I know full well, my dear Brother, that the elergy of my Diocese, as a body, feel with me that one of the greatest hindrances to spiritual life and true Church work, exists in the agencies which are so commonly made use of for replenishing the Lord's treasory. Fairs, suppers, ruffles, lotteries, bulks, and all such aboundations, at once destroy all true principles of making an offering to God an act of hely worship. I believe that in proportion as they are made use of, the life of any congregation will decline, and the usefulness of a pastor be destroyed—he will be 'a cloud to rain, not over Arabos, the Happy, but over the Stony or Desert."
