

Bedford Inquirer.

BEDFORD, PA., FRIDAY, JULY 27, 1866.

CAMPAIGN INQUIRER

The INQUIRER will be issued as a campaign paper from and after the 1st of July to the 12th of October, 1866, to accommodate those who are not regular subscribers.

The importance of the campaign should stimulate the Republican party to place the INQUIRER in the hands of every friend of Republican principles in this county. The canvass will not only be important in view of the election of a Governor, but it will be recalled that a member of Congress, Senator, two Representatives, and a full county ticket from Prohibitory down to Auditor are to be elected. Every member of the Republican party should be alive to the necessity of promptly distributing healthy reading matter among the masses. Bedford county must be carried against Copperheadism at the coming election. We were only beaten on an average from 130 to 140 last fall. At least 100 deserters voted this majority. Since then the bill disfranchising deserters has become a law and they will be excluded from voting at the next election. This gives the Republican party a majority of a few votes. Now then is the time to wrench the political ascendancy from the party which, as a body, has so terribly abused its power in this county for the last four years, and to accomplish this much desired result the INQUIRER will labor earnestly and deal most vigorous blows. Every Union Man in the County, without an exception, should have a copy. Let our friends see that this is the case. A little exertion will do it.

REGULAR TERMS:
The INQUIRER will be sent, one year, for $2.00, if paid in advance; $2.50 if not paid within six months, and $3.00 if not paid within the year.

The Campaign Inquirer

Will be sent to subscribers at the following remarkably low rates:

1 copy, in advance	50 cents
10 copies	4.50
20 "	8.00
30 "	10.50
100 "	30.00

Additions to the clubs may be made at any time at the same rates.

Money may be forwarded by mail at our risk, where drafts or post-office orders, payable to our order, cannot be obtained.

Specimen copies sent free.

Address, DURBORROW & LUTZ, Publishers, Bedford, Pa.

REV. S. S. SCHMUCKER, D. D., of Gettysburg, will preach in the Lutheran church on Sunday morning next, the 27th inst., at half past ten o'clock A. M.

ATTENTION, members of the Juniata Base Ball Club.—Those in arrears for monthly dues of initiation fees are requested to pay the same, before the next monthly meeting.

J. L. LEWIS, Treasurer.

We learn from private sources, which we believe to be reliable, that the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Company have put three hundred hands to work on the Sand Patch Tunnel. It is also reported that the Turkeyfoot Division of this road will be put under contract within the next month.

The Post Master General has established a daily mail route from Cove Station, on the Huntingdon and Broad Top Railroad, to Martinsburg. If a bag were kept at the Bedford office for this station, and the connections were promptly made, our papers for Woodbury and Pattonville could be made to reach their readers at least from eight to twelve hours earlier than they now do. A post office has been established at Frederickburg.

MISSING.—On the 4th of July, Josiah Shaffer left his home near Hamilton Station, on the H. & T. R. R., for Bloody Run. He was seen in Bloody Run on the 4th of July, but since that time his family have heard nothing of him. He sometimes was attacked with peculiar fits. He was thirty years of age, about 5 feet 8 inches high, and rather dark complexion. He had on when he left home black pants, linen coat, fine shirt, paper collar, with neck tie of blue, yellow and white. His friends are much concerned for him.

DROWNED.—A young man named Amos Johnson, an orphan, from Bedford, was drowned in Sully's mill-race in Richland township, this county, on Monday last week. He went into the water beyond his depth and could not swim. He recently resided with an aunt near Altoona. Johnstown Tribune.

NEWS. George W. Blackburn, Esq., of New Paris, will please accept our thanks for a fine club of campaign subscribers. Let others go and do likewise. The Inquirer should be in the hands of every body. We hear that quite a number of clubs are being raised. Hasten the good work, friends, the campaign is upon us. Since writing the above we have received a very flattering list from A. Evans, Esq., Six Mile Run, Dr. C. Z. Moore, Saxton, and John W. Hart, Esq., Napier, Pa. These gentlemen will accept our thanks for their promptness. Fill up your clubs without a day's delay and send them in. Napier is ahead as far as heard from.

