A PARTY of hunters and others, started for the Sulphur Springs on Monday last, purposing, we believe, to hunt, fish, and seek such enjoyment as may be found in that locality. They went provided for a two weeks stay and intending to camp out during that time.

THERE has been a larger number of "porkers" lounging about our streets for several weeks than usual. What has become of the ordinance prohibiting swine from running a large in the Borough on secular days? We thought this privilege was exclusively reserved for Sunday. This, we presume, is the construc tion placed upon the law by the members of ENERGY, good judgment in selecting wares and machinery, one price and fair dealing with all, have made the Hardware and Farm Machinery store of Hartley & Metzger a place of attraction to the farmers within a radius loads of cradles and scythes, thickets of Reapers, Mowers and Rakes, now they are filling our streets with trains of "Willoughby Gum Roller Grain Drills," soon to be scattered as issionaries of life" through the dales and over the hills of Southern Penn'a. Every sensible farmer will own a drill. They are a success. But take care to order soon.

There is nothing more beautiful of the vegetable kind than the large luscious strawberries which our people are begining to introduce generally into their gardens. We have seen some of the finest sp this season that it has ever been our pleasure Those who have not already in troduced them will find them to be most splendid and valuable acquisitions to their numerous garden products and introduced with very little expense. Some of the finest specimens are raised by Capi. Thos. Lyons, of this place, the deliciousness of which we have fully tested. Let everybody who has space raise strawberries.

THE ARANDALE HOUSE .-- The splendid building, erected on the property of the late George Smith, half way between Bedford and the Springs, by Robarts & Smith, has been christened the "Arandale House." This en-terprise was commenced immediately after 'Spring Season' of last year and pushed with it is in a condition to receive visitors. Its length is eighty six feet by forty in breadth and equivalent to four stories. The halls are spacious and the rooms commodious and well ventilated. It is most tastefully furnished with modern hotel furniture. The views from the lookout and rooms are grand. It will be able, it is said, to accommodate one hundred visitors. We wish the enterprising proprietors abundant success in their liberal enterprise.

A small pamphlet has been published by the proprietors of the Bedford Springs, for gratutious distribution, under date of Philalelphia, 1867, entitled "The Bedford Mineral Springs with an analysis of its waters, together with extracts from celebrated medical writers,' which contains the startling announcement: 'visitors from Philadelphia reach there [Bedford] the same day by taking the Pennsylvania Railroad cars to Huntingdon, where they connect with the cars on the Broad Top drive of Bedford by plank road and turnpike." It will be news to our people to learn that the Broad Top road extends no farther than lumbering coaches. It is about time that the | leled success of Plantation Bitters. J. T. Keagy, Esq., then read the following solutions, which were unanimously adopt

Resolved, That this Convention heartily ratifies the nomination of Hou. Henry W. Williams of Allegheny County, for Judge of the Supreme_Court, and fully endorses the resolutions of the Williamsport State Convention by which he was placed in nomina-vention by which he was placed in nomination.

Resolved, That we approve of the course of our late representatives Messrs. Richard and Weller, and declare them to be the choice of Bedford county for re-election; that we consent to and advise their unanimous nomination without the formalities of a Conference. Should this suggestion not prove acceptable to the other counties of the District, then John Cessna, Capt J. S. Stuckey, and Josiah Ott, are hereby appointed couferes for this County and instructed to support Messrs. Richards and Weller for nomination.

Resolved, That we call the earnest and deliberate attention and consideration of the tax payers of Bedford county, without distinction of party, to the alarming condition of the finances of the county, the gross mismanagement of the public funds, the appointment of favorites to the position of county and township offices, the defalcation of collectors and others, and generally to the bungling manner in which the accounts of the county are managed by our officials. If the party now in power cannot give a more the county are managed by our officials. In the party now in power cannot give a more satisfactory account of the affairs to the people, we earnestly recommend that they will bring back to our midst the late District Attornev, who was so long an able, prominent and influential member of the party, and who could no doubt, bring order out of the confusion cover surrounding us.

no doubt, bring order out of the confusion now surrounding us.

Resolved, That we rejoice to know that our party friends are in no way responsible for the present lamentable and disgraceful condition of affairs at the Poor House of the county, that we ask the reflecting and good men of the county to rise up and compel a change in the management of that institution.

The following is the County Committee an unced for the ensuing year:

This announcement the fate of Jericho, upon the amount of noise will be highly edifying to the visitor who is made-in these days of refinement and luxury, anxious to visit here, but who involuntarily an article of real intrinsic merit is soon apshudders at the thought of twenty miles of preciated; hence the unbounded and unparal-saratoga, where there are numerous notes and boarding houses, and many thousand visitors every year. And there is nothing except want of management and enterprise on the part of the past and present owners of the Bedford Springs that has kept this watering-place for Springs that has kept this watering-place to be numbered by thousands where there are but hundreds. And now, when there is the first effort made to extend the accommodations, so that more visitors may come, it is met by this tax, intended to discourage, and as far as possible prevent! Is it not enough, the mismanagement and short-sighted policy that has brooded over this watering-place like an incubus in the past?

