and Mr. Jordan is selected. We protest against this unfairness. Had Judge Wil-liams been elected, Col. Jordan would have been referred to in no other than complimentary terms by those who now manifest un seemly baste to be little his services. The world worships success, but its unsuccessf men are often the more meritorious. Editors of all men, should know how to discriminate between merit and success, and should show their readers how to honor those who are unsuccessful in a good cause. Col. Jordan was personally active and vigilant during the campaign, and was as effective in organizing and informing the masses of the party throughout the State as the means at his disposal would permit. If the party was restive under the weight of side ssues with which it never should have been addled, if it was indignant at the corrup practices of many of its representatives in the Legislature last winter, if it was disgusted because Jeff. Davis was not tried and punished, and because Andy Johnson was not impeached by a Republican Congress surely Frank Jordan is not to blame. Oth ers and not he lost us the State. It is not his fault that our party is to day mourning an ignominious defeat when it should be repicing ever a brilliant victory.-Johnsto

The Copperhead press has persistently rged that the late slaveholders of the Southern States are the only true friends of the negro, and that to their hands the destinies of the freedmen should be entrust ed. Since the Virginia election, we have had an exhibition of this friendship, the by their employers, the former slaveholders, for no other reason than, that they chose after negroes have been turned off by hundreds

Republican party was, that they did not wish reconstruction. False as the charge was, it was not without sufficient appearance o truth to make it a plausible one; for though the republican party had been earnestly striv ing to restore the lately rebellious States at the earliest possible moment consistent with the public safety, the copperheads and reb els had succeded in so obstructing every measure devised by the government as to prevent any perceptible progress in the work of reconstruction, and then, after the regular "stop thief" method, raised a bue and cry against the republican party. Copperhead consistency in this matter is just now being illustrated in a striking manner. After accusing the republican party of a deliberate design to prevent reconstruction. now when under the laws of Congress the Southern States are holding elections and preparing to form Constitutions preparatory to re-admission, every copperhead journal is loud in its demunciations of the whole business, and most profuse in its advice to the Southern rebels and conservatives to stay away from the polls and so defeat once the work of reconstruction. Consistency, thou are not a jewel in copperhead estimation.