GO IN DEBT TO GET OUT.—The philosophy of making money is GOOD MANAGEMENT. But few farmers will spend ten dollars to make twenty. Though the fact is undeniable that the most prosperous farmers are those who have good machinery, and keep up with the progress of the age. We know a farmer who was in debt two years ago. He borrowed one hundred dollars and bought a grain drill. He says that the drill, has certainly cleared him, already several hundred dollars. Farmers had better pay twenty per cent. for money to purchase grain drills, and get their crops in good time than to follow the old plan of sowing, or depend on their neighbor's convenience to lend or hire them a seed.

Be independent and have machines of your own.

MURDER OF AN EDITOR.—We regret to announce the most brutal murder of Mr. Geo. Raymond, formerly editor of the Blair County Whig, at Hollidaysburg, which occurred between one and three o'clock on Wednesday morning the 18th inst., at Mr. R.'s residence, on his farm, one mile from Woodbury, N. J.

Mr. Raymond and his wife sat in the porch of their dwelling, on Tuesday evening, until near ten o'clock, when they retired to their room in the second story. Mr. Raymond being unwell, Mr. Raymond sat alongside of the bed and read until his wife fell asleep. He then went into an adjoining room and retired for the night. About three o'clock on Wednesday morning, Mrs. Raymond was aroused by a noise as if something was dropping upon the floor. She felt for her husband, and finding that he was absent, got up and hurried to the other room, thinking her husband was sick. She soon discovered, however, that her husband was dead, and her screams aroused one of the neighbors, who immediately ran to the house. Upon examining the deceased, it was found that he had been struck on the temple, on the chin and throat with an axe, which had been removed from the woodshed on the place. The axe was found in the kitchen down stairs, covered with blood, and a pair of boots belonging to a stranger were found in the yard.

The deceased was about forty-two years of age, and was Commercial Agent to Balize during Mr. Lincoln's administration, but resigned on account of ill health.—Hrr. Tel.

The country is literally covered with Book Agents and Pedlars, many of whom are able-bodied and capable of following occupations that would redound much more to their credit. There are enough of crippled soldiers and other disabled persons, to practice these professions, without flooding the country with men who can take off their coats and make a hand at any manual labor. The country people should not countenance any man pursuing either of the above occupations unless he can show satisfactory evidence of his inability to perform other labor.

HARBERS' MAGAZINE, for August, opens with another installment of "Curious Homes" followed by "Three Months with Italian Brigades, Heroic Deeds of Heroic Men, Crochet, National Cemeteries, Miss Ingersoll's Pride, Miss Stuyvesant, Our Minister to Mexico, An Inquiry into one of the Constitutional Restrictions on the Revenue Powers of the United States, The Burning of Columbia, Newspaperiana, The St. Leon, A Major of the Old School, The Fool Chair, Carlyle at Edinburgh, Editor's Easy Chair, &c."

MARRIED.
At Esquire Adams, near Chesapeake, July 15th, 1866, by Rev. Mr. Eds, Mr. JESSE SEFELD and Miss MARY ANN GORDON, both of Beas Cove.

DIED.
At Chesapeake, July 9th, 1866, MICHAEL HENRY, son of Hugh and Mary Wilson, aged 10 months and 9 days.

On the 9th of June, 1866, Mr. JOHN AKE, Sr., departed this life, aged 72 yrs. 11 mos. and 24 days.

The following obituary was unintentionally delayed by Rev. J. H. McGarrath, who officiated.

Mr. Ake came to Bedford county about the year 1819 or 20, and was, I believe, up to the time of his death, a member of the church. He was a friend to the poor, and the calls of the church, though he was not a member, always received a liberal response. His most prominent trait of character was his generosity. He was a peace-maker, and many of his neighbors can testify that he was the means of adjusting, in a peaceable and conciliatory way, their difficulties, when they could not do it themselves.

