CARE AND ATTENTION. In many operations of the farm it is the the watchful attention bestowed that warrants success-the particular time at which a job is done—if so be it is done well and receives after attention-is certainly a secondary matter. True, there may be a period when certain operations will be much that is told? surer to succeed than if performed at another Because he time—and the more favorable conditions the farmer can take advantage of the better, but in no case is the care to which we have allu-ded to be set aside and regarded as of no account simply because the operation was, according to the books, performed at the right season of the year. "Whatever is worth doing at allis worth doing well," and most farm work well done, and well taken care of will generally succeed if performed at almost any season of the year. In no business with which we are acquain ted, will attention to details pay a better re turn, and in none is it more neglected than upon the farm. What merchant, manufacturer, or mechanic, having capital invested in his business; and desiring to make it pay the best return, would not be deemed grossly improvident if he paid no more attention to the minute matters of his business than the great majority of farmers do, and would it not be expected he would fail? Farmers plant seeds and trees, care for them but imperfectly, and are disappointed if they do not have a large Would the merchant or manurfacturer expect to make money if he purchased articles, and through his own negligence allowed them to waste and become valueless upon his hands? But for the kindliness and forbearance of our 'mother earth,' the crops consign ed to her would, with the ill care so often bestowed, return again to the farmer but the seed sown, which in many instances is as much

When will the lesson be learned and practised by all who call themselves farmers? that good care and attention bestowed alike to soil, animals and crops, is sure to bring a more than tenfold reward, and go far towards making up the deficiencies of an unfavorable eason, and perhaps the effects of the wrong time of performing the operation. Without this care, do the work whenever the best time occurs, success will be impossible .-- Maine Farmer.

POULTRY MANURE-How TO SAVE AND USE | big temper. T.-Poultry manure, one of the most valuable tertilizers made upon the farm, is too often allowed to go to waste. The hens and turkeys roost upon trees, under the shed, in the wagon-house, or wherever it happens. To save the manure, these birds must be taught to roost in one place. Turkeys readily take to elevated poles near the house or barn, and these should always be provided for them. Sweep up their droppings every few days, and put in a box or barrel, and keep dry. Hens will roost under cover, and a hen-kouse should always be one of the farm buildings. The floor, if not of boards in a loft, should be such that it can be cleaned easily and frequently. It is well to keep plaster or dried peat under the fowls. Put the sweepings in old barrels as fast as they accumulate. In a dry state they will keep a long time without tongue. much loss. It is customary to mix these droppings with wood ashes, without much attention to definite proportions, at the time and potatoes. If care is taken to keep the seed from contract with the manure, they produce very satisfactory results. But this s not the best way of using it. Two or three weeks before planting mix the contents of the barrels with about three times their bulk of moist loam or peat under cover. When the mass is well heated, shovel it over, and mix with it as much more loam or peat, and her never being far away from home.' let it lie until wanted. This may be worked into beds prepared for garden seeds, or dropped, a handful to the hill, for field crops, and it will always tell a good story at harvest time.

LIME AROUND APPLE TREES .- The Cincinnati Inquirer says: "We have known some farmers make it a regular practice for a succession of years to throw caustic lime around their apple trees in the spring and summer. We once noticed that a tree standing in the immediate vicinity of our dwelling had all at once put forth with renewed energy, and we were at loss for some time to define the cause. On examination we found that a been invented in Connecticut. Taking the hint from the incident, we pur chased twelve casks of lime, and applied half a bushel to each of the trees in our orchard, and found that it produced immediate bene ficial effects. Not the health of the tree only but the quality of the fruit also was greatly improved. This application will be especialbeneficial in soils where there is a redundancy of vegetable matter. AUDITOR'S NOTICE. A UDITOR'S NOTICE.

Bedford Courty, SS:

At a Court of Quarter Sessions held at Bedford in and for the County of Bedford, on the 10th day of Feb'y, A. D. 1868, the recommendation of the Directors of the Poor and of the House of Employment of said county, was read and filed setting forth: "That the building now occupied as the Poor House of said county, is totally insufficient for the sheltering and protection of the poor. That a new poor house should be erected as provided by the Act of Assembly, approved the 17th April, 1866. That the present poor house property is not desirable for the purposes for which it is now used, and recommending that said property be sold, and, that, in lieu of it, a farm of from seventy-five to one hundred acres of good land be purchased, upon which the poor house above recommended shall be erected," &c.

Whereupon the Court referred the same to the Grand Jury, who, on the 12th day of Fab'y, A.D. 1868, made the following return and endorsement upon said recommendation: "This recommend then approved by the Grand Jury, except that in the opinion of the Grand Jury, the farm to be purchased should not centain less than one hundred and twenty-five acres."

Now, March 7, 1868, the Court appoint Wm. M. Hall, Esq., Auditor to take testimony, and feats and make report &c.

property; also for the Mill and Miller's house separately.

3rd. Offers of suitable farms, stating the price, number of acres, locality, with a full description.

4th. I invite plans with estimate of cost of a suitable building, with all the modern improvements, for the sheltering and maintaining one hundred poor persons—said building to be erected on the present or at any other locality proposed. No plan to be paid for unless ultimately adopted by the County Commissioners.

Sealed proposals to purchase or to sell may be sent to me or to J. W. DICKERSON, Attorney for Bedford county, at any time before the day of meeting.

Send for descriptive circular and price list. The effect of your "Tremolo" is entirely new to me, and is certainly the best I ever heard.—

Geo. W. Morgon. (The first Organist of America. No Traknolo has yet been invented that will in any degree compare with this for beauty of effect. In fact, it seems to me to be absolutely perfect.—

Wm. A. Johnson, Pipe Organ Builder.

Ester's Cottage Organs are without a sperior for exceedingly quick articulation and round tone—the essential features in instruments of this class.—Geo. Jardine, Pipe Organ Builder.

The Cottage Organ is the best of its class I ever say, and the best adapted for church music of any in use.—C. Heints, Organist, Findloy, O.

I am much pleased with the Cottage Organ which I purchased from you; it combines sweetness and power in an unusual degree, and is quite a favorite in our family circle.—Biskop Simpson.

We know of no organs of the class which possess so many valuable qualities.—Independent.

For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for

For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for For the parlor, its sweetness is remarkable; for the church it has a power more organ-like than anything we have seen.—Methodist. Persons wishing to purchase an organ are re-quested to examine the Esty instruments now in use at the Presbyterian and Episcopal Church Bedford.
