Our Philadelphia Morning Post reached us the day last week with four columns of additional matter. We are happy to see this undoubted evidence of its material prosperity. It is a capital little paper and comes fairly up to what we think an independent paper ought to be. It is sold for a penny.

"HEFTY" HOGS.—Mr. J. J. Shoemaker, proprietor of the Bedford House, killed one day last week, five hogs, whose respective weights, summed up as follows: 483; 456; 407; 378; 367, making in the aggregate the grand amount of 2093 lbs. of pork. Who can beat it?

ST. JOHN'S EVE.—This memorable day was observed by the order of A. Y. Masons in this place, by a supper at the Bedford House. The occasion was a merry one, speeches and toasts were indulged in, and a very fine collation was served up by the proprietor of the house, Mr. J. J. Shoemaker.

The Bedford Lyceum at its next meeting, Tuesday evening, January 9th, will discuss the following question:

Resolved, That we instruct our member of Congress to advocate the repeal of the Military Reconstruction Bill.

Leading Dispensaries.—Aff. R. W. Berk-stroger. Neg.—J. B. Cysna.

A THAW.—During the past week we were favored with a complete thaw, taking off the ice and snow immediately. On Christmas morning the sun rose clear, which gave the appearance of a beautiful day to follow, but about noon the aspect changed, and during the afternoon fell copiously. At present writing we are enjoying a "cold snap," which we hope may continue, and give our folks an opportunity to fill their ice-houses.

SIX P'S.—Poets—Painters—Preachers—Players—Printers and Politicians—all suffer from Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Loss of Appetite, Liver Complaints and all diseases which may cure or prevent by the use of Plantation Bitters. If those sufferers took these Bitters, the Poetry would be purer, the Paintings grander, the Sermons livelier, the Acting truer, the Printing neater, and the Politics honest. This splendid tonic invigorates the system, and enables the brain to work healthily.

Perhaps no article was ever so well endorsed by all who have used it.

WEEK OF PRAYER.—The "Week of Prayer" will be observed in this place, as follows: To commence Monday Evening January 6th, in the Court House; Tuesday Evening, following in the German Reformed Church; Wednesday Evening in the Presbyterian Church; Thursday Evening in the Methodist Church; and Friday Evening in the Lutheran. The public is earnestly invited to attend these services.

"MERRY CHRISTMAS."—Everybody and everybody's neighbor seemed to enjoy the past Christmas, Santa Clauses and Bellicettes innumerable, combined to make the preceding evening hideous, and yet, in a measure, interesting. A general warfare was declared against, and a terrible onslaught made upon Turkey, (roasted and otherwise,) by Christian and Pagan alike. During the afternoon, the Republican and Democratic bands, united, paraded the principal streets, and discoursed some very fine music. Some few "drunks" were observed but no disturbance whatever, occurred to man the pleasure of the day.

DOWN AMONG THE DEAD MEN, are, at this moment thousands who might have been alive and well had they used that great life preserver, Plantation Bitters. Let the living lay it to heart that they are the lost known remedy for all dyspeptic complaints, stomach derangements, and general debility. As a delicious cordial, combined with great tonic virtues, their equal cannot be found.

Delicate Females, Clergymen, Merchants, Lawyers and persons of sedentary habits—particularly those who are weak and suffer with mental depression, are greatly benefited by these Bitters. 1 1/2

