ABOUT FUEL.

The season is at hand when the fuel question will be of importance to the farmer.— Those who with forethought and labor provided at the proper season for such work a sufficiency, are in good condition to look white winter in the face; but if your fuel for the ensuing six months is yet standing in the forest, his grim countenance may be suggest tive of snowy work and sputtering fires that go out on a road which is hard for you to

Some dry wood can be gleaned by gathering the dead poles and trees before deep snowfall, and there is one comfort in this work. which is that you are thereby effecting a sav ing of more valuable timber and bringing your forest into a better state of culture. After this you can select the best kinds of wood for burning green; probably hickory stands foremost, then maple and beech; oak is per haps the worst of all common wood for burn ing in an unseasoned state, yet when well seasoned under cover, is one of the very best, ranking next to hickory. If the time is short in which to season the fuel, split it fine and pile it out of doors in a situation well exposed to sun and wind. It is best to put only one or at most, two tiers in a place, as this gives the wind better action on the wood. By timely and efficient action in the matter, with some aid from the stove oven to dry the morning supply, one can get along and not suffer se riously from lack of dry wood. Often there is a partial supply of the latter on hand, in which case it is best to eke it out by mixing green with it, but in any case make and keep one good resolution, namely, to provide thi winter plenty of cut fuel to last one year.

AN OLD FARMER'S SLATE. - Writing about improvements reminds me that a farmer does not always think of what is needful and may be done when leisure time occurs, and it re calls to my mind the practice of a large and successful farmer, who at his death left his affairs in a prosperous condition, and his premises in complete order. His neighbors often wondered at the ease with which he conducted his operations; he never hur ried, but the right thing was always done at the right time and his work never lagged. Much of the improvement he made was in odd spells when the routine of regular farm work was broken by rainy weather, or after finishing the work on a crop, and while waiting for another to get to the proper stage. He kept a large slate hanging in the kitchen where all his workmen could see it, and whenever a job occurred to him it was noted on the slate For instance some of his entries ran thus,-'Make a gate for the brook lot;" "Clea out the open ditch in the wheat field; " " Lay a new floor on the scaffold over the barn "Bury the large stone in the middle lot;" "Get some whitewood trees to mill for making garden fence pickets;" "Plant shade trees along the road side;" "Dig the alders out of the fence corners and look after the wild mustard that came up where the thrashing machine stood in the field last year." In this way his slate was filled, and if a leisur half day occurred his men all had plenty of work; and if the master happend to be absent the slate told the workmen what to do. After a time it was his custom to lay out the day's work on the slate each evening previous, and when a job was finished the record was erased To get the slate clean was the ambition of the

OF THE UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD,

RUNNING WEST FROM CMAHA ACROSS THE CONTINENT, ARE NOW COMPLETED.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have built a longer line of railroad in the last eighteen months than was ever built by any other company in the same time, and they will continue the work with the same energy until it is completed. The Western Division is being pushed rapidly eastward from Sacramenta by the Central Pacific Company of California, and it is expected that THE ENTIRE GRAND LINE to the Pacific will be open for business in 1870 Move than one-third of the work has already been done, move than one-third of the whole line is now in running order, and more laborers are now employed upon it than ever before. More than ployed upon it than ever before. More than FORTY MILLION DOLLARS IN MONEY have already been expended by the two powers companies that have undertaken the enterprise and there is no lack of funds for its most vigorou prosecution. When the United States Govern ment found it necessary to secure the construction of the Union Pacific Railroad, to develop an protect its own interests, it gave the Companie authorized to build it such ample aid as should reader its speedy completion beyond a doubt. The available means of the Union Pacific Railroad Company, derived from the Government and its own stockholders, may be briefly summed up as follows.

1.—UNITED STATES BONDS

1.-UNITED STATES BONDS

I.—UNITED STATES BONDS

Having thirty years to run and bearing six per cent corrency interest at the rate of $16,000 per mile for $17 miles on the Plains; then at the rate of $48,000 per mile for 150 miles through the Rocky Mountains; thence at the rate of $32,000 per mile for the remaining distance, for which the United States takes a second lien as security. The interest on these bonds is paid by the United States government, which also pays the company one-half the amount of its bills in money for transporting its freight, troops, mails, &c. The remaining half of these bills is placed to the company's credit, and forms a sinking fund which may finally discharge the whole amount of this lien. The claims against the government since April of the corrent year amount to four and one-half times this interest.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS. 2.—FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS.

By its charter the Company is permitted to is sue its own Eirst Mortgage Bonds to the same amount as the bonds issued by the government, and no more, and only as the road progresses. The Trustees for the bondholders are the Hon. E. D. Morgan, U. S. Senator from New York, and the Hon. Oakes Ames, Member of the U. S. House Representatives, who are responsible for the delivery of these bords to the Company in strict accordance with the terms of the law. 3.-THE LAND GRANT.

5.—THE LAND GRANT.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company has a land grant or absolute donation from the government of 12,800 acres to the mile on the lire of the oof the road, which will not be worth less than $1.50 per acre at the lowest valuation. 4 .- THE CAPITAL STOCK. The authorized capital of the Union Pacific Railroad Company is $100,000,000, of which over 5,000,000,000 have been paid on the work already

THE MEANS SUFFICIENT TO BUILD THE ROAD.

THE MEANS SUFFICIENT TO BUILD THE ROAD.

Contracts for the entire work of the building 914 miles of first-class railroad west from Omaha, comprising much of the most difficult mountain work, and embracing every expense except surveying, have been made with responsible parties (who have already finished over 50°6 miles), at the avorage rate of sixty-eight thousand and fifty-eight dollars (868,088) per mile. This price includes all necessary shops for construction and repairs of cars, depots, stations and all other incidental buildings, and also locomotives, passenger, baggage, and freight cars, and other requisite rolling-stock, to an amount that shall not be less than $5,000 per mile. Allowing the cost of the remaining one hundred and eighty-six of the eleven hundred miles assumed to be built by the Pacific Company to be $50,000 per mile.
