

ELECTION OF STATE TREASURER.

On the 12th inst. both houses of the Legislature met in joint session to elect a State Treasurer. Contrary to expectation R. W. Mackey, the caucus nominee, was defeated, and his opponent, W. W. Irwin, elected.

Both houses of the Legislature adjourned over from Thursday to Tuesday. The session opened with quite a number of flattering resolutions that excited high hopes that a large amount of good and necessary work would be done; but thus far they have ended with good resolutions. We do not see the dilatory indications of a four or five days adjournment so early in the session.

THE LEGISLATIVE RECORD.—The Senate on the 12th inst., passed the House resolution rescinding the contract with Berger for the printing of the Legislative Record. This completes the work of abolishing the most gigantic abuse in connection with the Legislature. Well done! Let us have more of the same kind of work and the good name of our Legislature will be redeemed.

THE NATIONAL INTELLIGENCER finally expired at Washington a few days ago. The N. Y. Tribune comments upon its demise as follows:—The National Intelligencer appears to have been gifted with a tenacity of life truly feebly.

THE COAL DUTY.—The Committee of Ways and Means have refused to recommend any change in the rate of duties upon coal. It is to be hoped that Congress will sustain the action of the Committee and continue to foster this most important branch of our national industry.

POSTAL TELEGRAPH.—That we are behind in our telegraph facilities is to be attributed to the fact that instead of having the wires controlled by the Government in the same manner that our postal affairs are, they are in the hands and under the exclusive control of a few greedy capitalists, organized into a most rapacious and unscrupulous monopoly, that combines and plots to promote its own pecuniary interests at whatever cost to the public.

SCULL VS. FINDLAY.—The seat of the Senator from this district has been awarded by the Senate to Hiram Findlay, two Republicans Lowry and Billingslet voting for it, professing to believe that Findlay was justly entitled to it. The returns electing Findlay being altogether irregular, we believe that Scull should have had the prima facie seat.

A GREAT IMPROVEMENT.—Beginning with a new dress and a form changed from a domino to a gown. The improvement in appearance is great, and the improvement in matter and arrangement still greater. We congratulate the church on the improvement of its leading paper, and the editor, our friend Dr. Conrad, on the success of his efforts to give the church a paper of which she has good reason to be proud.

THE FUND RAISED for the relief of the family of the late Edward Scull, now amounts to one hundred thousand dollars.

GOLD closed in New York on Monday at 12 1/2.

Modification of the Income Tax.

The New York Times suggests as one of the modifications of the income tax, that a distinction of one or two per cent. be made between the taxation of incomes derived from labor and those derived from capital.

STANDING COMMITTEES OF THE HOUSE.—Speaker Strang, on Thursday, announced the standing committees of the House. The most important, with the names of the Chairman are as follows: Corporations, Mr. Hong; Railroads, Mr. Adair; Federal Relations, Mr. Craig; Mining and Manufacturing, Mr. Humphreys; Education, Mr. Buffington; Divorces, Mr. Stephens; Counties and Townships, Mr. Ames; Ways and Means, Mr. Davis; General Judiciary, Mr. Johnson, of Crawford; Local Judiciary, Mr. McCree, of Erie.

GOVERNOR'S SALARY.—A bill was introduced into the Senate a few days ago, and as it passed that body in favor of the Governor from five to seven thousand dollars. On Thursday an attempt was made to call up the bill in the House, but it was summarily voted down.

THE INAUGURATION.

The inauguration of Gov. Geary will take place next Tuesday noon, on the south portico of the capitol, if the weather is favorable, otherwise in the hall of the House.

HARRISBURG, Pa., Jan. 14, 1870.

At the organization of the State Senate two parties presented themselves claiming a seat as representatives from the Twentieth Senatorial district, composed of the counties of Somerset, Bedford and Fulton, and each holding a certificate of election. According to one statement, signed by three return judges, one from each county, Hiram Findlay, the Democratic candidate, was elected by a majority of twenty-three votes.

There was no controversy as to the official character of Mallinck and Logan. The bill received barely two votes. He then moved that a duty of fifty cents per ton be imposed, which was endorsed by only three votes. A motion to place the duty at one dollar per ton was carried by a vote of four against it, which was equivalent to its defeat.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 11th.—Bills were introduced in the Senate authorizing executors and administrators to testify in their own behalf in probate cases, and to decrease the number of legislative officers to regulate the practice of surgery in Philadelphia; to authorize accused persons to be tried by a jury of their peers; to enable the people at the next session to ratify the Attorney General and Sec'y of State, to ratify the charter of the Delaware Bridge Company; to fix the salary of the Governor at $10,000 per annum, and to amend the act relating to the Warehouse Company; to provide for certain avenues in Fairmount Park. Nominations for State Treasurer were then received.

THE ELECTION OF STATE TREASURER.—The election of State Treasurer took place on Wednesday. Since the caucus nomination of Mackey there has been a quiet rumor of a coalition between the Democrats and the dissenting Republicans to secure his defeat, which would be virtually a breaking up of the Cameron ring. This rumor was given additional weight from the fact that on Friday, W. W. Irwin, the candidate defeated in caucus, was closed with Senators Wallace and Buckalew, though nothing tangible could be learned of the result of the interview. It has since transpired that Irwin gave Wallace a list of the Republicans that would support him on the day of election, notwithstanding the caucus nomination of Mackey. On Wednesday morning the Democratic caucus passed a resolution to support Irwin on the second ballot in case enough Republicans voted for him on the first to secure his election by their aid.