His children need never be ashamed of his political record. In the hour of his country's peril, he was her friend, standing side by side with her through all the gloom; and he was permitted to live to see her again in the sunshine.

His death was sudden and unexpected; for though he had been visibly failing for several years past, his friends did not apprehend immediate death. He was able to visit his son-in-law, Mr. Henderson, on Friday, the 8th of June, and to return the day following, in a comfortable dwelling house, with stable and other out-buildings.

GEN WISE BADLY RECONSTRUCTED.

The following extract from the speech of Gen. Henry A. Wise at the celebration of Stonewall Jackson, is worthy of consideration because it tells plainly what his mind must have been during the late war. He said: "I don't know that I am a prisoner. [Laughter.] I am bound by no chain. I have a pass to go where I please upon the soil of my native land. At least Gen. Grant says so. I may be arrested, but I want to know how long I will be a prisoner. [Cheer.] I have no objection to my being said that I fought until we had won the privilege of being paroled. [Applause.] There is no authority here or elsewhere to arrest me or to stop my mouth, so long as I obey the conditions of that parole; and upon that parole I still stand so long as I live. [Applause.] I am not a prisoner of war; I am not a prisoner of law. If prisoner at all, I am a prisoner of peace. Among the last shots fired by infantry at Appomattox, were those fired by the troops that I had the honor and pride to lead; and there at Appomattox peace was brought about."

On the 13th of July, 1866, the following is lost. If it is lost, the cause of civil liberty is doomed, for, too, is lost. There was a Paradise lost and a Paradise regained and there will be a Paradise regained in this country. The blood that has been spilled is too precious. I should not believe in God, if I did not believe that His providence would yet give victory and secure the triumph of civil liberty in this country.

"One thing can be said there was one man who could not be driven to do that which he did not consent to do. As long as one man in this Commonwealth is true to the Commonwealth, What Commonwealth? There never was but one Virginia. But I tell you, Old Virginia is not at home. She will come back some of these days, and then the devil take the hind most. I am watching, and will tell her, when she comes what has been done in her absence. I'll say, 'Mamma, your children did not do that.' It was done by impostors and pretenders. Again, I say, there is but one Virginia. They have taken and are wielding her powers. If I am traitor, let them make the most of it. If I am a traitor, why don't they try me, and hang me? I have saved my lands and property, but I would clean boots on your streets sooner than bow to usurpation. If I had triumphed, I should have favored stripping them naked. [Laughter.] Pardon me, you might have appealed for mercy, but I would have seen them hanged before I would have granted it. For myself, the boot being on the other leg, I take no oaths? I ask no pardons? [Prolonged cheers.] I give you that brigade—the old, the lasting, the enduring Wise Brigade. [Cheers and applause.]

The Joint Resolution on the Admission of Tennessee—Its Passage by the House—The Vote for and Against it.

WASHINGTON, July 20.

The House of Representatives to day passed the Joint Resolution on the admission of Tennessee again entitled to Senators and Representatives in Congress.

WHEREAS, The State of Tennessee has, in good faith, ratified the articles of amendment to the Constitution of the United States proposed by the XXXIXth Congress and has also shown, to the satisfaction of Congress, by a proper spirit of obedience in the body of her people her return to her due allegiance to the government, laws and authority of the United States, therefore,

Be it resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the State of Tennessee is hereby restored to her former practical relation to the Union, and is again entitled to be represented by Senators and Representatives in Congress duly elected at the next regular election, the oath of office required by existing laws.

Democrats voted for it under protest, and it did not suit them, as it did not the radicals. That Stevens, vote was encored.

Mr. Stevens resolution to adjourn until the first Saturday in December, and to give the Legislature of the State of Tennessee power to call a special session was defeated—yeas forty eight, nays seventy.

