A PLANK FROM the COPPERHEAD

PLATFORM. The Copperhead Convention which nominated Judge Sharswood for the Supreme Court, also adopted a platform which the Judge endorses, and on which he proposes to go before the people and ask their votes. The seventh section of that platform reads as follows: Resolved, That the Radical majority in Congress, and those who sustain them, have overthrown the Constitution, dismembered the Federal Union, and subverted republican government by a long series of usurpations. This is as cool a piece of arrogant, unwarementable and false association in the unwarrantable and false assertion in the face of established facts, as ever was perpetrated by a deliberative body, making pre tensions to common honesty and truthfulness. That, the very men, who plotted and schemed for five long years, in connection with armed rebels for the overthrow of our government, should, before the blood of our murdered soldiers has had time to dry upon their hands, and before those of their number who fied from their country's service had all returned from their disgraceful exile, have the hardihood to insult the public Har. Tel. sentiment of the country, and charge the brave soldiers and gallant Generals, by whose bayonets and ballots the nation was preserved from anarchy and our liberties from destruction, with "overthrowing the Constitution and dismembering the Federal Union," almost surpasses belief, and could only emanate from a body from which all sense of honor and regard for truth had departed. Only a convention representing those who had been false to their country in the hour of her peril, and who had traitorously joined hands with her sworn enemies, could be guilty of such falsehood and hypocrisy. The hopeless condition of their cause seems to have driven them to desperation, and caused them to forget or disregard the dictates of common prudence Their old cunning seems to have deserted them in their extremity. It is well for the country, however, that their platform should exhibit, as it does, the determination of the party to uphold and cherish to the latest possible moment the spirit of rebellion, and to throw every obstacle in the way of reconstruction, unless the policy of reconstruction is so modified as to place the government of the country in the hands of those who have done their utmost to subvert it. Such is the platform on which Judge Sharswood consents to go before the people of Pennsylvania. A platform which declares that ev ery soldier who bore arms in defence of his country's liberties, every loyal man who lifted up his voice or contributed of his means to the prosecution of the war, in short, every one who was not a sympathizer with rebellion, was laboring for the overthrow of Constitutional Republican government. Such a platform would make every Union General a traitor and exalt Robert E. Lee and Jeff. Davis to the highest honors of the land. Such is Copperheadism, such its candidates, and such its principles Lost to every patriotic instinct, to every principle of honor or honesty, and devoted

THE late Copperhead County Convention elected our friend, George Mardorff, County Treasurer, for Chairman of their county They must have had the public funds inview when they made this selection The tax-payers will bear this in mind. Campaigns cannot be conducted without funds.

For the first time in the history of our ation, there was published yesterday an official report of the proceedings of the President's Cabinet in council. It is mortifying to add that this unusual proceeding, like almost everything else that emanates from Andrew Johnson, was a weak and humiliation attempt to divide with other shoulders the burden of the unpalatable and unpatriotic Stansbery opinion. The President felt that, for this blow at the country, he must make some defence before the peo ple, and, accordingly, we have this pitiful dragging out of a pliant Cabinet to strengthen the position of the consciously guilty Executive. The people regard the whole shameful spectacle with contempt. All the Cabinets that Mr. Johnson could have; all the votes of all the Wells and Randalls that could be created, would give no weight to this opinion or commend it to the countenance or respect of the people. This Cabi net council, so ostentatiously exhibited, is but a weak device in the President to ward off public opprobrium and a tacit confession of error. - Philadelphia Press.

