Address to the People of the South.

WASHINGTON, July 11.—The following is a call for a convention of Southern Union-ists, to be held at Independence Hall, in the city of Philadelphia on the first Monday of September, 1866. To the Loyal Unionists of the South. The great issue is upon us. The majority in Congress and its supporters, firmly declare that the rights of the citizens enumerated in the Constitution and established by the supreme law, must be maintained invidate. supreme law, must be maintained inviolate. Robels and robel sympathizers assert the the rights of the citizens must belong to the States alone and under such regulations as the respective States choose voluntarily to the respective States choose voluntarily to prescribe. We have seen this doctrine of State Sovereignty carried out in its practi-cal results until all authority in Congress was denied the Union temporarily destroyed the constitutional rights of the South nearly annihilated, and the land desolated by civil war. The time has come when the Strue-ture of the State governments must be laid on Constitutional principles, or the despot-ism grown up under an atrocions leadership be permitted to remain. We know of no other plan that Congress under its be permitted to remain. We know of no other plan than that Congress under its Constitutional power shall now exercise its authority to establish the principle whereby authority to establish the principle whereby protection is made on extensive with citizen-ship. We maintain that no State, either by its organic law or legislation, can make transgression on the rights of the citizen legitimate. We demand and ask you to concur in demanding protection to every citizen of the great Republic on the basis of caractive before the law and for the the equality before the law and further that no State Government should be recognized as legitimate under the Constitution in an article as it does not by its organic law make impar-tial protection full and complete. Under the doctrine of State sovereignty, with rebeis in the foreground controlling Southern legislathe foreground controlling Southern legisla-tures, and embittered by disappointment in their schemes to destroy the Union there will be no safety for the loyal element of the South. Our reliance for protection is now on Congress, and the great Union party that has stood and is standing by the nationality by the constitutional rights of the citizen, and her the back for the scheme of the state. and by the beneficient principles of free government. For the purpose of bringing the loyal Unionists of the South into conjuc-tive action with the true friends of republican government of the North, we invite you to send delegates in goodly numbers from to send delegates in goodly humbers from all the Southern States, including the States of Missouri, Kentucky, West Virginia, Maryland and Delaware, to meet at Inde-pendence Hall in the city of Philadelphia, on the first Moaday of September next. The most illustrious names in the empire are among the dead and wounded. The King of Prussia is in camp, and the Emperor of Austria is not very far from Benedek's head-quarters. Let there, then, be at Pardubitz or at Olmuzz such an interview as there was after Austerlitz and after Solferino.
Garibaldi on the 3d of July attacked the Austrians at Monte Suello. The latter made a strong resistance and the Italians fell baek in good order. Garibaldi was slightly wounded in the thigh. The ammunition of the Italians was rendered caseless by a heavy rain. The Bavarians attacked the Prussian outposts at Barefield. There were slight losses on both sides.
Intense enthusiasm prevailed at Berlin when the Prussian victories were announced with salvos of artillery.

Hiester Clymer indeed! And why should he have been thus honored? Is it because, of his vote against increased pay to the sol-diers? his votes in favor of disfranchising the soldiers in the field or his steadfast op-conting throughout the way to operation. some plain statements of the nature of Southern loyalty which people who have read President Johnson's and Secretary read President Johnson's and Secretary Seward's inculcations on that subject, will do well to peruse. It says: "The men who took these oaths and who became citizens of the United States, and who have been obedient and faithful and loyal to the laws are not at heart friends of the Government of which they are subjects the soldiers in the held of his steadast op-position throughout the war to every patriot-ic measure in which the brave soldiers of the Commonwealth were interested? Had the Committee of Arrangements placed Clymer in that line of battle scarred yeterans, every soldier would have resented it as the Government of which they are subjects. They were defeated by the United States in
