(Continued from First Page) counted for by exportation, and therefore, may yet remain in the country. These are important facts, and show how completely the inferior currency will supersede the bet-ter, forcing it from circulation among the masses, and carried of foreign lands, — They show the necessity of retiring our pa-per money, chat the retarn of gold and silver to the avenues of trade may be invited, and a demand created which will cause the re-trother avenues of trade may be invited, and a demand created which will cause the re-trother avenues of trade may be invited, and a demand created which will cause the re-trother avenues of trade may be invited, and a demand created which will cause the re-trother avenues of trade may be invited, and a demand created which will cause the re-trother avenues of trade may be invited, and a demand created which will cause the re-trother avenues of trade may be sufficient for purposes of circulation. It is an ensumble of circulation with depreciated paper. Not-withstanding a conage by our mints since 1849 of eight hundred and sevents four mil-lions of dollars, the people are now strangers to the currency which was designated for the interest excited by their novely. If depreciated paper is to be controp, and all our coin is to become a more atticle of traffic and specific, and specificens of the confort of the people, it would be vise confort of the people, it woul counted for by exportation, and therefore be uniform in value at home and a broad. Every man of property or industry—every man who desires to preserve what be honest-ly possesses, or to obtain what he can hom-estly earn, has a direct interest in maintain-ing a safe circulating medium as shill be real and substantial, not liable to vibrate with opinious, not subject to be blown ap or blown down by the breath of speculation, but to be made stable and severe A diswith opinions, not subject to be blown up or blown down by the breath of speculation, but to be made stable and secure. A dis-ordered currency is one of the greatest politi-cal evils; it undermines the virtues necessary for the support of the social system, and en-conrages propensities destructive of its hap-piness. It wars against industry, frugality and economy, and it fosters the evil spirits of extravagance and speculation. It has been asserted by one of our profound and most gifted statesman, that "of all the con-trivances for cheating the laboring classes of mankind, none has been more effectual than that which deluded them with paper money." This is the most effectual of inventious to fortilize the rich man's field by the sweet of the poor man's brow. Ordinary tyrany, oppression, excessive taxation, these bear lightly on the happiness of the mass of the community as compared with a fraudulean currency and the robberies committed by depreciated paper. Onr own history has re-corded for our instruction enough, and more than enough, of the demoralizing tendency, the injustice and the intolerable oppression on the virtuous and well disposed of a de-mended to not many struction enough of a deon the virtuens and well disposed of a graded paper currency authorized by law in any way countenanced by Governme It is one of the most successful devices It is one of the most successful devices times of peace or war, expansions or rev-sions, to accomplish the transfer of all precious metals from the great mass of people into the hands of the few, whi-they are hearded in secret places or dop-ted in strong boxes under bolts and b-while the people are left to endure all inconvenience, sacrifice and demoralizar resulting from the use of a depricated worthless paper money. The condition our financies and the operations of our ru-nue system are set forth and fully explai-in the able and instructive report of Secretary of the Treasury. with his department, the menancing atti-tade of some of the warlike bands of Indi-ans inhabiting the district of country by tween the Arkansas and Platte Rivers and ans inhabiting the district of country be tween the Arkansas and Platte Rivers and portions of Dakota territory, required the presence of a large military force in that re-eion. Instigated by real or imaginary grievances the Indians oceasionally commit-ted acts of barbarons violence upon emi-grants and our frontier stlements, but a general Indian war has been providentially avoided. The Commissioners, under the act of 20th of July, 1867, were invested with full power to adjust existing difficulties, negotiate treaties with the disaffected bands, and select for them reservations remote from the traveled routes between the Mississippi and the Pacific. They entered without de-lay upon the execution of their trust, but have not yet made any official report of their proceedings. It is of vital importance that our distant Territories should be exempt from Indian outbreaks, and that the cop struction of the Pacific Railroad, an object of national importance, should not be inter runted by hostile Indians. These objects, as well as the material in-provement of the Indians, can be most effectually secured by concentrating them upon portions of country set apart for their exclusive use, and located at points remote from our highways and eneroaching white settlements. Territorial Extention—the West India Is-lands.

