

BEDFORD, PA., FRIDAY, APRIL 26, 1867.

Republican State Convention.

HARRISBURG, April 16, 1867. The "Republican State Convention" will meet at the "Herde House," in Williamsport, on Wednesday, the 20th of June next.

As heretofore, the Convention will be composed of Representative and Senatorial Delegates, chosen in the usual way, and equal in number to the whole of the Senators and Representatives in the General Assembly.

The people of Altoona, on Tuesday last week, voted by a large majority against transferring that town into a city.

A DISPATCH from Pottsville says a fire damp explosion occurred at Concor's Ashland colliery, by which twelve miners were killed.

JOHN HUCKEY has been convicted in the Crawford county court of murder in the second degree, in causing the death of his wife at Titusville, some months ago, while both were under the influence of liquor.

CHILD BURNED.—A little daughter of Dr. A. B. Brumbaugh, of Huntingdon, was severely burned, a few days since, by falling against the stove. One of her hands was so badly burned, that it is feared she will lose the use of it.

The whole town of Stormstown, in Halfmoon Valley, Center county, was consumed by fire on Sunday last. It consisted of fourteen houses, including three stores and two hotels. The fire broke out about an even hour.

The Cambria Iron Company, during the past winter, maintained two night schools at its own expense—one in Millville, under the charge of Mr. Harold, and the other in Cambria city, under Mr. Kries. Both schools were largely attended and well conducted.

MISS JESSIE SCOTT, of Shaver's Creek, Huntingdon county, took passage at Petersburg, on the 13th inst., for Hollidaysburg, and on arriving there she discovered that the pocket had been cut out of her dress, and a portion containing $200 was missing. The money had been given to her at the depot in Petersburg, by her father.

THE STATE LOAN.—We call the attention of persons desirous of investing in the new State Loan, to the advertisement of Jay Cooke & Co. in our column of New advertisements.

BODY FOUND.—The body of J. Harry Tyler was found on Sunday last and interred at Martinsburg on Monday, the 15th. He was accidentally drowned in Raystown Branch at Hopewell, on the 13th of February last.—Huntingdon Globe.

A GOOD BUILDING.—Quite a stir has been made this week among the petitioners for licenses for hotels and eating-houses in this county. As a beginning the Court announced that a strict compliance with the requirements of the law would be demanded. This threw out at once quite a number of petitions that had not been filed within the specified time, and public notice of which had not been given a sufficient length of time previous to application. It was next announced that wherever the applicants were either known or shown to be men of bad moral character, or intemperate habits, license would be refused; also, that wherever the applicants were known or could be shown to have violated the license law, either by selling to minors, selling on the Sabbath day, to drunkards or to have kept disorderly houses license would in all cases be refused; also, that the commission of any of the offenses enumerated would be sufficient cause for revoking license at any time. Let the keepers of hotels, restaurants, &c. make a note of these things. We hope to see the Court carry out its resolutions with the utmost strictness. If this is done, while the sale of intoxicating liquors as a beverage is not prohibited, it will waste many of the evils arising from this fruitful source of all sorts of crime and wickedness.

THE DIAMOND DICKENS.—The second volume of this elegant edition, "Our Mutual Friend" complete in one volume, handsomely illustrated and beautifully printed has just been issued by the enterprising publishers, Messrs. Ticknor & Fields. The convenience of this form is such that it will be much preferred to the large edition of Dickens's works, and hence it is not surprising to hear of the extensive patronage which has been bestowed upon the publishers in their new issue of the works of this great author. The cheapness of these volumes is an important consideration which should not be overlooked. So cheap and at the same time so elegant an edition of Dickens's complete works has never before been offered to the public. An illustrated copy of our Mutual Friend or Peckwick Papers, can be purchased for $1.50 a single volume; $1.25 each, without illustration. Address Ticknor & Fields, Boston, Massachusetts.

HARRIS'S MAGAZINE AND HARPER'S WEEKLY. New York: Each $4 a year.

"The Pictorial of Lake Superior," is the leading article in the monthly, for May. Its illustrations, and the historical features of the articles are worth more than the cost of the book. It contains the "Personal Recollections of the War," and "The Virginians in Texas," besides "New Aspects of the American Mind," and many other valuable articles.

THE WEEKLY for April 26, makes a decided hit in its leading illustration, "Ignis Fatuus," portraying the deceptive aspect of the late Consecutive victory upon the Democratic mind. That is the political wisdom which is leading the Democracy upon quagmires where they must be in constant fear of sinking. The number is a good one throughout.