Mr. Stevens, Reconstruction Bill was laid on the table—yeas ninety six, nays thirty-seven. The consideration and disposal of these three important items, drew the first session of the House since the warm weather.

The Hottest Weather for a Century.

The following statement from Yale College will be read with interest.

On the 24th of July, 1866, my thermometer, suspended in the shade upon the north side of the New Haven Hotel, indicated 103 degrees, being the highest temperature known to have been obtained in New Haven since 1778, a period of 88 years.

The highest temperature recorded here in the present season was 102 degrees, viz: June 24th, 1864. Previous to this, the thermometer had been twice observed at 101 degrees, viz: in 1798, and there have been three other cases in which the thermometer has risen to 100 degrees, viz: in 1781, 1809 and 1845, making in all seven known instances.

The period just passed has been quite a remarkable one for the long continuance of extreme heat, as for its intensity. Within a period of eleven days, the thermometer has risen five times to 95 degrees and upward.

On the 17th of July, the thermometer stood at 95 degrees, and on the 18th it rose to 100 degrees, and on the 19th it rose to 103 degrees, and on the 20th it rose to 103 degrees, and on the 21st it rose to 103 degrees, and on the 22nd it rose to 103 degrees, and on the 23rd it rose to 103 degrees, and on the 24th it rose to 103 degrees.

The hottest month at New Haven since 1778, was the month of July, 1825. The heat of the past thirty days has been somewhat higher than that of July, 1825, so that we are authorized in asserting that the heat of the recent period has been more intense, and the extreme heat has been longer continued, than has occurred before in eighty-nine years, and probably for a much longer period.

FROM EUROPE.
NEW YORK, July 21.—By the arrival of the steamer Bremen and City of Paris, we have European dates of the 12th inst.

No armistice has yet been agreed upon, but negotiations continue.

Italian papers state that Prussia has declined the armistice.

The semi-official papers of Vienna state that Napoleon has taken steps of a energetic character to effect an armistice, and armed mediation has been announced at the Prussian headquarters.

It is denied that the authorities of Toulon received orders for the dispatch of a squadron to Venice, but are to hold themselves in readiness to arm ten steam vessels, with a certain number of frigates and corvettes.

The Copperhead members of Congress have issued an address endorsing the quest rebel and Bread and Butter Convention to be held in Philadelphia in August next.

One of the judges in the New York city courts, for the last two years, was captured and saved his own neck and hung a dozen of his companions by turning Stato's evidence.

AMERICAN PLUCK.

The New York Commercial Advertiser says: Austria's course in giving up Venetia and calling upon Napoleon to interfere in her behalf, after unprovoked and defiant, concerted attacks upon the pluck and determination exhibited by Americans, North and South, during the late war. A single reverse on the field of battle is sufficient to compel the Austrians, who of all Europeans have been supposed to be the most resolute, to throw up the sponge, and cry "enough!" On taking a retrospect of our own conflicts however, we find that such defeats as Sadovara were time and again encountered by both the Federal and insurgents without shaking their determination or purpose. In view of these facts we may not be excused for "boastfully parading" as an English journal has it, our American pluck, determination and endurance? Certainly no other people on the face of the earth would have prolonged the struggle one-third of the time.

Col. McClure makes the following reference to the United States Senator Thaddeus Stevens will be a candidate for United States Senator in the next election. His calculation of some aspirants in a few counties will not effect the result. If Thaddeus Stevens were ten years younger, with his present fame, he would sweep the field; but the Union party will not venture to elect him to a position for six years that he may have to give up the office before he desires it, notwithstanding the statements of the Lancaster papers. He may have refused to prohibit the use of his name but he will not enter into the contest for the place.

He will be returned to the House by a majority of the voters, and will, I trust, remain with us as long as his enduring fame, until he falls in the harness, as did John Quincy Adams.

