

FOR PRESIDENT, Gen. ULYSSES S. GRANT. FOR VICE PRESIDENT, Hon. SCHUYLER COLFAX.

- PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS. AT LARGE: G. MADISON COATES, of Philadelphia, THOS. M. MARSHALL, of Pittsburgh. Districts: 1. W. H. BARNS, 2. W. J. POLLOCK, 3. RICHARD WILDEY, 4. G. W. HILL, 5. WATSON P. McGUIRE, 6. J. H. BRUNSBERG, 7. FRANK C. HOOPER, 8. ISAAC EBERERT, 9. MORRIS HOPFEN, 10. DAVID M. RAY, 11. W. W. DAVIS, 12. W. W. KETCHUM, 13. SAMUEL KNORR, 14. R. W. WAGONSSELLER, 15. CHRIS. H. MILLER, 16. GEORGE W. ELDER, 17. JOHN STEWART, 18. JACOB GRANTIS, 19. JAMES SULL, 20. H. C. JOHNSON, 21. J. K. EWING, 22. W. F. FRYE, 23. A. W. CHAFFORD, 24. J. S. RUTAN.

VICTORY!

UNION THUNDER!

Great Republican Victories. Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, and Nebraska.

All Republican by Large Majorities. Our Congressmen, Judges and Assemblies all Elected by handsome majorities.

Election of Grant & Colfax assured! No official returns have yet been received and we are only able to give estimated majorities.

Official returns will make some changes and some of the majorities may be smaller and others larger, but the general result will not be materially changed.

In our Congressional, Judicial and Legislative districts, the Copperheads have polled a large fraudulent vote wherever they have had the majority of the election boards.

CONNECTICUT! The latest returns from Connecticut, giving the official vote of all but three districts, indicate a Republican majority of about FOUR THOUSAND.

HONEST JOHN. The latest telegraphic news we go to press reports Hon. JOHN COVODE as having carried the 21st Congressional District, after a desperate contest, by twenty-five of a majority.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 10.—The Supreme Court, at Nisi Prius, Judge Sharwood, in the matter of the rule on Colonel Snowden in regard to the fraudulent naturalization certificates, Judge Sharwood, this morning, delivered his opinion at great length, cancelling the twelve forged certificates of naturalization.

Death of Howell Cobb. Hon. Howell Cobb, of Georgia died on Friday last of apoplexy, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel, New York.

REACTION IN CONNECTICUT.—The town elections in Connecticut on Monday last show a decided reaction in favor of the Democrats since last spring. It is useless these local elections, or that there is nothing in the sentiments of the people which only reflect the general sentiment upon local questions without regard to national topics.

“THAT ROOSTER'S EYES IS SO!”

Gettysburg Repeated! The Johnnies routed horse, foot and dragoon! Glory! Glory! Glory! State Ticket 15,000 majority! Cessna's Record Vindicated! Rowe rows the Cops up Salt River! Bedford County gone to the Dogs! Grant's election a settled fact! Where's your Chicken, Meyers!

AN EMPHATIC PROTEST.

The Supreme Court Naturalizations—They are Declared Illegal—A Death Blow to Democratic Fraud.

The Hon. John M. Read, Associate Judge of the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania, has written the following letter, which speaks for itself, and which will be read with deep interest at the present time:

PHILADELPHIA, October 7, 1868, No. 1119 Chestnut street.—My Dear Brother:—In the early part of the week ending on the 26th of September last I heard casually that the number of naturalizations in Nisi Prius was very large, and on Saturday I was informed that some persons were arrested for naturalization frauds in that court.

On Monday, the 28th, it was stated to me that seven hundred and twenty persons had been naturalized on that day, and that there was strong suspicion of fraud. That evening I wrote and had delivered to the Prothonotary a note requesting him to give me the number naturalized on each day in September, including the 28th.

In the proceeding before Alderman Beiler Colonel Snowden testified "his duty was to attach his name to the papers when brought to him by the stipstaves of the court, and he admitted that his name might possibly be attached to them without their having been sworn to."

HOW COPPERHEAD VOTES ARE MADE.

New York, Oct. 12.—The Tribune this evening issues the following extra: The facts are obtained from the Police Headquarters, and can be depended upon. New York city is being fast emptied of her roughs to-day. Last evening and to-day their ugly countenances have been seen congregating around the Camden and Albany Railroad depot at the foot of Courtland street, all bound for Philadelphia.

