[Concluded from First Page.] LEGISLATION.

[Concluded from First Fage.] LEGISLATION. At the last session certain bills were pas-sed in which large numbers of citizens were deeply interested, the responsibility for which, after the adjournment, but few mem-bers could be found willing to assume, or even to admit any knowledge of their pass-age. It is expected that every logislator should be acquainted with all that is trans-piring in the legislative halls. He is not simply chosen to give his support to certain bills which have been called to his individ-mal attention, but to be constantly on the alert to frustrate every act that may have a tendency to jeopardize the public interests. To plead ignorance after a real or imaginary wrong has been done, is to acknowledge a want of attention to the trust reposed by his constituents. One bill, the authorship and knowledge of which has been generally disclaimed, passed both branches of the As-sembly, and was sent in due form, with the signatures of the proper officers, for the Executive approval, and in several instances bills were passed and sent for approval in duplicate. All such hasty and careless legis-lation should be avoided, and the members of the session now about to commence be onabled at its close to give an account of their participation in e cry act, however of the session now about to commence be enabled at its close to give an account of their participation in e ry act, however unimportant. The Legislature, coming as it dees, fresh from the ranks of the people, should set an example in economy, retrench-ment and reform. It is the custodian of the public interests, and any unnecessaey ex-travagance or prodigality in the expenditure of public money is reprehensible. It was a matter of common notoriety at the last ses-sion that a number of subordinate officers, in both branches of the Assembly, were ap-pointed, to whom liberal salaries were paid, and who were never seen at their designated posts, and rendered no service to the State. This practice has been emphatically com-demned by the press and the people, and which means to acquire a reputation for a faithful performance of duty. Your atten-tion is respectfully invited to the law on this subject as contained in sections fifteen to righteen of the act approved the 7th day of May, 1855. ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS.

ANNUAL APPROPRIATIONS. Torr attention is directed to the practice of withholding the annual appropriation bill until the latest moments of the session. In the public estimation great importance is at-tached to this bill, and no action of the Leg-islature undergoes a closer or more careful serutiny. Its provisions concern the en-trice community, and in their enactment too much caution cannot be observed. Last year the appropriation [bill]was not passed until the last night of the session, when it was hurried through both branches of the Legislature, and on the following morning prime for the necessary investigation, and subjecting the Executive to the alternative of signing it with all its imperfections, or suspending, for the ensuing year, the indis-generable means for the operations of the State Government. It is, therefore, earn-sty desired that the appropriation bill he taken up, discussed, and passed at a suffi-cionable it to receive that thorough examina-tion which its importance demands. Whilst a large portion of the insurance bu-some of our companies have recently abol-ished their agencies in New York, because, as they say, no one there will insure in a Pennsylvania company, in consequence of the laxity of our insurance laws. The polic cits of many organizations, under our press-of similar character are starting into exist-ence. Within a few months five fire insur-ance companies have failed, one of which had issued policies to over oue million of dollars, and other serious defections are of frequent occurrence. had issued policies to over one million of dollars, and other serious defections are of frequent occurrence. In view of these facts and the costly ex-perience of the people, I would recommend the establishment of an Insurance Depart-ment, similar to those in New York and Massachusetts, that shall have supervision and control over all companies allowed to transact business within this State. Such renactment is required for the security of our citizens. Millions of dollars are paid our by them annually for insurance-much of it it under such circumstances as to render it is possible for a private individual to know whether the company to which he pays is, or is not reliable. Careful supervision, by a f superintendent appointed by law, and pub-lished reports of the same, under oath, would prevent much loss and fraud. The security of the companies themselves in require an Insurance Department. The people demand protection from ignorance. fraud and insolvency. Consulting the in-surance journals, we find that as a general thing, Pennsylvania insurance companies abroad, affecting the henor and good name of the State. The great purpose of the proposed department, should be protection. But in connection with it there must be fees sufficient to cover all its legitimate expenses in sufficient to cover all is legitimate expenses in the sufficient to cover all is legitimate expenses in and prevent its pecenning a burthen to the PARDONS. A report is herewith submitted of the par-dons, remissions of fines, forfeited recogni-zance and death warrants, issued by me during the past year, with a tabular statement of those issued from 1791 to the present time. This report is made in accordance with a sense of duty to the Legislature and the pub-lic who have a right to be informed in what manner and to what extent the Executive clemency has been employed toward convic-ted criminals. It is also due to the Execu-tive himself that his action in this regard should be understood. On no subject has there been greater misrepresentation than on sufficient to cover all its legitimate expenses and prevent its becoming a burthen to the Commonwealth. GAS.

