BEDFORD, PA., FRIDAY, MAY 29, 1868. NATIONAL UNION REPUBLICAN TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT. Gen. ULYSSES S. GRANT. FOR VICE PRESIDENT. Hon. SCHUYLER COLFAX. STATE TICKET.

AUDITOR GENERAL : GEN. JOHN F. HARTRANFT, OF MONTGOMERY COUNTY. SURVEYOR GENERAL* GEN. JACOB M. CAMPBELL, OF CAMBRIA COUNTY.

Republican County Convention. The Republican votors of Bedford County will meet in their several election districts on SATURDAY, THE 6TH DAY OF JUNE, 1868, between the hours of 2 o'clock P. M. and 7 o'clock P. M., for the purpose of electing delegates to the TUESDAY, THE 9TH DAY OF JUNE, 1868.

Two delegates will be elected from each elec-ing offices: Member of Congress, Additional Law Judge and Member of the Legislature, and nom-nate a county ticket to be supported by the Republican party of the County, at the coming elecfor the coming year, besides other important busness that may come before the Convention.

OUR CANDIDATES. A more acceptable ticket than that placed in nomination by the Republican Convenion at Chicago, has never been before the American people. Instead of the trickery and rivalry incident upon such occasions, the delegates to the Chicago Convention assembled to declare officially the will of the people, long before known to the whole The nomination of Grant was the mere formality of recording the long before expressed will of the people. Without so-licitation or effort of any kind on his part, he is nominated for the highest office in the gift of the people, by the unanimous voice of all who stood by the country in her hour of peril. No candidate since Washington has been placed in nomination for the Presidential office, by so unanimous an expression of the public sentiment. The nomination of Schuyler Colfax, the candidate for Vice President, is every where received with unqualified approval, and altogether a more popular and acceptable ticket, has never invited the suffrages of the American people. Men of the people, and having risen from the humbler walks of life, by virtue of their own merit, they are truly representative men, exhibiting in their own careers the peculiar characteristics of our Republican government, where all are offered an equal chance in the race of life, and where genuine merit and stern integrity, may and can exalt from the lowest to the highest places in the land. only failed by one vote, and that vote obtained by bribery, is a fact of no small significance. The record will go into history, not to the discredit of those who instituted the proceedings, but of him who. by his high handed outrages made them necessary, and of those who first by their votes and resolutions declared impeachment necessary and then stultified themselves by voting for acquittal. Whether such men as Trumbull, Fessenden, Grimes, Henderson, Fowler and Van Winkle, voted for acquittal from personal motives of any kind whatever, or from an honest conviction of right, time alone will tell! If from the former, the disgrace will be upon their own heads for betraying country as well as party! If from the latter, it will be to their credit, and at the same time demonstrate the fact that while the Republican party had men, who could fairly and honestly try the President and vote on the merits of the case, independent of party and politics, the copperhead party failed to show a single active, but constantly and persistently voted solid for the side which seemed to favor the party on every petty question from the beginning to entering the transformation of character, from the mails character, from the mail character, from the smaked gegon of conspituation of freachery, there sail a mandov of treachery, there such men as Trumbull, Fessenden, Grimes,

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS.

[From the Cincinnati Gazette.]
With the best men for our candidates, and with righteousness embodied in the platform and emblazoned upon the people may, with confidence, be called upon to work vigorously. The success of this ticket, in November, will make certain the final success at the ballot box of the cause which was made gloriously successful, in part, on the battle-field by our soldiers.

[Fron the Boston Journal,]
We are persuaded also, that this ticket.

[Fron the Boston Journal,]
We are persuaded also, that this ticket,
so responsive to the instincts of the people, will command much more than a mere party support—that it will appeal to all who are tired of dissension and long for peace; to all who would hasten the return of the prosperity which can come only from a wise and firm administration of the Government at this juncture; to all, in short, who love their country above personal or partison ends, and this juncture, to an, in short, who love their country above personal or partisan ends, and who, rallying in one grand array, extending from the Lakes to the Gulf and from the Atlantic to the Pacific, shall; carry General Grant into the Presidency by an overwhel-

[From the Whilmington (Del.) Commercial.] We remember some popular and excellent nominations in the past, but we say with confidence and positiveness that none better than these, none more claimed the support of the American people.

