THE POTATO BUG.

I am satisfied that in a region of country ich has been fully occupied and possessed by this little pest, it will not pay to attempt to grow potatees in towns and thickly settled sections, where one is surrounded by neighbors who plant potatoes, and think it too small business to make war upon such an insiguificant creature as a bug, In that case, no mat-ter how much pains the farmer may take to clear his own vines, fresh armies will be perpetually invading him from the fields of his less diligent neighbors, and finally he will have to give up in despair, and own , himself beaten. The best chance is where a farm is located several miles from any potato growing neighbor.

The Law lays it down as a general rule, that a man must so use his own property so as not damage his neighbor. But the Law does not always practice what it preaches. If it did, it would prohibit every man from keeping cattle which are notoriously breachy. If it did, it would inflict capital punishment upon all the sheep killing dogs in the country. If it did, it would make it a penal offence to allow a single Canada thistle to run to seed. Dr. Bradley was in. A Quaker gentleman, riding in a carriage with a fashionable lady decked with a profu. sion of jewelry, heard her complain of the cold. Shivering in her lace bonnet and shawl as light as cobweb, she exclaimed : "What shall I do to get warm ?" "I really don't know," replied the Quaker solemnly," unless thou should put on another breast-pin.""

A YOUNG member of the Bar thought he would adopt a motto for himself, and after much reflection, wrote in large letters and posted up against the wall the following

"Suum Cuique," which may be translated, "Let every one have his own."

A country client coming in, expressed himself much gratified with the maxim, but added:

"You don't spell it right." "Indeed ! then how ought it to be spelt?" The visitor replied: "Sue'em quick."