The West India Islands were settled and colonized by European States simultaneous ly with the settlement and colonization of the American continent. Most of the colo-nies planted here became independent na-tions in the close of the last and the begin-ning of the present century. Our own country embraces communities which at one period were colonies of Great Britian, France, Spain, Holland, Sweden, and Russia. The people in the West Indies, with the excep-tion of those of the Island of Hayti, have neither attained nor aspired to independ-ence; nor have they become prepared for self-defence. Although possessing consid-erable commercial value they have been held by the several European States which colonized, or at some time conquered them, chiefly for purposes of military and naval strategy in carrying out European policy and designs in regard to this continent. In our Revolutionary war ports and harbors in West India Islands, were used by our ene-my to the great injury and embarrassment of the United States. We had the same The West India Islands were settled and n West India Islands, were used by our ene-tion west India Islands, were used by our ene-tion of the United States. We had the same experience in our second war with Great Britain. The same European policy for a long time excluded us even from trade with the West Indies. While we were at peace with all nations in our recent civil war, the Rebels and their piratical and blockade-breaking allies found facilities in the same parts for the work, which they too success-fully accomplished, of iojuring and devasta-ting the commerce which we are now en-gaged in rebuilding. We labored especially under this disadvantage, that European found friendly shelter, protection and sup-plies in West Indian ports, while our own naval operations were necessarily carried on from our own distant shore. The year 1868 will long be remembered" for its artistorardy of Color and Impartial Human Lifts-erty. The War of the Rebellion being closed, we have now to decide whether the fundamental idea which impelled and justified the Rebellion shall dominate over our whole country, molding her in-stitutions and chaping her destiny. If it be rule that God has yor created all mea, but only all White men, irr His own image, and made them equal in polltical and civil rights, then it is a world-wide calamity that Grant did not surrender to des at Appointator, and "The lost Cause," trod-dein into mire under the hoof of Sheridan's rough-ding evalyr, not only should but will be regain-din Constitutional Conventions and at the bal-lot-boxes. If the Black race, because they are black, should be excluded from the jury-box and repelled from the ballot-box, then Stonewall Jack-on ought to head the roll of Américan martyrs, makaroned high above the names of Warren and Mercer and Pulaski; of Ellsworth, Lyon, Baker, Ayondis, Wadsworth, Kearny, Sedgwick, and u. Mercer and Pulaski ; of Ellsworth, Lyon, Baker. Reynolds, Wadsworth, Kenrny, Sedgwick, and MePherson. It is difficult to argue with a blind, besotted and bePherson. It is difficult to argue with a blind, besotted pulatics grounded in ignorance and fortified by all-connecit. Devoid of reason, it is hardly asso-ble to reason. But millions who would listen numoved to appeals based upon Justice and Hu-marity can be stirred by facts which effect their wan interest and safety. The naked trath that very Suthern State reconstructed on the White asir is to day a Rabel State--shaped and ruled y men who exerated Lincoln's reluctant and ardy resistance to the Robellion as a causeless and criminal aggression, and profoundly rejoized ver Buil Run as their vittory--will prove invin-tible, if we can but bring it home to the appre-tension of every loyal vater. There is no para-bonderance of White loyally as to their own pro-cetion and security. Reconstruct the South on the White basis, and every one of the fifteen states which held Slaves in 1860 will be intensely, verwhelmingly Copperhead thenceforth and ev-rmore. would daily average by outrage and infliction what it deems negro treachery to the Southern cause. The THENTRY has declined to belured or turned adde from the Main Question. It has presis-tently refused to swell the clanur for vengeance on the defeated Rebels, whether by execution or by confiscation ; and one of its strong reasons for this course is a conviction that no drop of Rebel blood could be coolly, deliberately shed without essentially clouding the prospect of securing the Right of Suffrage to the Blacks. Defying the madness of passion and the blindness of short-signted misconception, it has demanded Recon-struction on the basis of Universal Annesty with Impartial Suffrage, in perfect consciousness of the fact that it thereby alienated thousands who had been its realous supporters and life-long patrons. The hour of its complete vindication cannot be far distant. As for the man who is to be the chosen structure of the Republican hest in the im-pending centest, while we arow our deliberate preference of Chief Jaztic Chase as the ablest and most eminent of our living statesmen, Tur Thin-yeas of the Ropublic, we do not contemplate as apossible the support by Republicans of any can-idate who does not stand on this platform.
