OUR FRUIT LIST.

We again present to our readers, as the time approaches, a revised list of Fruit Trees, Vines etc., which we can recommend for general cultivation. Twelve or fifteen varieties of pears, and six or eight of apples, are all sufficient, provided they are the best adapted to the soil and locality—a fact which each one, upon trial, must judge for himself. Frequently a pear, an apple or a grape may do well for a few years and then deteriorate; or may do excellently well in one location, and not in another, though separated by a very narrow space. In such case it had better be disposed of by grafting it with more reliable varieties. We have changed our opinion respecting a number of fruits within the last half dozen years, and yet in some of the instances we are convinced the fault was in the location and soil.

According to your present preference, we should select the following for our own planting, viz:

- STANDARD PEARS. 1. Early Catharine. 2. Juliana. 3. Manning's Elizabeth. 4. Tyson. 5. Bartlett. 6. Seckel. 7. St. Michael d'Esp. change.

Of the above, from No. 1 to 4 are summer varieties; from 5 to 10 autumn; 11, 12, 13 and 14 winter, thus affording a sufficient number for each of the periods, of the best known sorts for this region.

- DWARF PEARS. 1. St. Michael d'Esp. change. 2. Bartlett. 3. Conic. 4. Russet. 5. D'Elly.

- APPLES. 1. Maiden's Blush. 2. Baldwin. 3. L. I. Russet. 4. Jeffrey.

If any of our friends can furnish a more desirable list of apples we should like to hear from them. We know that there are a couple of new sorts just introduced, but we have no knowledge as to their value as a general crop.

- PEACHES. 1. Crawford's Early. 2. George IV. 3. Morris White.

If any of the peach-growers of New Jersey, Delaware or Maryland can give us a better list, even by increasing the number of varieties to a dozen, we shall be pleased to hear from them. We do not grow apples or peaches, and have our selections upon the general opinion of farmers and others, and judging when we have the opportunity from the appearance of the orchards, the exhibition of Horticulture and agricultural societies, and the reports of the committees.

- GRAPES. 1. Telegraph. 2. Concord. 3. Hartford Prolific. 4. Rogers No. 1.

We restore the Delaware to our list of grapes this season, still believing that by selecting a warm exposure, and planting shallow, a fair crop may be obtained for private use.

- CHEERRIES. 1. May Duke. 2. Early Richmond. 3. Black Tartarian. 4. Black Eagle.

We restore the Kentish or Ten Cherry to our list. It ripens a week or ten days earlier than the Early Richmond, and always, except in the most unfavorable seasons, gives a large crop of sound fruit. We omit the Governor Wood because it does not generally mature its fruit. A rain followed by a hot sun when the cherries are nearly ripe, will sometimes blast the whole crop. Its quality however is superior to all others. The "Germentown" is the largest cherry grown, is handsome in appearance, an abundant bearer of sound fruit, and very good in quality.

- RASPBERRIES. 1. Brinckle's Orange. 2. Hornet.

We cultivate all these varieties of the raspberry, in addition to the Hudson River Antwerp and the old Purple. We omit the Hudson River from our list, and substitute the Philadelphia. The Hudson River is an excellent berry, rather better in quality than the Hornet, which it resembles, though not so large, but it is not hardy or a good grower, and unless care is taken will "run out" in a few years. The Catawissa is the two crop variety, which every one ought to cultivate for the autumn crop only, by cutting all the canes clean off to the ground in November and covering the stools with manure.

- STRAWBERRIES. 1. Russell's Prolific. 2. Triumph de grand J. Albany Seedling.

At present we are not prepared to change our strawberry list. There are many new candidates for public favor, but for family use and market combined we know of none to be preferred to the foregoing. In retaining the Albany Seedling, it is done expressly for marketing purposes. Those who have room for only one or two kinds for private use, we recommend Hovey's Seedling (which is pistillate) and the Triumph or Russell's Prolific, (staminate) to be planted in alternate beds of three feet in width, allowing eighteen inches space between them. With proper cultivation a crop is next to a certainty.

- CURRANTS. 1. Black Naples. 2. Red Dutch.

We consider those the two best currants. We have the Cherry Currant, which is larger than the Red Dutch, but it is too acid; while the White Grape, which is of good size and flavor, and transparent in appearance, is a poor grower, of a sprawling habit, and bears mostly near the ground, which dirties the fruit and extracts the flavor.

- COBBERSIES. 1. Houghton. 2. Downing.

These are the two best and most profitable cultivated. All the huge imported kinds are thick skinned, tough, and slow to mellow.