My own opinion is that the duty is imposed on the Judge of personal examination, and the practice of the District Court seems to be the nearest approach to a proper execution of the sets of Congress.

My dear Brother: I hope and trust every facility will be given to respectable citizens to examine and take memoranda of the naturalization papers in our court. I understand this is the practice in every other court in the country.

These matters are all published daily in certain one, if not more of the public journals of that city. By far the largest crowd is the silver filigery that congregates around the St. Cloud, right under Captain Mills' vice nose.

RESIGNATION OF CHIEF JUSTICE STRONG.

HARRISBURG, Sept. 30.—The following correspondence will explain itself: PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—To His Excellency, Gov. Governor Dear Sir—Accepting of your resignation as judge of the Supreme Court, I am constrained to resign, not by any disapproval of the duties of the Court or for its associations, but by a sense of duty to my family, for whom I ought to make some better provisions than I can make in my present situation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—To His Excellency, Gov. Governor Dear Sir—Accepting of your resignation as judge of the Supreme Court, I am constrained to resign, not by any disapproval of the duties of the Court or for its associations, but by a sense of duty to my family, for whom I ought to make some better provisions than I can make in my present situation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—To His Excellency, Gov. Governor Dear Sir—Accepting of your resignation as judge of the Supreme Court, I am constrained to resign, not by any disapproval of the duties of the Court or for its associations, but by a sense of duty to my family, for whom I ought to make some better provisions than I can make in my present situation.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—To His Excellency, Gov. Governor Dear Sir—Accepting of your resignation as judge of the Supreme Court, I am constrained to resign, not by any disapproval of the duties of the Court or for its associations, but by a sense of duty to my family, for whom I ought to make some better provisions than I can make in my present situation.

THE SEYMOUR COUNTERFEIT MONEY.

One of the Seymour counterfeit bills, which we noticed before, having been sent to General Spinner, the United States Treasurer, at Washington, to ascertain whether it was not a violation of the law establishing the national currency, he referred the matter to Solicitor Jordan of the Treasury Department, whose opinion is, that all such imitations, for whatever purpose issued, are clearly violations of the law, and all parties concerned in the issuing or trafficking in them are liable to fine and imprisonment for so long a term as the court may see fit to impose.

By far the largest crowd is the silver filigery that congregates around the St. Cloud, right under Captain Mills' vice nose. They expect to "work" many an exulting crowd, beside voting early and often.

By far the largest crowd is the silver filigery that congregates around the St. Cloud, right under Captain Mills' vice nose. They expect to "work" many an exulting crowd, beside voting early and often.

By far the largest crowd is the silver filigery that congregates around the St. Cloud, right under Captain Mills' vice nose. They expect to "work" many an exulting crowd, beside voting early and often.

GENERAL GRANT.

After the fall of Vicksburg, General F. P. Blair made a speech at St. Louis, in which he said: "You will permit me, I know, coming back from Vicksburg—the scene of our recent conquest—to say what ought to be said, and what not dwells in the heart of every officer and soldier in Grant's army, that to Major General Ulysses S. Grant, is due the great achievements which have been performed by his army. And when any ambitious and vainglorious chiefdom comes back and attempts to claim for himself the great deeds which have immortalized, and ought to immortalize, General Grant, the whole army of Grant, the whole army engaged in that expedition, will repel the idea, and we will proclaim everywhere that the leading spirit, the great chief and leader of the expedition, was General Grant. We claim for ourselves only that we sought with cordiality and cheerfulness, with such courage as we possessed, with such endurance as we were endowed with, to carry out his plans, and we did so successfully."

After the fall of Vicksburg, General F. P. Blair made a speech at St. Louis, in which he said: "You will permit me, I know, coming back from Vicksburg—the scene of our recent conquest—to say what ought to be said, and what not dwells in the heart of every officer and soldier in Grant's army, that to Major General Ulysses S. Grant, is due the great achievements which have been performed by his army. And when any ambitious and vainglorious chiefdom comes back and attempts to claim for himself the great deeds which have immortalized, and ought to immortalize, General Grant, the whole army of Grant, the whole army engaged in that expedition, will repel the idea, and we will proclaim everywhere that the leading spirit, the great chief and leader of the expedition, was General Grant. We claim for ourselves only that we sought with cordiality and cheerfulness, with such courage as we possessed, with such endurance as we were endowed with, to carry out his plans, and we did so successfully."