TEXAS.-Already we have echoes of the President's interference with reconstruction, in reports that judges in Texas have refused to receive the testimony of negroes, and declare the law unconstitutional, and refuse to recognize any authority except that of the State of Texas. General Sheridan has reported the condition of things in that State to General Grant, and has stated that he regards it as necessary to remove Governor Throckmorton and other officials, but General Grant replied that the President and Cabinet were discussing the question of his power to remove civil officers, and that he had better wait for their decision. The decision has been rendered. According to the Attorney General, the Cabinet and the President, these judges who refuse to recognize any authority except that of the State of Texas cannot be removed by anybody. We shall see whether Congress will permit its egislation to be repealed in this fashion .-

THERE is a deep significance in the fact that in all the late revolutionary eruptions in England the surging masses chant the striking battle-lyric of our army, "John Brown's Soul is Marching On." All the recent troubles and uprisings in the British empire no matter what their immediate cause, are at bottom a protest of the people against the class government which has so long deprived them of their natural and inalienable rights, and this spontaneous adoption of the hymn of our latest struggle for freedom is an unconscious and instinctive acknowledgment of our leadership in the cause of human liberty.-Philadelphia Press.

Gov. Brown of Georgia.

We copy the following from the Phil'a. Press, and submit it to our readers, and also recommend Gov. Brown's opinion to the Democratic press of Pennsylvania for publieation as a suitable companion piece to the Longstreet letters:

Longstreet letters: "The position of Gov. Brown of Georgia is well known at the North, and his public utterances have been such as to commend him to the sympathy and support of all who have at heart the common good of the whole country and the commercial and social re-habilitation of the South. It may afford amusement to anti-reconstruc-tionists. but it is death to the South, who, it must be emphatically understood, did not de-sive and are by no means responsible for it. Its result will be to concrue Congress in July, when the enemies of reconstruction will seek to have more rigorous legislation towards the South adopted. intent of the reconstruction act is defeated. The whole labor of Congress is frustrated. We must begin anew, and the reliabilitation of the South is put off once more. The practical working of this opinion re-veals itself and needs no commentary or ex-planation from us. Every rebel in Texas will vote and take his chance for an indict-ment for false swearing before grand juries of which every member will have commit-ed the same offence, and in a State where in no instance since the war has a rebel beem punished for criminal offence by a jury of his peers. is peers. securing the South to the Democratic party —a plan which opens the polls to all uncon-scientious men, but closes them against all who may have been disaffected but still re gard their oath. An Interview of a Southern Editor.-He explains himself on Confiscation.

From the Union Springs (Miss.) Times.]

(From the Union Springs (Miss.) Times.) [From the Union Springs (Miss.) Times.] I visited Laneaster, and in the forenoon of Friday, the 23d inst., obtained an aud-ience. Mr. Stevens was in his fine library quite feeble physically, but intellectually more vigorous, prompt, and lucid than is usual in men seventy-four years old. He is tall, and has the bones of a large man, but is now very thin in flesh. The face and beard are both good—the eyes uncertain; the mouth, with its thin, closed lips, and the strong jaw, tells the secret of the bitterness and love of despotic power and revenge that fills his heart and keeps the man alive. Upon first entering the room, by a door which gave use a full view of the man, there was something so like a smile on his face, that I thought his heart and his speeches, his conscience and his words, were not in harmony. This soon flitted, and from that time to the elose of the interview, the whole countenance—from the grand arched fore head to the hard chim—was the very ideal of cold, pitiless intellect. I told him who I was, the views I entertained, and requested that he would say nothing to me which he desired kept secret. As he had been talking a great deal and was quite exhausted, I was forced to question rapidly and confine my-self to leading topics. The most of the con-versation was heard by a gentleman who called with me, and who can vonch far its correctness, which is almost verial. I told him I had come to hear from him, whom I regarded as the great head and mas-ter of the party, just what his party deman-de and where their demands would stop; upon what terms and at what probable time his party would recognize the Southern

The Surratt Trial. - Gen. Sickles' Letter. -July Session of Congress.

