THE LAST PRESIDENTIAL MOVE. He attempts to force Stanton out by attempting to push Thomas in.

IMPEACHMENT THE RESULT. GREAT EXCITEMENT.

The citizens of Washington were startled from their usual quiet on last Friday after-noon by the announcement that the Pres-ident had removed Hon. E. M. Stanton. Secretary of War, and appointed Adjutant

Mr. Covode, as a question of privilege, immediately moved that 'Andy Johnson be impeached for high crimes and misdemeanors, which was a construction of privilege. demeanors, which was also referred to the Committee of Reconstruction. The House then reconsidered the resolution which erthe less true, and the worst part of the had been previously concurred in to adjourn appointed a Committee composed of Sena tors Cameron, Thayer, Conness and Cattell to call upon Mr. Stanton, and assure him the officers whose duty it is to execute the of their determination to support him in his law. If the Committee will devise some efforts to maintain the laws. They were also directed to visit General Grant and ascertain the position he would maintain in the crisis. Mr. Stanton assured them that he would continue in office until the Senate would edite the matter. They were sais will do the whole country a service. From highest to lowest the officers to whom this duty is delegated are guilty, and no one has would decide the matter. They were satist the courage to stand up in the honest disfied with their conference with General Grant. The Senate then passed a resolu-Grant. The Senate then passed a resolu-tion, by a vote of 29 to 6, that it did not The present law might be made efficient recognize the authority of the President to remove Mr. Stanton, and place anoth er person in that office, without its con-

Under instructions from the President General Thomas called on Stanton and delivered his orders. Mr. Stanton asked time to consider the subject which was courteously extended. At seven o'clock the next morning General Thomas was arrested or a warrant issued by Judge Carter and held in $5,000 bail, for a violation of the provisions of the Tenure of Office Act. Subsequently however, he attempted to get possession of the War office, but he found no encouragement.

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the President sent to the Senate the nomination of morally and pecuniarily. We hope the Thomas Ewing, of Ohio, as Secretary of War, at least so it is said, and an explanation of his efforts to remove Stanton cover ing forty pages. Late in the day the Reconstruction Committee reported in favor of impeachment, which, when reached by a vote of the House on Monday, was sustained by a vote of 126 to 47. So the President's attempt to make himself the nowince of the Democratic Convention will very likely result in his dismissal from the high position which he has so signally disgraced. The New York Tribune says in regard to impeachment:

"There is no avoiding this conclusion: no explaining it away; no middle course; Congress must assume the responsibility of impeaching him. Not to do so in the face of this flagrant and insolent proceeding is to be come a partner in the crime. It is no time to consider party influence of impeachment, or its effect upon Presidential candidates. We would rather see the Republican party, candidates and all, driven into the desert of Arabia than to have them tremble one more discovered as the considerable with the considerable and the conside Arabia than to have them tremble one mo-ment in the presence of this high duty."

OUR TAX LAWS.

We are indebted to the Secretary of the en the report reccommends some important is the change in the collection of taxes. Long experience baving proved the inefficiency of the system of township collectors, and at such rates and prices for which the same would separately bona fide sell." Yet these plain provisions of the statute, so in dispensable to a just basis of taxation, are uniformly disregarded, and it is usual to assess property at from one-fifth to one-third and one-half its real value. That sworn officers could, year after year, so utterly disregard the law, would seem incredible, had the fact not been continually demonstrated to eyery tax-payer in the State. Many causes may have operated to effect this result; but it cannot be doubted that the evils and temptations incident to the elective system, lie at the bottom of this perpetual fountain of injustice and wrong. It is believed a due regard for the rights and integests of our people requires a total abolition of the present system, and the substitution of something better. Whether assessors should not be appointed by the courts, or by some other authority, under such regulations as the Legislature might see proper to impose, is respectfully submitted as well worthy the most serious and careful consideration.

To the truthfulness of these alarming statements all who have ever examined the a sessment books of our own county can testify. That sworn efficers do, from year to year, deliberately violate their oaths and the plain letter of the law the records do most clearly prove. Assessors and Comad interim. Stanton received a letter from the President informing him of this, his last move, and directive him of this, his missioners are alike culpable in this matter, pable negligence of Assessors as shown it the published assessment report. seem astounding to many, but they are nevhad been previously concurred in to adjourn over until Monday.

The Senate was about to adjourn when it received a message from the President announcing his removal of Mr. Stanton. It at once convened in executive session and appointed a Committee composed of Sena charge of his own sworn duty, much less to enough by creating a prosecuting revent officer for the State, whose duty it should be to visit every county of the State and prosecute every delinquent Commissione or assessor (and this would comprise ninety nine out of every hundred,) and punish them to the full extent of the law. If the Legislature will create such an office and the Governor appoint some one, who has the grim uncompromising spirit of a Stanton, to fill it and do his duty, we will guarantee revenue enough from fines and penaltics to pay off half the State debt within a year; such a proceeding would also open the eyes of blind officials to the binding force of an oath of office, a reform that would be of vast benefit to the State, both

THE New York Sun, on the authority of a private letter from an officer in Texas, declares that General Hancock is becoming sickened with his upreconstructed friends It says more specifically," It is intimated that unless speedily re-called by the President he will become a Radical of the most determined type. General Hancock is by no means the first officer of conservative tendencies who has undergone a change of opinion by an official residence in the Southern States, and probably will not be the last. An interior view of these down-trodden communi ties would probably also benefit some gentle men in civil life; and it may happen that political invalids will be sent fo Texas or Alabama as consumptives are now dispatch ed to Cuba or Nassau. It seems that the gentle unreconstructed are not satisfied with a soldier who merely lays aside his uniform, but demand further humiliation.

THE Herald, quoting news from Hayti, says; "This is what an infamous Congress is bringing about in the South." Well, we have yet to hear of one outrage one riot, one manifestation of hatred from the negroes in the South. The white men massacred the negro in New-Orleans and Memphis. In Texas the freedmen were slain like wolves. They trusted in Providence, however, were patient and waited. Suppose the white men had been massacred like the blacks were, what would have been said? How hard it is for men to be just!-N. Y. Tribune.

THE PUNISHMENT OF LOYALTY.-It should ever be kept in mind that the Democratic plan of reconstruction does not contemplate, in Senator Morton's words, that political power in the Rebet States shall be divided between the loyal and disloyal but it demands that political power shall be placed exclusively in the hands of the disloyal, to whose tender mercies the true and faithful people shall be consigned without redress or appeal. We may be prejudiced, but it seems to us that loyal white men of the South will find little consoltation in the idea that "this is a white man's Government," when under that Government they are trea ted as if they had no more rights than the despised "niggers." - Baltimore American

The opposition will spare no efforts to carry their candidates and there is no reason that Republicans should not do likewise in the face of the approaching Presidential canvass. Let township and borough meetings be held and full tickets be nominated at least a week previous to the election and then let every Republican vote be brought out and polled.