AFTER THE STORM.—The gentleman who after the changes of the moon for the St. Paul (Minn.) Press recently made the following effort to describe the calm that succeeded a storm in his part of the country: "A cold, dark, tempestuous fortnight has been succeeded by two such serene and perfect days as were never seen outside of Heaven and Minnesota. The pilgrim through this world will find no such rich and gorgeous sunlight, no such soft Sabbath calm, no such a bright and cheering sun, no such a clear and joyous, till he gets several miles beyond this vale of tears, and reaches the celestial splendors which bathe the Delectable Mountains. Earth and air and sky seem fallen into a heavenly dream, and he had gone to sleep on a dais of strawberries and cream, and were dreaming of more."

This following card, which appears in the Lancaster Express of Tuesday, explains how the Clymerites do up things in the county of the Old Guard. Last evening, the Whig refers to my confinement in prison for the last thirty days. This is very unkind, and I have no doubt that some Copperhead made me drunk for the purpose of procuring my name to the Clymer bogus soldier call, and then took me before the Mayor and had me sent up for thirty days for fear that I might immediately expose the outrage that had been perpetrated upon me. The Mayor is in the habit of sending up persons who do not belong to his party, and discharging his party friends.

MONTGOMERY PAINTER.

The Copperheads are gathering. In all parts of the country their faces are set towards Philadelphia and Washington. From the Baltimore American we learn that Jesse D. Bright, Clement L. Vallandigham and Charles F. Faulkner passed through that city on Wednesday evening on their way to Washington. In the cars they exhibited great glee, and rejoiced over their political prospects. Messrs. Vallandigham and Bright openly proclaimed their mission to Washington to be to urge upon the President the appointment of John B. Weller, ex-Secretary of California and ex-Governor of Ohio, as Secretary of War in place of Mr. Stanton.—Pittsburgh Commercial.

A New York city correspondent says that the residence of A. T. Stewart, corner of Third and Broadway, Fifth Avenue, is nearly ready to move into. It eclipses any private building on the continent, so it is said, and will cost without any furniture, $2,500,000.

THURSDAY last was the hottest day ever known in New York City, according to the Herald. The thermometer stood at one hundred and two in the shade at three P. M. Out of forty three cases of sun stroke twenty three were fatal. Nine cases out of sixteen in Brooklyn were attended with fatal results.

The soldiers of California who favor "my policy" and Henry Clay, are to have a convention in Elensburg on the 25th. The Alleganien says: "This convention, it is thought, will be asked to endorse the action of the Democratic party in refusing to grant the soldiers the right to vote while in the field. It is a large number it will be respectively asked, we anticipate an interesting and instructive session."

The following is a provision in the new Constitution of North Carolina: "No person shall be a member of the Legislature, God, or the divine authority of both the Old and New Testaments, or who shall hold religious opinions incompatible with the freedom or safety of the State, shall be capable of holding any office or place of trust or profit in any civil department."

The Democrats are pointing to the fact that three New England Senators voted to postpone the Tariff Bill as proof of the unsoundness of the Republican party on that question, but omit to say that every Democratic Senator steadily voted in the interest of Free Trade. The whole story would be damaging to them, and they therefore try just so much of it as suits their purpose.—Pittsburgh Commercial.

A soldier from Lowell, Massachusetts was killed in one eye by the passage of a fragment of a shell near it at the siege of Fort Hudson, got into a scuffle the other day, and received a blow directly under the blind eye. Leeches were applied to reduce the swelling, and in a few moments the injured eye was made as whole as the other.

RAILROAD STATISTICS.—There are in the United States about one hundred railroad corporations that operate steam power roads. Their joint length is estimated at thirty-two thousand miles, and their cost in the aggregate, is $4,250,000,000, equal to an average of $400,000 for each mile.

It is supposed that the cattle disease is among the buffaloes on the plains. A great many have been found dead, without an outward appearance of any cause.