The Pennsylvania Railroad Company have sold the main line of the Pennsylvania Canal, from Columbia to Hollidaysburg, to the Pennsylvania Canal Company.

Gen. JOHN ROSS, of Millin county, was last week nominated by the President as Collector of Internal Revenue for the 17th district, but the Senate refused to confirm him.

For twelve months, ending on Friday, the public debt has been reduced two hundred and nine millions of dollars.

Only five petitions for tavern license were granted at the late session of the Indiana county Court.

FAMILY POISONED.—Two weeks ago our community was shocked with the report that a family of seven persons were poisoned by eating of food said to contain tartar emetic and arsenic. The natural presumption, from the facts that could be then elicited, was that the poison had been used in a mistake. All the members recovered except Mr. John Young, and he, for a time was considered out of danger, and had the dose not been repeated would be living and well. But horrible to relate, Mr. Young grew suddenly worse, and on Friday morning last, about one o'clock, after suffering the most intense and excruciating pain, died.

The matter of his death was freely discussed by all who heard of the sad calamity, and towards evening the community seemed to be excited in the highest degree, and as the physicians assured us, his death was caused by arsenic, the public cried aloud for an investigation. The family would not agree to this but were violently opposed to it, and at one time it was feared the unfortunate man would be consigned to the tomb as though he had died a natural death.

On Saturday morning the Coroner summoned a jury, and in company with Drs. Landis, Smith, Roller and Hays, proceeded to the home of the deceased for the purpose of thoroughly investigating the facts in the case. The doctors made a post mortem examination, and took possession of the stomach. The facts elicited by the Coroner were in substance as follows: Mr. Young sent for arsenic for the purpose of killing rats; three papers were bought, and the package placed in the drawer of a bureau in Mr. Young's room. The package was never touched until after the first poisoning, when it was burned. The cakes were supposed to have been poisoned by what was in a bottle of cream of tartar; the contents of this bottle were destroyed in the presence of Dr. Smith. All the family recovered from the "cake poisoning." Mr. Young took a relapse; his symptoms indicated a fresh dose of poison; he began again to recover, and again took severely ill for the third and last time. During his illness Mrs. Young nursed him and prepared his food herself, but seemed to know of no poison having been administered. One of the daughters testified that the arsenic was burned on Tuesday of last week, and that it burned up with a blue blaze, and had a sulphury smell; the other daughter stated that it was destroyed previous to Sunday and that it burned with a clear blaze and had no smell. Dr. Smith testified that from the symptoms of his illness, Mr. Young had received several doses of poison, and the poison was arsenic. The jury rendered a verdict that "John Young came to his death by poison, administered by a person or persons to the jury unknown."

P. S. Information was made against Mrs. Young and her eldest daughter Maria, on Monday, and on Tuesday morning they were arrested and committed to answer.—Hollidaysburg Standard 10th inst.

I. O. O. F.—The Independent Order of Odd Fellows, throughout the United States and the Canadas, intend observing Friday the 29th of this month, (it being the forty-eighth anniversary of the establishment of the order in America) as a day of Thanksgiving for reasons set forth in the proclamation of its chief national officer, which we here publish: A PROCLAMATION APPOINTING A DAY OF THANKSGIVING.

WHEREAS, the R. W. Grand Lodge of the United States, of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows, at its late September Session, 1856, in grateful recognition of the unerring hand of God in rescuing the genius of Odd Fellowship from the ruin which desolated so many of the benevolent and charitable institutions of our common Country, as the indispensable effects of civil war,—and of the unmistakable property which has crowned its labors during the year which has just passed, did, by unanimous vote, direct the M. W. Grand Sire to issue his Proclamation appointing a Day of Thanksgiving for these and countless other blessings vouchsafed to our beloved order:

Now, Therefore, I, James P. Sanders, M. W. Grand Sire, do hereby fraternally direct that the sixth day of April, 1867, be observed by the Members of our Order throughout the general jurisdiction, as a day of Thanksgiving and Prayer, and that they do assemble on said day in such manner and form of organization, with their families, as the appropriate authorities in their respective State Jurisdictions may prescribe, to render thanks to the ever-living God, for his manifold favor and protection to that Institution which we so much love and cherish, and especially for the preservation of its unbroken unity, through trials and perils of unparalleled severity.

Done in the City of Baltimore, this first day of November, A. D. 1866, and of our Order the forty-eighth.

JAMES P. SANDERS, M. W. Grand Sire.