- BLACKBERRIES. 1. New Rochelle. 2. Dorchester.

The New Rochelle blackberry produces a better crop perhaps than the Dorchester, and the later ripened berries retain their flavor more entirely; but the first ripening of the Dorchester is sweeter and more delicious than the other. A new variety called the "Kittatinny," from the Kittatinny mountain, near the Delaware Water Gap, is well spoken of, but we reserve our opinion for the present.

It is better that those who intend to cultivate fruit and have to make purchases should take this list with them to the nursery, and adhere to it as far as possible. It is not fair to the nurseryman to ask him for a list of the best sorts, as he has all kinds to sell to accommodate every taste and demand.—German Telegraph.

Humorous.

SEASONABLE advice—Pay the printer. "GENIUS will work its way through." The poet said when he saw a hole in the elbow of his coat.

A MERCHANT'S advice in selecting a wife was, "Get hold of a piece of calico that will stretch."

IN some places out west the grass-hoppers have destroyed everything but grass and wildflowers.

"YOUNG man, do you believe in a future state?" "In course I do; and what's more, I intend to enter it as soon as Betsey gets her things ready."

WHEN you see a man on a corner on a moonlight night, trying to convince his own shadow that it is improper to follow a gentleman, you may set him down as a sign for a whiskey shop.

A YOUNG lady says: "If our Maker thought it wrong for Adam to live single when there was not a woman on earth how criminally guilty are bachelors, with the world full of pretty girls?"

A MISERLY old farmer who had lost one of his best hands in the midst of haying, remarked to the sexton as he was filling up the grave: "It's a sad thing to lose a good mow at a time like this; but after all poor Tom was a great eater."

A LITTLE Swedish girl was walking with her father one night, under the starry sky, intently meditating upon the glories of Heaven. At last, looking up to the sky, she said: "Father, I have been thinking if the wrong side of Heaven is so beautiful, what will the right side be?"

DURING the recent session of the equal rights convention, a strong-minded female entered a street railroad car. An old gent rose to give her a seat; but asked, "Be you one of those women's rightsers?" "I be." "You believe a woman should have all the rights of a man?" "Yes I do." "Then stand up and enjoy them like a man!" and stand up she did.

"A little girl, who had received the paternal injunction to remember what the minister said, returned from the church delighted. "I remember something," she said. "Ah, very glad of it," replied the father: "what did he say?" "He said," she cried, "a collection will now be taken up."

ANDERSON the wizard, met with a Yankee who stole a march on him one day, after the following pattern: "I say, are you Professor Anderson?" "Yes, sir, at your service."

"Wa'll your a tarntion smart man, and I'm knowing at a trick, too, kinder cute, dey ye know."

"Ah, indeed, what trick are you up to?" asked the Professor, amused at the simple fellow.

"Wa'll, I can take a red cent and change it into a ten dollar gold piece."

"Oh, that's a mere slight of hand trick; I can do that too."

"No you can't; I'd like to see you try."

"Well, hold out your paw with a cent lying in it. This is your cent, is it, sure?"

"It's nothing else."

"Hold on to it tight—presto,—change. Now open your hand."

Yankee opened his fist, and there was a gold eagle shining on his palm.

"Wa'll, you did it, I declare; much obliged to you," and Jonathan turned to go out.

"Stay," said the Professor, "you may leave my ten dollars."

"Yours!" war it my cent; and didn't you turn it into that yaller thing, eh?" Good bye! and as he left the room he heard to say, "I guess there ain't anything green about this child."

ACCIDENTS OF SPEECH. Pat has long labored under the imputation of making more "accidents with the tongue than any of his fellow mortals, but it can be very readily shown that the "bull" is not necessarily indigenous to Irish soil.

A Frenchman named Calion, who died in Paris not many years ago, was remarkable for a bovine tendency. There is a letter of his in existence as follows: "My dearest friend: I left my knife at your lodgings yesterday. Pray send it to me if you find it. Yours, CALION. P. S.—Never mind sending the knife; I have found it."

There is a note to his wife, which she sent home with a basket of provisions, the postscript to which read: "You will find my letter at the bottom of the basket. If you should fail to do so, let me know as soon as possible."

It is said of this same character that on one occasion he took a lighted taper to find his way down stairs without accident, and after getting down brought it back with thanks, leaving himself at the top of the stairs in the dark as at first.

It was a Scotch woman who said that the butcher of her town only killed a half beast at a time.

It was a Dutchman who said a pig had no car marks except a short tail; and it was a British magistrate who, being told by a vagabond that he was not married, responded, "that's a good thing for your wife."
