THE APPLE TREE BORER.

A SURE REMEDY AGAINST HIS ATTACKS.

I say in the heading of this article, "a su Yes, and I remedy against his attacks." Yes, and I lieve the only certain and reliable remed The unde harer is the larve or grub of a c tain very beautiful bug or beetle, which posits its eggs at or near the surface of ground, on the trunk of the tree, during t months of May and June. I think each I lays from fifteen to thirty eggs, or else th lay different clusters of them; but it is matter-they lay enough of them any w These eggs hatch ont in a week or two, a ni plump, little borer-yellewish white, with yellowish red head-very small and triffing first, but he immediately begins to fulfil destiny by eating his way through the bark the tree, which it takes him from six we to two months to accomplish-not usually ing straight through, but reaching the w about half an inch from the starting point this time he is from an eight to a quarter an inch in length. He now commence feed on the liber and adjacent wood, and grows apace until cold weather commences, when he usually eats his own way downwards below the surface of the soil, and there hybernates during the winter. (At least I think he hybernates.)

The next spring, as soon as hard freezing is over, he goes to work vigorously, still feed-ing on the liber or inner bark; by fall he will guages." have attained a length of 1 to 1 of an inch, when he always-I believe-works his way below the surface of the soil and apparently feeds but little until spring. With the com-mencement of warm weather he is again vig-orously at work, and as he has attained considerable size, it takes considerable to supply his commissary department during the coming During this third and last summer of his life is the time when he does the most of the damage.

In a tree one or two inches in diameter, oue borer will eat all around until it comes within a quarter of an inch of girdling it. In larger trees there are usually from one to five to a tree, if any; one borer in a tree three or four inches in diameter does not generally injure it fatally without he cuts clear around it, which is not often the case, but when there are more they almost always cut within about which generally proves fatal.

growth, at which time he is a full inch or more in length, and of the thickness of a ed "Mary-Ann Rebecca-Molly-Polly-Toodgrowth, at which time he is a full inch or goose quill: between this time and the first of the following May, our borer cuts, a hole inselfs through the truck of the tree a few directly through the trunk of the tree, a few inches above the surface of the soil, within all but a shaving of the bark on the opposite side; then drawing himself back a little, he goes into the chrysalis state, from which, in the course of a few weeks, he emerges a per-soil, from the crown of the trees; then, any time from the first to the middle of September, with a pocket-knife, examine carefully he stem of each tree; the borer can be readily found by the refuse thrown out of the hole made on entering; this refuse of a borer of the same season's growth, will be about the size of a pea, and, being of a glutinous na-ture sticks around the mouth of the hole, and can readily be seen; older ones throw out coarser chips that fall to the ground. When one is found, cut him out. If an orchard is carefully examined in this way each year, and as they are more easily found the second there's nothing the matter with my stomach.' fall of their growth, and can have done but little damage at that time, we would never a day, and can take the borers out in another day. I will agree to do both jc'se carefully in one day's time .- Prairie Farmer.

DU WE MOW TOO MUCH LAND? Willard, in one of his agricultural letters

this question, and says when in England, the past season, among the dairy farms, we found this question studied and reduced to a better system than with us. It is a matter of some head and thus addressed the blushing youth importance there to know how to keep a libnure. They believe, therefore, in extending area of pasture lands, converting the green feed into milk, butter and beef, while the hay lands are reduced to the smallest compass ossible. Wherever they can irrigate meadow land it is done, and large yields result. Some adopt the system of alternato cropping and dressings. But they have another system, to the shift adopted, when the land is broken liberately leveled it at the stranger. up and put to wheat. Now, under this system, the land when put down to grass is seed- the man in alaru ed heavily, often with from 14 to 2 bushels of the lighter seeds, and 12 to 15 pounds of the first year-as much as 21 tons and more per I've seen." acre. I went upon weadows of this descripper acre. Then, in Winter, they chop the live any longer!" coarse fodder or straw, and feed with oil cake, and in this way get along with much less meadow land than do our farmers, besides