GAS. Complaints have been laid before me by the consumers of gas in our large cities, and from a sense of duty and respect to them I lay the matter before you. It is stated that they have no appeal or satisfactory mode of re-dress for alleged impositions of the gas com-panies. To what extent these complaints are just it would be difficult to ascertain, but that there is cause for some of them may pro-ty be inferred from the number, intelligence and respectability of the parties by whom they are made. There is no reason why such a state of things should continue to exist, whilst the people, through their representatives, have an easy and effectual remedy. The Legislature of a neighboring State has metres. A bill might be enacted creating a similar position in any city in which it may be required in this State, and such arrange-ments made as would ensure justice to con-sumers and producers without being an ex-pense to the State. STATUES FOR THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON. there been greater misrepresentation than on that which relates to the exercise of the tive himself that his action in this regard should be understood. On no subject has there been greater misrepresentation than on that which relates to the exercise of the pardoning power. Accusations have repeatedly been published of its abuse, and cases have been cited in proof thereof, which were never even presented to my notice. Criminals were liberated from prison after sentence, and clamors raised in relation to their pardon in cases in which no appeal for clemency had ever been made. Upon investigation, it has been ascertained that a custom prevails in the court of quarter sessions of Philadelphia, to re-consider, remit and change sentences, weeks and months after their delivery, and in this, much of the misrepresentation has originated. During the last year, as many convicts were thus liberated from the Moyamensing juil as were pardoned by me from all the prisons in the Commonwealth. Besides which a number more have had their terms of sentence reduced. How, or when, or under what suthority, this custom originated, it is impossible to learn, but that it is liable to abuse, and is without the sanction of law, seems evident. The sentence of and should receive most serious consideration before it is determined upon and delivered; for when it has become a matter of record, the criminal passes beyond the jurisdiction of the curt, and there is no legal or constitutional remedy, even for errors that may be committed, except through appeal to the Except through appeal to the Except. If a judge can remit or shorten a sentence, he can increase it, and that is a power dangerous to allow any one to wield. And further, if it be lawful for the judge of it follows that judges of all other courts should be invested with the same prerogative; and it requires no argument to show to what a damgerous extent it might be used. Happily, the custom appears to be confined to the court appears do the matter of reach for whose execution the previous Governors whose death warrants were never issued, and ther steme of them for ma STATUES FOR THE CAPITOL AT WASHINGTON.

A brief reference to the condition of the country will be proper, and will doubtless be expected by all who were earnest in their de-sire and co-operation for the suppression of the rebellion, and who are now equally in earnest in their wishes and endeavors to se-cure an early, final and permanent settlement of our national difficulties, upon the basis of loyalty and patriotism. it more important to sustain the contrary proposition. In my inaugursi address, I said, "that while Pennsylvaria will confide in a loyal Congress, she will not hesitate to snatain it by her influence and power." This I repeat. Nor can I be induced to change this purpose; nor do I believe the people of the State can be, by appeals to the humanitarianism of the age and the invocation of mercy for those whose attocious deeds have darkened the pages of our history. It has been well said, "the pity of the magistrate which suffers a criminal dangerous to society to escape from deserved punishment, is not mercy, but weakness." Truemercy inclines to us pity and relieve the unfortunate and guilty; but only in accordance with justice. And it may be well added, that it is at least a weakness. if not a crime, to permit uurepentant, and have been blackened with crime. PRISON COMMISSIONERS. In accordance with an act of Assembly, ap-proved on the 27th of April last, Messrs. Wil-liam H. Armstrong, of Lycoming county, Theodore H. Nevin, of Allegheny, Wm. M. Watts, of Cumberland, and Alexander Henry and N. B. Browne, of Philadolbhia, were ap-pointed commissioners 'to inquire into the various systems of prison discipline as prac-ticed in other States and countries.'' These gentlemen entered upon their duties and have visited various prisons, one of their number having gone to Europe for that pur-pose. The act, however, requiring them to report to this session of the Legislature does not allow them sufficient time to do justice to the subject, and they ask an amendment ex-tending the time for their report until the session of 1869. Mow was appointed in conformity with an act of the last-legislature, 'to visit, for philan-thropic purposes, the prisons and alms-houses in the various counties of the Common-wealth.'' The report will be found interes-ting in all its details, and the writer's sugges-tions deserving of especial attention. PARDONS. A report is herewith submitted of the par-define purposes, fine particely and the particely and the subject. A report is herewith submitted of the par-only in accordance with justice. And it may be well added, that it is at least a weakness. if not a crime, to permit uurepentant, and only outwardly subdued traitors, to exercise the elecuive franchise, hold offices, or take part in the deliberations and legislation of the nation. Its stability and prosperity, the welfare of the people now and hereafter, cannot permit thesethings to be doue. Individual interests, as well as the general financial condition of our national affairs would be greatly benefited by the simplifica-tion of internal revenue taxation, reducing the number of articles taxed and insuring honesty and faitfulness in collection. The reduction of taxes on the necessaries of life and on manufactures that are in competition with the products of foreign labor should be enrouraged, while the tax on luxuries and imports should be made sufficient to sustain the expenses of the government. The people of Pennsylvania, ever true to the Union, and unswerving in their determi-nation to preserve its honor, integrity and perpetity, are proud and free to assert the sacredness of the national debt, and that its ultimate payment in full must be secured. As regards the tariff, the protection of home labor and nesources, I need only refer to the views expressed in my inaugural. Time and continued reflection have strength-ened the views therein expressed. But this Time and continued reflection have strength-ened the views therein expressed. But this subject is committed to the watchful care of our representatives in Congress, and it is hoped their labors will be crowned with the happiest consequences. Surely the United States should project and defend her own in-dustry and skill—her own toiling millions! I earnestly invoke the blessing of Almighty God upon your deliberations, and that He will prosper your exertions to promote the happiness of the people and the welfare of onr beloved Commonwealth. Increase of expense. The transportation of a loaded car costs but little more than that of one that is empty. In the matter of passengers alone, it is reasonable to suppose, that the lower the rates of fare, the greater will be the number of persons to avail them-selves of the privilage of railroad transpor-tation. The same is true in regard to freight; for the engine that draws a half dozen cars, can with nearly equal facility propel a larger number. Moreover, the road that is worked to its utmost capacity must necessarily, at very reduced rates, acquire greater profits than one that trans-acts but a small portion of the business for which it is competent. The adoption of a system of uniform rates for passengers and freight, so graduated as to be profitable to all immediately interested in the use and conduct of such works, would be productive of decided benefit in lessening the prices of food, clothing, fiel, and all the necessaries of life, to every citizen of the Common-wealth.
