that tribunal whether the weath to laquire in that triounal whether the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad Company had misused or abused its corporate franchises. Ample time was allowed for that purpose and no further proceedings having been taken by the Attorney General this Court directed an issue to try the question of fact.

You have listened for many days to the testimony on both sides given by respectable tand intelligent witnesses and to able and distinguished counsel who have exerted their power to illustrate the details in evidence and it now becomes the daty of the court briefly to explain the principle of law applicable to the case. Upon your yegliet Col. Francis Jordan, Chairman of the Union State Central Committee, being present was then invited to address the Club. The Colonel responded in a very neat felicitions speech and gave assurance, by his earnest eampaign with that zeal for which he is so justly distinguished.

On motion, the Hon. John Cessna was selected as the speaker at the next meeting, which will be on Saturday, July the 14th inst. The Union Republican Brass Band of Bedford was in attendance and enlivened the occasion with its choicest music.

The Fourth at Woodberry by the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, under the auspices of Cove Lodge, No. 538. Large delegations of the fraternity from Martinsburg, Blair county and from Bedford, uniting with them.

The entire affair in all its detail was a complete success. A falling shower of rain complete success. A falling shower of rain complete the exercises were intended to have been held to a Church in the town, but did not in the least mar the enthusiasm of the cocasion.

Addresses were delivered by Dr. C. N. Hickok, Prof. Schaffer, Rev. Dr. Clark, Rev. John H. Wilkinson, Rev. Cooper, and Rev. The state of Pennsylvaria. There can be no abuse or misuse without a positive act of malter and that no pround has been shown for a decree that it be cancelled or annulled.

Fourth. That the memorandum of agreement made the 31st of October, 1860, agreement made t Hickok, Prof. Schaffer, Rev. Dr. Clark, Rev. John H. Wilkinson, Rev. Cooper, and Rev, A. W. Decker. The regular oration was delivered by Dr. Hickok, which was one of the finest pieces of oratory and logo that it has perate privileges by a company. Abuse in-cludes misuse. We take them both togethcludes misuse. We take them both togeth-er, and define them thus: any positive act in violation of the charter and in derogation of public right wilfully done or caused to be done, by those appointed to manage the general concerns of the corporation. Such is the definition of misuse or abuse, adopted

Is the definition of misuse or abuse, adopted by the court and you will apply it to the facts given in evidence accordingly.

As to the sixteen points submitted by the learned and able counsel for the respondents as well as the two by those of the complainants, I disraise them and in the usually emphatic language of any brother Grier, I decline to answer such a catechism, except as to the sixteenth point made by respondent and the two points made by complainants counsel. I answer distinctive that under ants counsel. I answer distinctly that under the act of the 18th of April, 1853, the Pitts-burgh and Connellsville Railroad Company have the right to make their road to the Maryland line, and to connect there with any road authorized by the State of Mary-land.

The case now on trial is one of great na-tional importance. It was not the design of the wise framers of the Constitution, nor then the bill distranchising deserters has become a law and they will be excluded from voting at the next election. This gives the Republican party a majority of a few votes. Now then is the time to wrench the political ascendency from the party which, as a body, has so terribly abused its power in this county for the last four years, and to accomplish this much desired result the Inquirer will abor earnestly and deal most vigorous blows. Every Union Man in the Couaty, without an exception, should have a Copy. Let our friends see that this is the case. A little exertion will do it.

The Inquirer will be sent one vear, for the mutitude?

Then the spirit of Odd-Fellowship, like a beautiff I angel vision appeared, and with her magic wand toucked the scene, with the mutitude?

Then the spirit of Odd-Fellowship, like a beautiff I angel vision appeared, and with her magic wand toucked the scene, and all was changed. It seems too much like the European system of visiting passports at the dividing line of every petty monarchical principality. The propriety and necessity of this very road has been recently agitated in Congress and a bill looking to its early construction has passed its popular branch. It should be made placing as it will the fertile fields of the great West and the Lakes in direct communication with the seat of the

The Jury after an absence of ten minutes, returned a verdict in accordance with the above charge.

RENDITION OF ANOTHER JUDI-CIAL DECISION IN REGARD TO THE ATLANTIC AND GREAT WES-TERN RAILWAY CASE.

Difference in Guage no Good Reason for declaring that a Connexion Can-not Exist.

Information and suggestion in nature of Chief Justice Woodward pronounced the following decision per curiam:

The case having been fully argued and considered, we are of opinion—

First. That the instrument caned a certificate of consolidation of the Atlantic and great Western Railway Company, date 119th of August, 1865, was a lawful and valid instrument for the purposes therein expressed, and upon being filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, constituted the defendants a legal corporation in the State of Pennsylvania.

Second. That nul teil record is well replied to by the defendants' pleas, and the demurrer to the replication must be overruled. But the defendants have leave to rejoin that there is such a record with prout patet record.