In obedience to this proclamation, Bedford Lodge No. 202 and Cove Lodge No. 368, of Woodbury, also Peace Branch Encampment, No. 114 of this place, will unite in a public procession in full regalia and appropriate services in the Presbyterian church, at 10 o'clock of that day. The public are cordially invited to attend.—3t

WOMAN'S WORK IN THE CIVIL WAR.—Prepared under the approval of the Sanitary and Christian Commissions, Philadelphia: Zeigler, McCurdy & Co.

Among the numerous publications relating to the late war, there is none that can claim a higher place in the public esteem than such as set forth "Woman's Work" in the eventful times. The publication before us fills this niche in the history of the Rebellion. It commemorates the labors and sufferings, and above all the noble characters of those true women who brought so much of care, and love, and charity into the terrible arena of strife. Without the kindly ministrations of female hands the toils, privations and afflictions of our soldiers had been greatly enhanced; and the memory of these noble heroines deserves a bright page in history. The book just published by Messrs. Zeigler, McCurdy & Co., is one of the handsomest we have seen for some time; it is finely printed, richly illustrated with well-executed likenesses of many of its characters, and is elegantly bound. Everybody should have it. See advertisement "Agents Wanted."

LATEST South American advices state that Curupaqui has been again ambushed by the Brazilians, who have also destroyed the fortifications and town of Santa Maria. A Brazilian army was preparing to cross the upper Parana river and operate against Assencion. The Paraguayan General Diaz died of wounds received in the action of February 2. General prevailed in the Argentine provinces. Queen Isabella had assumed the Presidency, and issued a hostile manifesto.

The United States Senate adjourned on Saturday. Messrs. Sumner, Henderson and Johnson offered resolutions proposing active mediation on the part of our government in the affair of Mexico. Senator Cole proposed a friendly interference on our part between France and Prussia in the Luxembourg difficulties. All these intervention resolutions were tabled.

PETROLEUM has been discovered in Italy, and four different associations have been formed for working contemplated wells. The King of Italy is said to take a great interest in these petroleum discoveries, and the Italians will no doubt soon rejoice in a shoal of bogus oil companies.

At the Waterford, New York, Arsenal, the Gatling gun, which is fired off by the turning of a crank, and is said to keep forty six hundred balls in the air all the while, is now on exhibition. The gun is to be used against the Indians on the frontier. There were a good many of these contrivances in General McClellan's army, but in no force. It was contended, however, they had not a fair trial.

CONSIDERABLE amounts of Mexican bonds have been negotiated in New York within the past year, at seven per cent, semi-annual interest, which falling due within the last few days set the bonds to protest, to the dissatisfaction of the holders. The negotiations were at rates ranging from ten to sixty cents.

The decline of cotton in the foreign market, together with the dull trade at home, are having a depressing influence on dry goods. Prices of all but the leading staples are weak, and the market still points to lower figures, though the jobbing houses continue fairly active. We see it stated that several leading houses in New York are retailing foreign goods at prices below the actual cost of transportation.

AFTER the Revolution had ended, in 1783, our country covered 820,680 square miles. In 1860, by various acquisitions, this had grown to 3,010,277 square miles, and now, by the Russian cession, it is 3,491,553 square miles. The Republic has extended to more than four times its size eighty-four years ago, a fact which should receive honorable mention from our Fourth of July orators.

The citizens of Little Orange township, Vernon county, Missouri, on hearing of the murder of Gen. Joseph Bailey, the sheriff of the county went in pursuit of the murderers. One of them, Tom Ingram, was caught, turned over to a vigilance committee, and the next morning his dead body was found swinging from the limb of a tree.

A LETTER from Jefferson county, Tennessee, tells the following story of the late harvest in that State: The Holstein river was eleven feet higher than ever known before causing great destruction of property. Twenty-five buildings, eleven of them residences, were down the river in one day. One lodged on McDee's Island. Mr. McDee visited it as soon as possible and found a child in bed up stairs. The child was thought to be about six months old, and was nearly starved. Nothing is known of its parents, who they are, or what became of them."

The following incident is related in a Paris letter: "An American who is now here, and who claims to be the most adroit man in the world in the handling of the musket and bayonet, went the other day to seek an engagement at the Paris Circuses, offering to fight in the arena (with wooden bayonets) against five of the best musketeers in the French army, all at once, one against five. The director of the circus said, 'No, I can't do that; but if you will dress up as a French soldier and whip five soldiers dressed up as Americans, I'll give you an engagement!'"