-July Session of Congress. WASHINGTON, June 24.—The Surratt trial is progressing slowly. The defence are evidently nonplassed at the course of the prosceution, and do not seem to appreciate the importance of the testimony now being taken. The defence, it is understood, expect to prove that Surratt was at Elmira. N. Y., on the 14th of April, and that he left there on the 15th, but the mute witness, the handkerebiel found at Burlington, VL, on the evening of the 17th of April, dispels this theory, insmuch as it was impossible for him, if at Elmira to have reached Burling-ton on the 17th of April, so that he must have arrived there from some place other than Elmira. The defence however, will contend that the handkerehief was not dropped by Surratt at all, but by a detec-tive who went to Canada in pursuit of him. This effort will also be destroyed for the simple reason that it can be shown that the aforesaid detective did not reach Burlington before the 20th of April. Sickles to Senator Wilson — Insufficiency of the Appropriation to carry out the Reconstruction Law. HDQRS. SECOND MILITARY DISTRICT, } Charleston, S. C., June 18, 1867. The Hon. HENRY WILSON. Chief Military Committee, United States Senate: My DEAR Sin: It is probable, in view of existing circumstances, that Congress will convene in July. It is preper, therefore, I should inform you that the appropriation of $500,000 to exceed the Reconstruction acts is altogether inadequate. I am inform-eless than those of other District Command-ers. Indeed, the whole sum was more ed that my estimates for April and May are less than those of other District Command-ers. Indeed, the whole sum was more than absorbed by the estimates for May. For the Carolinas at least $350,000 will be required. I have applied to the Navy and Treasury Departments for facilities, which, in view of the small appropriation, I pre-sumed would be granted, but my requests have not been favorably considered. I un-derstand that the Secretary of the Navy as-signed as his reason that no aid must be expected from that Department in the exe-cution of the Reconstruction acts of Con-gress. The Secretary of the Treasury ex-pressed his desire to do all be could, but did not feel at liberty to make any disburse-ments for objects not precisely within the jurisdiction of his Department. It is usual, I believe, when the appropriation for an ob-ject authorized by Congress is insufficient to make the necessary expenditures and trust to a "deficiency bill," but in the exceution of those acts this course will be impractica-ble, inasmuch as the principal disburse-ments for objects of persons who

We have never had much faith in Secretary Mc-Culloch's financiering, but of all his queer doings we know of none so unaccountable and unreasonable as the hoarding of hundreds of millions in unproductive idleness while the country is heavily taxed to pay interest on the public debt. The only explanation that suggests itself to us is, that he wishes to assist Andy Johnson in his disorganizing schemes, by prolonging and increasing the financial embarrassments of the nation to the utmost of his ability. The excess of funds now in the Treasury beyond what is necessary to meet current expenditures, if applied to the extinguishment of the public debt by the redemption of Government bonds would save the country about a million of dollars per month. Why then should this not be done? Does the Secretary use these funds to engage himself, or assist others, in speculations? If these surplus funds had been used in reducing the national indebtedness, instead of, as they were, to increase the financial difficulties, the premiur on gold might have been steadily reduced. the prices of all the necessaries of life gradually lowered, business generally stimulated and the general welfare of all and particularly of the laboring classes greatly enhanced. But considerations of this kind seem to have no weight with Mr. McCulloch and instead of consulting the interests of the Country, in all his efforts he seems to aim at producing financial embarrassment, the prostration of business and the oppression of the people. When will we be delivered from his reckless and blundering management of the national Treasury?

"Would you be pleased to see organized in Alabama a government similar to that of Tenuessee under such men as Brownlow, a few of which I am sorry to say we have among ue, Milt. Saffold for instacce?" He replied hesitatingly. "It is not a matter of men at all; it would depend upon circumstances and principles. We would factorily." We trust the above expression of intelli-gent Southern opinion will be read by every man in this State. Flouted and repudiated as false and mischievous by all classes South, is it not effrontory of the worst kind in the treacherous Democracy to ask the suffrages of the people of our Commonwealth?"

RELIGIOUS BELIEF OF THE ESQUIMAUX.

KELIGIOUS BELIEF OF THE ESQUIMAUX. —The distinguished northern voyager, Dr. Hayes, in a recent lecture, gave a brief de-scription of the E-enimaux, their habits, mode of living, religion, &c. They believe in a future state, a good and bad spirit, a heaven and hell. The abode of happiness they consider a green island, where no ice is and there is plenty to cat and nothing to do. The place of punishment is about the reverse. The evil spirit is said to be the good spirit's wife?
