JOHN P. WILLIAMS, of South Woodbery Twp FROM THE ATLANTIC TO THE PACIFIC.

Monday, May 10th 1869 marks the mos important epoch in modern civilization The completion of the Pacific Railroad is the event of the age. It makes the crown ing triumph of modern civilization and science and begins a revolution in the commerce of the world. Beside it the building of the Appian way, the Pyramids, the Chi nese wall or any other similar event in past ages sinks into insignificance. No useles labor, no vain ambition, no selfish exclusion here. The promotion of human welfare and the advancement of human civilization are its chief aims. Its iron bands now bind the East and the West and link ocean to ocean. The future highway of the nations, here all the nationalities of earth shall meet and mingle. Built and managed in the interest of all mankind, across a continent ledicated to civil and religious liberty, in which the downtrodden and oppressed of every clime may find a free and happy home, its influence on the welfare of the human race is beyond calculation. By it the course of the world's commerce will be changed and the wealth that for centurie of the old world will find its way to the new and New York, Philadelphia and San Francisco will become the great marts of the world. In these latter days the wildest marvels of past ages have been so frequently surpassed by the actual achievements of the present that we have almost ceased t attempt forecasting the great results that must of necessity follow such marvelous achievements as this. America seems continually to astound the world with her pro digious performances. The laying of the Atlantic Cable though a most wonderful feat, accomplished by the intelligence and energy of one of our own citizens was soon forgotten in the fearful din of the most terrific war ever recorded in history. In the midst of a struggle in which all the world declared the nation hopelessly lost was inaugurated the most stupendous industrial and commercial enterprise ever dreamed of in the world's history, to be earlied to completion in much less time than the most sanguine had hoped and that at the very moment when all the world but ourselves believed our whole nation irrevocably bankrupted. What shall come next to startle, and surprise? Of a certainty great things are in store for us as a nation. Between the crowded and overflowing nations of both world, not only their wealth of gold and commerce, but their overflowing population will pour in upon us beyond all previous experience or expectation. The inhabitants of every land and clime will cast their lot with us and take up their abode in our much ling of all nations, all religious, all classes and conditions of men, none can foretell.

Commodore Phillimore will demand the release of vessels captured in British waters, the liberation of their crews, and explanation and indemnity from the Spanish authorities at Havana.

Someation stories are sufficiently and the golden gate at the west has all ready begun to pour in upon us an ever increasing tide of her strange children. Verily the spectacle is such a one as the world has never seen. Human wisdom may not divine its results, but that they will be marvellous none pretend to doubt or deny. Two thinge however seem certain. First, the English language will become universal, and second, the English speaking are of our own country will become the controlling power of the world. Are we prepared for it. Truly a great destiny is before us. Are we prepared for, or equal to its responsibilities?

Common Sense is so novel a thing in the administration of public affairs that we cannot but admire every exhibition of it by our public servants. Secretary Bontwell has instructed the Assistant Treasurer in New York to buy a million of Government bonds a week until further orders. There is no better way to build up individual credit than to buy up, or refecem one's bonds before they are due, and there is no better practical evidence of prosperity. Mr. Boutwell is just applying this same method of reasoning and practice to the public finances. A few years or even months of such management will undoubtedly tedl greatly to the advantage of the public Treasury.

Candinates for Governor are getting pleuty. We see General Hartraff. Harry White, D. J. Morrell and W. W. Ketchum are all urged by their respective friends for the nomination. OFFICE SEEKING EXTRAORDINARY, - A Tornado and Watersport on the Ohio

The Louisville Courier gives an account of a destructive hurricane that swept across Kentucky above Wickliff's landing, thirty-five miles up the river, on Wednesday afternoon. While the Leonora was moored at the landing, about 4.30 o'clock, the pilot on duty saw two immense clouds come to at the landing, about 4.30 o'clock, the pilot on duty saw two immense clouds come together a short distance off. In a few minutes a terrific hurricane, rendered still more awful by deafening thunder and blinding lightning, rushed with indescribable fury across the river, just above the landing, rushed with indescribable fury across the river, just above the landing, the fierce tornado lifted a great body of the water and hurled it along over the bank, deluging the vicinity and exciting the utmost terror among the people.

The path of the hurricane was about one hundred yards in width. Throughout this track for miles on both sides of the river devastation was complete. Houses, trees, fences, &c. were uptorn and scattered like straws in all directions. The air was densely filled with huge limbs of trees and other fragments, and the whole region of the storm was in a state of chaos. In the general ragments, and the whole region of the storm was in a state of chaos. In the general destruction the dwelling of a Mr. Goeshler was blown down, and that of David Hogan, was completely razed. In the latter house were four or five persons, all of whom were more or less injured. Sid. Lee's barn and a new building near by were unroofed. A lookout station at the landing was blown entirely away.

Although the Leonora lay some distance below the line of the main hurricane, all of her skylights were shattered, and the glass hurled into the cabin, creating a wild panie among the passengers. If the boat had been within range of the squall she would have gone up the spout teetotally. The most skillful pilot could not have saved her. This terrible blast was followed by rain that fell in torrents and flooded the whole region around. It is difficult to estimate the extent of the injury suffered by the victims of this storm, but it is certainly very great.