The Republican Congressional Campaign Committee have agreed that one of their number should remain in Washington permanently, and act as Chairman of the Executive Committee in charge of the Southern Republican campaign. Representative Broomall is to act during the month of May, General Schenck in June, and Senator Chandler in July.

An unsatisfactory feeling prevails in English trade circles, amounting to general distrust. Dealers and capitalists are timid, having had their resources in some instances seriously impaired; and this knowledge, says the London News, combined with the general slackness of business, and with the difficulty of effecting sales of goods, both at home and abroad, probably explains in some measure the vague rumors now prevailing of mercantile difficulties in the home, foreign and colonial trades.

The Jackson (Mississippi) Clarion assures us of the gratifying truth—though deeply regretting it—that "the fact is too manifest to be denied, and too important to be disregarded, that the Republican Party is rapidly extending its ramifications throughout the Southern States. In all of these States initial movements, more or less formidable, are on foot for forming a compact party to co-operate with that organization. It is a part of the matured scheme of the leaders of that party to maintain its ascendancy, and they have seized the opportunity afforded by the introduction of the new clause into the elective franchise.

Dr. Schenck's Mandrake Pills.—A Substitute for Calomel.

These Pills are composed of various roots, having the power to relax the secretions of the liver as promptly and effectually as blue pill or mercury, and without producing any of those disagreeable or dangerous effects which often follow the use of the latter.

In all bilious disorders these Pills may be used with confidence, as they promote the discharge of vitiated bile, and remove those obstructions from the liver and biliary ducts, which are the cause of bilious affections in general.

SCHENCK'S MANDRAKE PILLS cure Sick Headache, and all disorders of the Liver, indicated by yellow skin, coated tongue, costiveness, drowsiness, and a general feeling of weariness and lassitude, showing that the liver is in a torpid or obstructed condition.

In short, these Pills may be used with advantage in all cases when a purgative or alternative medicine is required.

Please obtain when purchasing, that the two likenesses of the Doctor, one when in the last stage of Consumption, and the other as he now is in perfect health, are on Government stamp.

Sold by all Druggists and Dealers' price $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 the half dozen. All letters for advice should be addressed to Dr. Schenck's Principal Office, No. 15 North 6th Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

A LATE London letter speaking of the miseries of England, in connection with a recent large gathering of destitute people, says: "The question at Westminster was how to dispose of a few millions of surplus revenue—that at the East End was how to get bread for 40,000 idle and famishing people. A procession of four or five thousand ragged wretches gathered from Poplar, Bethnal Green and Wapping, and preceded by a melancholy file and drum, marched through the city and the Strand to the palaces of Pall Mall. They were very quiet, pale, ragged, a miserable company forced to be idle and compelled to beg. A contribution box was carried along each sidewalk. But voluntary contributions on such a scale were hopeless. After a few months people get tired of giving. London is too large. The great hire needs to swarm. The parishes are begged to support their poor. What is wanted is to take these forty thousand people up bodily, and transfer them to Canada or Austria—to South Africa—to any place where soil and sunshine will provide them food. They cannot move themselves. Their clothes and tools are at the pawn brokers, their furniture sold to the last shilling."

Strength for the Exhausted. Thousands die, as it were, inch by inch, of bodily weakness; for debility will kill as certainly, though not so quickly, as a raging fever. Is it asked how the weak shall be made strong; the debilitated sustained and restored; the exhausted refilled with vital energy? We aver that of all invigorating preparations given by science to man, from the institution of the art of healing to the present hour, not one has wrought such wonders in the way of restoration as HUGHETTES' CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS. This is indeed the tonic of tonics. As a revivifying, strength-supporting, life-prolonging agent, the like of it is not to be found in the catalogue of medicines. Among the various articles used to restore the dormant powers of nature, it stands alone—the great awakener of the paralyzed physique. It not only awakens the physical powers from a state of collapse and inanition, but it imparts permanent vigor to the muscular and nervous systems—re-inforcing, as it were, both the stronghold and the outworks of vitality. The aged, the decrepit, the nervous, the broken down of both sexes, are recommended to try it. They will assuredly find it a present help in time of trouble.

This place will be found a most desirable residence, or it would be admirably calculated for the establishment of a boarding-house for country folk. The view is very fine; the supply of cold, soft water, is ample and excellent for baths of all kinds, and it is three-fourths of a mile from the celebrated Bedford Mineral Springs. Price $14,000, with reasonable payments. A portion of the land is worth $300 per acre—could be sold in lots at that. If desired $500 will divide the place and sell the mansion house with ten or twenty acres separately. April 19:3m W. M. HALL.
