Or faith knows how to give.
The daisy fair, the tulp tall,
The lidy bright with dew—
What's light the whole—rose, pink, and
And love but only you?
As fables say, in days of yore,
When Love with Beauty strayed,
The more how the ground that a near must pay
The youth believed the rows he swore,
The youth believed the more how how for give.

Loetry. THE LOST CREED. "I LOVE ONLY YOU."

Love only you? 'Tis asking more, Believe me, as I live, Than Constancy has got in store, Or faith knows how to give.

What! slight the whole-rose, pink, and all-he uses. e courts have decided that refusing to take es and periodicals from the Post office, ring and having them uncalled for, is refa eridence of intentional fraud. The creed "I love but you."

The creed "I love but you."

Are in the Moslem heaven: The priest had never less than four, The prophet less than seven JOHN T. KEAGY, ATTORNEY-AT-LAW. See, Office opposite Reed & Schell's Bank. Conseel given in English and German. [apl26] When but for one the patriarch prayed,

To love but only you. "Still only you?" Was ever man

Perplexed like this before? By Jove! I'll love you all I can, And who can promise more? I'll call you mine, dove, dear, divine; But, honor bright and true, I do declare, I dare not swear

To love but "only you."

THREE WORDS OF STRENGTH. There are three lessons I would write-Three words as with a burning pen-In tracings of eternal light

Upon the hearts of men. Have hope. Though clouds environ now, And gladness hides her face in scorn, Put then the shadow from thy brow:

No night but hath its morn Have faith. Where'er thy bark is driven-The calm's disport, the tempest's mirth-

Know this: God rules the host of heaven, The inhabitants of earth. Have love. And not alone for one. But man, as man, thy brother call;

And scatters, like the circling sun,

Strength when life's surges cease to roll, Light when thou else were blind.