A HIGHER TYPE OF MANHOOD—Physically, Intellectually, and Morally.—This is the appropriate motto of The Herald of Health and Journal of Physical Culture, the January number of which comes to us filled to repletion with the very choicest papers upon the most interesting and beneficial topics foreshadowed by its title, from the pens of able writers, such as Henry Ward Beecher, Horace Greeley, Rev. O. B. Frothingham, Moses Coit Tyler, Dr. E. O. Haven, President of Michigan University, Mrs. Elizabeth Oaks Smith, Alice Cary, Mrs. Dr. Gleason, and a score of others. "The Family" and "Letter to Little Folks" are all alone worth its subscription price. The Anniversary of the Lutheran Sunday School, which was held on the evening of Sunday the 22nd ult., exhibited some gratifying features. The exercises consisted of appropriate addresses by Messrs. H. W. Fisher, W. C. Schaeffer and J. M. Reynolds, the reading of the report for the year and the distribution of rewards to the scholars. The first and best of these was given to Henry Lippe, who had committed, during the year, the extraordinary number of eleven thousand four hundred and seventy-one scriptures verses, and the next to William Arnold, who had committed nine thousand two hundred and twenty-six. There were in all thirty-seven prizes given, to as many deserving scholars. In all 14,144 verses were committed by the school. The Secretary's report exhibited a high degree of prosperity in the school. The money raised during the year, by the school, amounted to $519.37. The whole number of scholars in attendance was about 190 and the average 100. A fine Teacher's Library was purchased during the past year, and the libraries of the school combined now number nearly seven hundred volumes. The prosperity of the school is doubtless due in great part to the efficiency of its officers and teachers who deserve great credit for the faithfulness and regularity of their attendance. The Secretary, H. Nicodemus, Esq. has been connected with the school for fifty years during which time he has rarely been absent from its sessions.

DIPHTHERIA.—As it appeared in Bedford and Somerset counties, embracing Peculiarities, Susceptibility, Pathology, treatment, and Prevention. Also, a number of valuable recipes. By Wm. J. Mullin, M. D. Bedford: Durborrow & Lutz, Pamphlet, pp. 41.—This neat and comprehensive little treatise should be in every family. Dr. Mullin has succeeded in divesting his subjects of much technicality as possible and clattering his ideas in such simple language that all who read can comprehend. We cannot better state the objects of its author than by copying his own introduction: "In the writing and publication of this little book, the author has been actuated by no other motive than to impart information to the public in reference to one of the most distressing diseases that has ever afflicted humanity. When we come to consider its location, in the throat, the avenue through which all medication and food must be apparent to the patient, it is not surprising that all who should know how to detect the disease the moment it occurs, as, under such circumstances, much time and suffering may be saved, as well as many valuable lives preserved by prompt and efficient treatment. Many persons, through ignorance, or carelessness, pass over the disease, scarcely giving it any attention, until it has gone so far that medical treatment, in many cases, no matter how skillfully applied, proves utterly unavailing, and hence the great importance of an early start in this respect. I have endeavored to point out symptoms which are unmistakable, and no one can err in diagnosis, if they will but give the proper attention. To conclude briefly, if, in this humble effort, I shall, under Providence, be the means of contributing but a tittle to the amelioration of human suffering, or be the instrument through which a single life is saved, I shall consider myself well repaid for my trouble."

A SPLENDID ARTICLE of Blank Deeds on the best parchment paper, for sale at the Inquirer office.

"SHADOWS ALL"—By the statement of the Triennial Assessment, which appears in another part of this paper, and which is made up by sworn officers of the law, the public is let into the knowledge of some very queer facts. We had long ago been told, that all is not gold that glitters, but we nevertheless labored under the delusion that several persons in our town were possessed of real gold watches, but it turns out, that there is not a watch above the value of twenty dollars in the town. So in other things—there is not a man in the town who has a dollar of money at interest. There is scarcely a family in the town that possesses over $200, worth of furniture, to be sure we had an impression that quite a number of persons were really in possession of good and valuable furniture and some even of valuable plate, &c, but here too the assessors, are kind enough to enlighten us with the information that the whole aggregate of such excess over $200 to a family, in the town only amounts to three hundred dollars. These are but a few facts on which the people generally suffer under a miserable delusion. Doubtless some mischievous persons will undertake to contradict these assertions, but we warn our readers against any plausible stories they may tell. They are all moonshine, for does not the poet tell us that "things are not what they seem" and do not the assessors in the exercise of their sworn duty fully confirm his statement? It is an unpleasant task thus to awaken our friends from their pleasant dreams of valuable possessions, but this is a matter of fact, and facts, no fancies, it is our duty to lay before our readers. The public, by too great credulity, blundered in the same foolish way in regard to incomes until their eyes were opened.