THE SOUTH. - A careful newspaper says 11 t is found by accurate investigation into the amount of last year's crops and their selling prices, that the South "retains about $200,-000,000 gold from them." This leads us to remark that during a few

This leads us to remark that during a few months past we have been somewhat astonished to note the evidence of prosperity in the Southern States which are constantly looming up. Fortunately the Southern people have had no credit, they have thus kept out of debt and gone to work, and the result is that they now have plenty of money, and their waste places are being once more made productive. The war could not destroy the Southern soil of climate, and immigration is supplying the places of those who fell by disease or battle.

COLONEL FORNEY is quite enraptured with North Carolina as a State to raise vegetables and fruit in. In the neighborhood of Wilmington, he says that from a soil hereto-fore neglected small fortunes have been gathered by a single crop of radishes, which sell as high as fifteen dollars a barrel at New York and Philadelphia, and are sent forward at the rates by the railread company. New fork and Philadelphia, and are sent forward at the rates by the railroad companies. Strawberries, tomatoes, asparagus, peas and potatoes are now generally cultivated, and the rich are turning their estates, for the first time, to practical uses. We quote the following from his correspondence with the Press:

with the Press:

"The owner of a five acre patch raised and sent to market 150 barrels of radishes at fifteen dollars a barrel, and seventy-five barrels of beets at thirty dollars a barrel; and this was his first trial. Twelve thousand barrels of peas and an almost equal amount of early potatoes have already been and barrels of peas and an almost equal amount of early potatoes have already been sent forward this season.

"The grape culture has been commenced on a stupendous scale. At the Hayne farm, some nine or ten miles from Wilmington, two hundred and fifty acres are planted with the Mish and Catawba and other accepted varieties, and these exclusive of peach trees and the preparation for a large planting of dwarf pears, which ripen in the fall. Indeed, this whole country, from Goldsboro to Weldon, and from Goldsboro to Weldon, is not only adapted to cotton, which is here profitably cultivated, but more to the fruits and vegetables I have named. The yellow pine forests are magroad companies for fuel, and by the increasing manufacture of turpentine, tar, and rosin, the cleared land becomes immediately available for more profitable purposes." ----

Foreign Immigration.—There arrived at New York, on Morday, 4,466 immigrants from Europe. Immigration this year is ahead of any previous instance. Large numbers come from Germany, and from Ircland the report is that this promises to be the most active year yet known. The regular steamers are all overcrowded, and hundreds are left behind, camping about in the railway stations and elsewhere, to be taken up by the next vessel. Two thousand arrived at Queenstown on the 17th of April, of which number but one-half were shipped. The counties of Kenry, Tipperary, Limerick and Waterford, report of the people who are about leaving, that they are all young and healthy, of the farming and laboring classes, and many of them coming out to join relatives and friends in America. We welcome the substantial wealth, in laboring classes. We welcome the substantial wealth, in laboring industry, of which England is but too willing to get rid. As things are proceeding, it cannot be long before Ireland will be wholly in the United States—the free nation at last which it would be, though on a strange but hospitable soil.

Ogden.—Of this new town on the Pacific Railroad, the point of junction of the two roads, a correspondent of the St. Louis Republican writes:—'Ogden is about to become the commercial city of the Rocky Mountains. The greatest activity now prevails at the point. When I left workmen were busy putting up a sidling or switch, and the work of transferring goods, materials, tools, boxes, bundels, bales, barrels, &c., was going on as though the prerels, &c., was going on as though the people were making preparations for an earth-quake. Restaurant keepers, peddlers, traders, gamblers, loafers, rowdies, "deadbeats," merchants, mechanics, blacksmiths, carpenters, seemed to be running a race to see which could get was referred.

see which could get away from the switch at Taylor's mill the quickest.

LIABILITY OF RAILROAD COMPANIES.— Liability of Railroad Companies.

A case of much importance to the public, and particularly to railroad companies, was 13 determined before Judge Taylor, in the 13 Common Pleas of Huntingdon county, last 14 week. In April, 1868, a warehouse took 13 fire from the sparks of a locomotive at Mill Creck, which was consumed, setting fire to an adjoining hotel, which, with most of its contents, was also destroyed. Suits were brought by all the parties injured, but all were amicably compromised, except that of 14 Mr. Kerr, the occupant of the hotel, on which the parties went to trial, and after a contest of three days the jury awarded $1,-960.

LATE advices from Louisiana give a cheerful account of the sugar crop. The wet weather has not seriously injured it, and a larger area than usual has been planted. As an illustration of the profits of sugar raising, we see it stated that a single plantation in St. Landry, consisting of ninety acres in cane and eighty in corn returned a net profit of twenty-five thousand six hundred and fifty dollars.

A COLD climate seems to be favorable to long life. According to a Russian journal, the deaths during 1868 at Irkottsk, Siberia, included six persons over 110 years of age. Two had reached their 126th year, and one died at the age of 121. Three others were more than a century old.