The New York Post, which has for some ime past been rather cool in its support of the Republican party, cordially approves both of the candidates and the platform. Of General Grant's character has had a fair ind full development through the varied ex-periences of the last three or four years. Prosperity has not changed his simple mabits or his dislike of ostentation and show. habits or his dislike of ostentation and show. Flattery and political intrigue have not made him arrogant, or led him to step outside the proper limits of his duty. If he is elected to the Presidency, the people may confidently count upon an economical administration; upon the strict maintenance of order, and the faithful and rigorous administration of the heat men in the country to fill the way.

of the best men in the country to fill the va-rious offices of the Government.

The nomination of Mr. Colfax for the Vice Presidency will, we believe, be received with more general consent and pleasure than could have been got for any other. He is a man of integrity, of experience in public affairs, of sound patriotism, and of so fair affairs, of sound patriotism, and of so fair and friendly a disposition, so impartial a judgment that though he has been Speaker of the House in a time of unexampled political excitement and bitterness, he has secured the respect and friendly regard of his political opponents, as well as those of the party of which he has so long been a most carnest and zealous adherent.

rior abilities and sagacity in our political affairs, and in the event of a call to the White House to fill the unexpired term of his colleague, no doubt can be entertained that he will give us a good administration. Nor is the flattering reputation of these limited to the United States, for it is substantially the same abroad as at home. The news of their nomination will strengthen the confidence of the friends in "the great Republic" over all the world—on the Thames, the Seine, the Rhine, the Neva and the Danube, and from the mighty Amazon, rolling its flood of waters down the equatorial line, to the Imperial Yang-tse-Kiang of China, "the son of the sea." Nor will that honest faith in American securities at Frankfort-on-the Main be weakened with the prospect of the transfer from and after the 4th of March, 1869, of the reins of our Government to Grant and Colfax.

The Chicago Convention could not have chosen a better ticket. The President protem, of the Senate, Mr. Wade, who led the list of Vice Presidential aspirants on the first two or three ballots, would have been to Grant as heavy a load to carry as was the Old Man of the Sea to Sinbad the Sailor; and Fenton, the next highest competitor of Colfax, would also have been a dead weight. Colfax, on the other hand, gives that positive strength and consistency to the ticket which makes it a unit and expands that positive strength and consistency to the that positive strength and consistency to the ticket which makes it a unit and expands the circle of its influence. He has had the valuable training of a newspaper editor—a vocation which is in this country the best of schools for an aspiring politician. It teaches him all the ins and outs of the profession and how to avoid those shoals and bars upon which so many of our greatest statesmen have foundered. The rail splitter and the tailor were a powerful team. ter and the tailor were a powerful team, but ter and the tailor were a powerful team, but the tanner and the editor will match them. There is "nothing like leather," and the newspaper is the third estate of the ninetenth century. Grant and Colfax are a strong ticket, and they are provided with a movable extension platform on the negro suffrage question and on the money question, which will accommodate all comers of all shades of opinion.

From the Boston Transcript.

Hon. Henry Wilson is in Boston to-day, having accompanied his family home from Washington. He takes his defeat for the Vice Presidency quite pnilosophically, as he thinks men are of small account when compared with the success of a great cause. He is much pleased with the platform adopted at Chicago, and speaks in the highest terms of Mr. Colfax, as a gentleman of deserved popularity, and pure and stainless life. No man, Mr. Wilson thinks, could be named who would bring greater strength to the ticket. The Senator expressed to day the opinion he has held and often expressed during the past seven months, that the Republicans will carry three fourths of the States at the Presidential election, and have nearly if not quite a hundred majority in From the Boston Transcript. nearly if not quite a hundred majority in the next House of Representatives.

THE NOMINATIONS.

Opinions of the Press—Reception of the News—Congratulations to the Nominees.

New York, May 22.—The Sun says the thicago ticket is a strong one, and will receive the enthusiastic support of the Republican party,

The Times, while generally approving of the platform, thinks, as a matter of policy, not less than propriety, that the whole subject of impeachment should have been evaded.

The Herald says the platform is a work of some ingenuity. Like an old campaigner the Convention moves with a bold step where the ground is found, but treads cautiously and gingerly over the boggy cautiously and gingerly over the boggy places.

The Commercial supports the ticket, regarding it as insuring victory in advance, and expresses gratification over the defeat of Fenton. It condemus the second and eighth section of the platform, and cordially approves of the balance thereof.