After the fall of Vicksburg, General F. P. Blair made a speech at St. Louis, in which he said: "You will permit me, I know, coming back from Vicksburg—the scene of our recent conquest—to say what ought to be said, and what not dwells in the heart of every officer and soldier in Grant's army, that to Major General Ulysses S. Grant, is due the great achievements which have been performed by his army. And when any ambitious and vainglorious chiefdom comes back and attempts to claim for himself the great deeds which have immortalized, and ought to immortalize, General Grant, the whole army of Grant, the whole army engaged in that expedition, will repel the idea, and we will proclaim everywhere that the leading spirit, the great chief and leader of the expedition, was General Grant. We claim for ourselves only that we sought with cordiality and cheerfulness, with such courage as we possessed, with such endurance as we were endowed with, to carry out his plans, and we did so successfully."

After the fall of Vicksburg, General F. P. Blair made a speech at St. Louis, in which he said: "You will permit me, I know, coming back from Vicksburg—the scene of our recent conquest—to say what ought to be said, and what not dwells in the heart of every officer and soldier in Grant's army, that to Major General Ulysses S. Grant, is due the great achievements which have been performed by his army. And when any ambitious and vainglorious chiefdom comes back and attempts to claim for himself the great deeds which have immortalized, and ought to immortalize, General Grant, the whole army of Grant, the whole army engaged in that expedition, will repel the idea, and we will proclaim everywhere that the leading spirit, the great chief and leader of the expedition, was General Grant. We claim for ourselves only that we sought with cordiality and cheerfulness, with such courage as we possessed, with such endurance as we were endowed with, to carry out his plans, and we did so successfully."

SOUTHERN IDEA OF THE CONSTITUTION.

The massacre at Canulla seems to have whetted rather than satiated the appetite of the Southern Conservatives for blood. The Columbus Sun hopes that "at the next collision sure and speedy vengeance may seek and find the white leaders rather than their ignorant and deluded dupes." The Charleston Mercury expresses a desire, in the event of another such an affair, to be able "to chronicle that every white man, generalizing its remarks, Camilla massacre as a text, asserts that if Grant is elected, the disciplined cohorts of the South must be marshaled once more, and the issue will be, shall the white or black man rule in the South. When it comes, continues the Opinion, "to the last argument reposed in the musket's muzzle and the bayonet's point, where will the negro be?" This is the ferocious spirit that breathes through all the organs of Blair Democracy in the South. Labor must be subjected to capital, the freedmen bound hand and foot and delivered up to the tender mercies of their former masters, and the white men who have stood up declaring for the equality of all men before the law are to be slaughtered, right and left.

AMERICANS IN JAPAN.—Letters from Yeddo state that the Japanese Government has appointed Henry W. Grinnell, late a lieutenant in the United States navy, to an important position in the navy of the Mikado. The title conferred is that of Inspector General of the Japanese navy, and the salary named is $15,000 per annum. It is also reported that a similar post in the army has been offered to General Paul Frank, late acting United States Consul at Kobe (Hiogo).

POLITICS IN SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The Winterset (Iowa) Madonian tells a good story on one of the school districts of that county, where the Democracy are in the ascendant. The people concluded it would be a good thing to establish a Sunday School for that purpose. Every thing went on smoothly until the matter of purchasing a library came up. One thought they had better buy of the Baptist Publication Society, another of the Methodist, and so on, until finally a Republican suggested as it was a Union School, they should buy of the Union Publication Society. An old Democrat immediately arose and said he thought it a great pity that now a days they must bring politics even into the Sunday School. For his part he didn't want any Union books!

POLITICS IN SUNDAY SCHOOL.—The Winterset (Iowa) Madonian tells a good story on one of the school districts of that county, where the Democracy are in the ascendant. The people concluded it would be a good thing to establish a Sunday School for that purpose. Every thing went on smoothly until the matter of purchasing a library came up. One thought they had better buy of the Baptist Publication Society, another of the Methodist, and so on, until finally a Republican suggested as it was a Union School, they should buy of the Union Publication Society. An old Democrat immediately arose and said he thought it a great pity that now a days they must bring politics even into the Sunday School. For his part he didn't want any Union books!