1. THE EDINBURGH REVIEW. This is the oldest of the series. In its main atures it still follows in the path marked out by rougham, Jeffrey, Sydney Smith, and Lord Hol-und, its original founders and first contributors.

THE LONDON QUARTERLY REVIEW, ich commences its 128th volume with the Jan-ey number, was set on foct as a rival to the organization. It resolutely maintains its opposi-on in politics, and shows equal vigor in its liter.

3. THE WESTMINSTER REVIEW has just closed its 92d volume. In point of liter-ary ability this Review is fast rising to a level with its competitors. It is the advocate of polit-ical and religious liberalism.

4. THE NORTH BRITISH REVIEW, 4. THE NORTH BRITISH REFTER, now in its 51st volume, occupies a very high po-sition in periodical literature. Passing beyond the narrow formalism of schools and parties, it appeals to a wider range of sympathies and a higher integrity of conviction.