But there is another question, and that is—is this newly imposed tariff (imposed only since Messrs. Robarts & Smith, Chenoweth, and Cramer have erected their several hotels and boarding houses) legal? Was not the use of these following fundamental rules and regulations shall be observed, that is to say:

Ist. The said John Anderson, his heirs and assigns, owners of the adjacent lands and improvements, shall in succession, be one of the managers of said Springs. And it is further agreed, that in the execution of the said Springs, the following fundamental rules and regulations shall be observed, that is to say:

Ist. The said John Anderson, his heirs and assigns, owners of the adjacent lands and improvements to two or more persons, he said signs, owners of the said springs. And it is further agreed, that in the execution of the said Springs, the following fundamental rules and regulations shall be observed, that is to say:

Ist. The said John Anderson, his heirs and aspirals. And it is further agreed, that in the execution of the said Springs, the following fundamental rules and regulations shall be observed, that is to say:

and boarding houses) legal? Was not the use of these God-given waters long ago dedicated to the public? We certainly have always been under this impression. It is true that some years ago there was a charge of one or two dollars imposed on each visitor, which it was stated in a hand bill then hanging about the grounds was to be expended in the making of walks and beautifying the grounds; but this is nothing of that kind A visitor. There is the result of the said property, entitled to act as manager representing the said property, entitled to act as manager representing the said property, entitled to act as manager and in such case, the person who shall take the principal or most valuable boarding house adjoining the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said property, entitled to act as manager representing the said adjacent property, act as manager, with the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said John Anderson, yor any devisee, or alience of the said property, entitled to act as manager and in such case, the person who shall take the principal or most valuable boarding house adjoining the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said John Anderson, yor any devisee, or alience of the said property, should be representing the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said property, should be representing the said property, should be represented to the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould so happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itshould a happen that the said grantees and their successors, and if itsho ut this is nothing of that kind. A visito who comes to the town or neighborhood, and uses the water but for a day or two, is to be axed five dollars to go into the pockets of the Anderson heirs! This is an important matter and ought to be looked into. If five dol rs can be charged why not fifty or five hundred? Or they may refuse entirely to let the boarders in town or at the neighboring hotels ise the waters.

Looking at this thing from the stand-point of the public interests of this community, we ope the Messrs. Andersons will not insist on this tax, but if they do, that its legality will be fully tested. At the request of a number of persons we ay before our readers the Deed made by Dr. Anderson to Jonathan H. Walker, Dr. William Watson, Josiah M. Espey and Samuel Riddle, in trust for the use of the public, of the three Springs, comprising the entire number of Medicinal Springs upon the Springs property. How this Deed is affected by subse quent conveyances and incorporations we are ot prepared to say, but it strikes us very forcibly that it will be pretty hard to circum

The Reget of the Public to the Water of the Springs.—We observe an aunounce ment by hand bills at the Springs, that Five Dollars will be charged each person for the use of the water, except residents of Bedford county, and guests of the hotel at the Springs. This is evidently done to compel, as far as may be, all visitors to board at the Springs, and is a blow at the boarding houses and hotels in the town and neighborhood. Supposing that the Andersons have the legal right, the policy of this imposition, strikes us, as narrow, illiberal and unwise. It would be very much better for them to depend on making their hotel attract guests by superiority of accommodations and by the evident advantage it has in location.

In Washington, Pa., June 22, 1867, Miss NAN-CY LYON, in the 90th year of her age.

She was born in Cumberland county, Pa., near Carlisle, April 27, 1778. Deprived by death of her parents, Samuel and Eleanor Lyon—the latter in her childhood, and the former in her early life, she had her home for many years at Bedford, Pa., in the family of a sister, the wife of the Hon. Jam.s M. Russell. Since the death of her brotheer-in-law, the late Alexander Reed, Esq., of Washington, in 1842, she resided permanently with her older sister Mrs. Reed, who still survives.

Washington, in 1842, she resided permanently with her older sister Mrs. Reed, who still survives.

Miss Lyon was one of a large family, and of a wide and influential connection. Among her special friends was the first Mrs. Dr. Matthew Brown, for whom she acted as bridesmaid on the occasion of her marriage. Few persons had so large an acquaintance or knowledge of persons and families and their history. She was also a reader of unusual diligence, not only in the current literature of the day, but also in the higher department of the British Classics. Cowper was her favorite poet, and at a moment's call, she could draw his finer passages from the rich store, and the store of the store of BRILLIANCY, and all other points which go to make a first-class instrument.

The "VOX HUMANA TREMOLO" is the greatest of all modern improvements on read instruments. It CHARMS and SURPRISES all who hear it, by its wonderful resemblance to the HUMAN VOICE. Do not confound this with the common tremoio in use. It is entirely different, and far superior to any other.