On the first ballot Mackey received 62 votes, D. O. Barr, the regular Democratic candidate, 57; Irwin, twelve, and three others cast blank papers. On the second ballot all but two of the Democrats voted for Irwin, the vote standing Mackey 63, Irwin 66, scattering 3, not voting one. At this stage of the proceedings the excitement was most intense, Irwin lacking but one vote to secure his election, and the supporters of Mackey vied over their impending defeat. Strong efforts were made to secure an adjournment; but all motions looking to that end were promptly voted down.

On Friday morning, Mr. White offered a preamble setting forth that the Senate is authorized to declare that Edward Scull is prima facie entitled to a seat in the body, a resolution that, therefore, the contest, Hiram Findlay, be sworn into office, with the right of the said Scull to such a seat on the merits according to law. Signed by HARRY WHITTAKER, Chairman of the Committee on the Judiciary. A minority report was made by Knor Davis, declaring Findlay entitled to a seat. The question was then discussed by Irwin, Scull, and a pro and con paper, and a vote taken. Two Republicans—Billingslet and Lowry—voted with the Democrats against Scull.

INVESTIGATION.

The Finance Committee of the Senate has been instructed, and a special committee has been appointed for a like purpose in the House, to investigate the charges of corrupt means used in the contest for the State Treasury. Irwin declares he is willing to tell all he knows of the matter, and the Finance Committee is empowered to put any State officer under oath. It is hoped that the investigation will not result, as is usual with such committees, in a mere whitewash and covering up of iniquitous practices.

WOOLWICH, England, formerly the center of a busy population of mechanics, has been reduced to a miserable condition by the removal of the famous dockyards of that place. Of the small four roomed houses formerly inhabited by the ship builders, over 1,600 are vacant, and there are in the workhouse over 500 persons who a year ago were in receipt of good wages.

A WRITER in the Milwaukee (Wis.) Sentinel, denounces the corporation of school children, asserting that fear, and fear alone, will succeed with a very large proportion of school children. He thinks that the fruits of a good education, which cannot in any other system be acquired upon any other system, will be ample retribution for the momentary pain, the short-lived anger and the few spite born tears.

THE Secretary of the Navy has requested Admiral Farragut, as the representative of the American navy, to be invited to the ceremonies about which are to be tendered the remains of Mr. Peabody on their appearance in the vicinity of Portland Harbor on board the British man-of-war Monarch. Admiral Farragut will be accompanied by such staff officers as is commensurate with the importance and gravity of the occasion, and the high rank of the Admiral.

PLUNGE MURRAY, about to be tried for exercising the right of primogeniture, a magistrate's face, was recently asked at a dinner party why he appeared so seldom in the Bois. He replied, "My exchequer is empty for the present, and I have studied two horses, and his Majesty forbids my appearance in public short of four."

TWO females in New Orleans were arrested for a breach of the peace. What did they do? asked the justice of the peace. "We were looking at the picture of a man," was the reply. "Where is he?" he demanded. "Here," responded a small, squeaking voice from the far corner of the room. "Here, you see, is the picture of a man who we were looking at when he was in the city." "Do you claim both of these women as your wife?" the Recorder asked. "Well, my own 'em," said the other. "Why do you have two?" "Well, your honor, I get obstreperous I kin go to 'Lother, and she most generally pities me."

THE Superintendent of Public Instruction, of Indiana, submitted his triennial report to the Governor last week. The number of children in that State is 610,655, of which 270,000 are teachers and 4,274 female teachers, pupils enrolled 459,916; average attendance, 29,376; number of schoolhouses 8,506, four hundred and five having been built during the year. Five millions two hundred and eighty-five thousand one hundred is the number of volumes in the township libraries.

CONSIDERABLE interest has been manifested at Washington for the last week or ten days on the probable action of the Ways and Means Committee on the question of the duty on bituminous coal. The question was probably settled on Friday so far as the committee is concerned. Mr. Hooper made the proposition that the article be admitted free, and it received barely two votes. He then moved that a duty of fifty cents per ton be imposed, which was endorsed by only three votes. A motion to place the duty at one dollar per ton was carried by a vote of four against it, which was equivalent to its defeat.

THE following abstract of the Milwaukee weekly market for the year just closed, is taken from the Wisconsin. "The total receipts of wheat for the same period were 17,798,567 bushels. Reducing flour to one dollar per bushel, the total receipts for wheat and flour for the year were $23,727,777. The figures are large, but they are not the greatest primary market in the world.

It is reported that the coal miners of the Schuylkill Valley are on a strike. This action on the part of the workmen has resulted in an attempt by the operators to reduce the wages, because coal has fallen from $10 per ton to $2 1/2 per ton at the mines for shipment. The miners' strike has forced the foreign holders of the stock to accept the new ten-forties as permanent securities in preference to being paid off at once. The number of America holders who prefer being paid off is small, but they are thought by the proceeds of an equal amount of five-twentieths placed in Europe at 100 per cent. of value to become more popular, and thereby not only save the faith but strengthen the credit of the Government and aid in the resumption of specie payments.

SLAVERY IN ALASKA.—Some remarkable statements are made in the Sitka Times about the prevalence of slavery in Alaska Territory. Slaves can be bought to day from any Indian tribe in Alaska. Parents will sell their children for three or four blankets or a few dollars, and have no compunction of conscience for the same. They will be put to the future. When one tribe goes to war with another, all the prisoners taken by either tribe are killed, treated and sold as slaves. When a chief or any other family dies, it is the custom to kill one or more of these slaves, so that the chief or his deceased relative may have a servant in the other world to wait on him. As soon as a chief dies, the slave is compelled to wash the body of the corpse, and is then taken out and thrown flat on his back and held there, when a stick of wood is placed across his throat and two Indians sit down on each end of it, and in this way strangle him to death.
