Among the private soldiers now on duty on the Jackson barracks, below New Orleans, is one by the name of Schulz, who served during the late war as a colonel of an Illinois regiment, and upon leaving the service was brevetted to the grade of brigadier. Finding no doubt a charm in military life he re-entered the service and enlisted as high private. But here's the rub. By an act of Congress all ex-officers of the United States are permitted, upon military occasions of importance, to wear the insignia of their highest rank. Therefore, upon the next parade, will be presented the curious anomaly of a brigadier's star carried on the same shoulder with a private. Will the inspected attack the inspector?

The English reports of the Paris Exposition are gradually assuming a more flattering character, though John Bull still finds much to complain of. We get some idea of the magnitude of this show by the statement, that there are no less than forty-five thousand different exhibitors represented. The greatest number ever before gathered was at the London Exhibition, in 1862, when nearly 29,000 were represented. But this is an enormous gathering—a combination of all shows—a horse show, cattle show, poultry show, dog show, playing cards, etc., to illustrate the whole history of labor through the civilized world.

A New York letter says the private letters by the Peninsular and City of Baltimore are all of a warlike character. The leading banking and commercial firms write to their correspondents and agents here to act on the hypothesis that hostilities are inevitable, though the war may not come on as soon as many seem to expect. The London writers are unanimous in the opinion that, come what may, Great Britain will be scrupulously neutral. Private telegrams by the cable are said to be in tone of an even more exciting character than the published dispatches, but your correspondent has not been able to trace them.

Napoleon satisfied with Negotiations, Russia to Take Iron Clads for the Ceded Territory. Conference to meet May 15th.—Portion of Luxembourg to be evacuated." Berlin, April 27.—The Weser Gazette, in its leading article to-day, intimates that Prussia may evacuate Fort Pess, of Luxembourg.