Third. If, in support of such rejoinder, the defendants shall produce the contract of agreement and act of consolidation set forth in answer to the over craved by the Attorney General, with the evidence that the same was deposited with the Secretary of State in his office, on the third day of October, 1865, the opinion of this Court will be that the defendants have fully complied with the remisements of law in respect to said the requirements of law in respect to said instrument; that it became then and there the duty of the Secretary of the Common-wealth to file the same of record; that as agents of the Commonwealth, the legal presumption must be that the secretary formed his duty, and filed the same of formed his duty, and filed the same of rec-ord, and that it remained and still remains of record in his office, and judgement will occordingly be entered for the defendants upon inspection of the instrument and such proof. If, in the opinion of counsel, any endorsement of the date of filing by the secretary be necessary, a mandamus would lie to command him to add the appropriate date, and to perform every other necessary act in the premises. act in the premises.

OPINION OF CHIEF JUSTICE WOODWARD. The Philadelphia and Eric Railroad Company and the Pennsylvania Railroad Company vs. The Catawissa Railroad Com-pany and the Western Central Railroad Company of Pennsylvania, and the Atlan-tic and Great Western Railway Company of the States of Ohio, New York and Pennsylvania.

Andrew Scott vs. the same defendants. Two bills in equity, on appeal from the lecree of the Court of Nisi Prius of Philadelphia, sitting in equity. Woodward, C. J. An opinion will be filed in the above cases, at the next term of this court, to be held at Pittsburg on the third Monday of October next in which the following conclusions will be explained and justified:

said roads.

Wherefore it is now, this 29th day of June, A. D. 1866, considered, ajudged and decreed, that the decrees made in the above cases at Nisi Prius be reversed, set aside and taken for nought; and it is here decreed that each or said plaintiffs' bills be dismissed, at the costs of the plaintiffs respectively.

DISSENTING OPINION OF JUSTICE READ.
The Philadelphia and Eric Railroad Company et al vs. The Catawissa Railroad Company et al.
Andrew Scott vs. the same.

Eastern District of Pennsylvania. Appeal from decree of Nisi Prius.

Read, J.—In my opinion at Nisi Prius, I said: "The real question in this case is whether the railroads of the Atlantic and Great West rn Railway Company and the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company are connecting reads within the rhiadelphia and Erie Railroad Company are connecting roads within the meaning of the acts af Assembly of the 13th of March 1847, the 29th of March 1859, and the 23d of April, 1861—for if they are such connecting roads, the first named road is connected by means of an intervening railroad with the Catawissa railroad, with the road of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad Company.

I believed the true construction of thes acts required that connexion to be a mechanical connexion, so that the cars and locomotives of the one road could run over the other, thus preventing a break of gauge, which the uniform experience of England and America has proved to be highly injurious both to freight and passezger traffic. A careful study of railroad history had so impressed the extent of this cvil upon my mind, that I believed the words, the spirit and the policy of these acts required such a construction. My brethren think differently, and they regard the convexion meant as ly, and they regard the connexion meant as simply a business one. This rules the case, and all other questions become entirely immaterial, for whether the consolidation of and all other questions become entirely immaterial, for whether the consolidation of the the Ohio, Pennsylvania and New York companies was legal or not, still there was a Pennsylvania road, under a charter from the State, with a business connection at Corry, and neither the plaintiff nor any one else had a right to apply to a court of equity to restrain the execution of a lawful contract. The policy of avoiding a break of guage is proved by the stipulations of the Philadelphia and Reading contract; and, since the argument before me, the road from Elmira to Canandaigna has had its gauge changed four feet eight and a half inches forming, with New York Pennsylvania and Maryland roads a continuous land route, with one uniform gauge, from the Niagra to Washington city. Still further; since the commencement of this court the Morris and Essex—one of the roads to be used in the contemplated route to New York—has changed its gauge to a uniform gauge of four feet eight and a half inches (the narrow gauge), so as to connect mechanically with the Pennsylvania road at Easten row gauge), so as to connect mechar with the Pennsylvania road at Easton. I dissent from the decree just filed.

MAMPAIGNS OF THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

BY WILLIAM SWINTON. Standard History of the Grand Army. THE GREATEST WORK ON THE WAR.

THE GREATEST WORK ON THE WAR.

Universally endorsed by army officers and the press. The author says:

"I design in this volume to record what that Army did and suffered in ten "sumpaigns and two score battles."

"I shall have to celebrate the unswerving loyalty of this army, 'that off times when the bond of military codesion failed held it, unshaken of for tune, to a duty self-imposed."

"I shall have to follow it through a checkered experience, in a tale commingled of great misfortunes, great follies and great glories; but from first to last it will appear that, unid many buffets of fortune, through "winter and rough weather," the Army of the Potomac never gave up, but made a good fight, and finally reached the goal."

The Army and Navy Journal rays:

"This is the only history of the "Grand Army," and no one who has borne a part in its conflicts, or is interested in its grand achievements, should be without it.

be without it.