The Post eulogises the ticket, and says that the resolutions, whatever faults a minute criticism might detect in the language or in that the resolutions, whatever faults a minute criticism might detect in the language or in the form of some of them, are, as a whole, an explicit snd satisfactory declaration of the general sense of justice as applied to the living questions of the day.

The World says the ticket would have been a strong one five months ago, as it is completely western and wholly Radical, Grant is without a nopular equal, but, a successful military career covers a multitude of defects-Colfax is perhaps the most popular man in his party. On the whole the ticket is not a strong one.

TMPROVED THRASHING MACHINE! DANIEL GEISER.

Farmers will please look at the great advantage in Thrashing Grain with GEISERS' PATENT SELF-REGULA-TING GRAIN SEPARATOR, CLEANER AND BAGGER.

With the latest Improved Tripple-Geared Horse Power, driven either by Gear or Belt. With the latest Improved Tripple-Geared Horse Power, driven either by Gear or Belt.

No. I is a eight-horse power, with cast iron thresher frame and wrought iron and wood cylinder, sixteen inches in diameter and thirty-three inches long. Trunk has ten inch rake crank and seven rakes is thirty-five inches wide, and delivers the straw on the second rake, these carry the straw out on their tops, and deliver it on the stack tr, which will deliver about thirty five feet beyond the feeder, on a stack fifteen to eighteen feet high, and can be easily managed to carry the chaff with the straw, or deliver it in a separate place. The trunk and fan sides being closed, to confine the straw and chaff, remedies all difficulties in cleaning grain against windy weather. It bags the grain by reasonable management, sufficiently clean for market, and its capacity, under ordinary circumstances, is from twenty to forty bushels per hour, using eight horses and the same number of hands; but to force the work under favorable circumstance, it will thresh from forty to fifty bushels per hour, and with more case and agreeableness to hands than any other mackine now in common use.

The No. 2 is particularly adapted to the farmer's use; in intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power; weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway power weighs 1,300 pounds; has an intending to apply to any common lever or railway po hard. It will apply very well to a two-horse railway power.

Now here is what the Farmer and thresherman wants, a Separator to go from farm so farm, to thrash grain, with more satisfaction than any other separator now in use, and why is it? Because this separator has a self regulating Blast, which prevents grain from blowing into the chaff, and also has a self regulating feeder to feed the cleaner and it has rollers and combs in the cleaner which prevents if from choaking. Why does this machine run so light, and give so little trouble? Because there is less friction in the Journals, and the rakes and fan are geared so that you have no trouble with Belts breaking and slipping, causing dust to fall into the wheat. Why does it clean against the wind? Because the blast has direct action on the grain and the cleaner is so well arranged that the wind has no chance to drive the dirt into the hopper. Why is it built permanently on two wheels and the front carriage separate, ready to attach when necessary? Because it is more convenient in the barn without the front carriage. You can turn the machine or permanently on two wheels and the front carriage separate, ready to attach when necessary? Because it is more convenient in the barn without the front carriage. You can turn the machine or run it from place to place more easily. Why has it not got Elevators like some other machines? Because the Elevators carry the fifth back alternately into the cleaner which must eventually go into the good wheat or in the chaff, and all know, that filth should be kept separate for feed, &c., we might as well keep shoveling the Tailings from under our hand fan into the hopper and expect to get the grain clean. Why is this separator more cleaner and satisfactory to work about than others? Because the Fan and Trunk Sides are closed up to prevent the wheat chaff and dust from coming out and scattering over the floor, causing waist and giving much trouble with dirt and sore eyes, &c. Why do Threshermen get more work with these separators than they do with others? Because this separator has all these advantages and many more, which makes it a separator suitable and a paying one for all larmers and Thrashermen that have grain to thrash, whilst in most cases farmers must suit hemselves to the machine, because the machine vill not suit itself to the farmer. In short, this s the cheapest, most durable, reliably, simple and nost agreeable to work about and the only separator that will clean and bag the grain sufficiently lean for market under all circumstances.

Farmers can rest assured that this machine is o humbug, and judging from the high recommendation of farmers that are using them, we use to make the farmers want and will have as soon they have an opportunity to appreciate and test its merits, for which we hope they will give an opportunity to appreciate and test its merits, for which we hope they will give an opportunity to appreciate and
