

The Columbian.

GEORGE H. MOORE, EDITOR. BLOOMSBURG, SATURDAY, OCT. 20, 1866.

THE ELECTIONS.

We are yet unable to state the exact majority of General Geary for Governor in this State, but it is about fifteen thousand less than the Republican majorities in 1864 and 1865.

The Republicans have also carried Ohio, Iowa, and Indiana. The returns are incomplete, but the majorities will be large in the two former States.

In Luzerne and some other counties the vote is greatly increased by naturalization. Large numbers of foreigners did not take out naturalization papers for several years past, on account of the war.

THE VOTE FOR CONGRESS.

The vote given to Judge Elwell in Columbia County is the finest tribute ever paid to a candidate by the people here, and ought to be highly gratifying to him and his friends.

One thousand seven hundred and thirty-seven majority is a grand vote in a county of the third or fourth class as to population, and we repeat it is one of which the friends of Judge Elwell may be proud.

But we must add, that this splendid vote for the Judge was aided somewhat by the opposition of Palenon John. John's management or mis-management of the Republican cause in this county has assisted to run up the Democratic majorities until they have passed the number of sixteen hundred, and his support of Mercer and opposition to Judge Elwell this year was a valuable element of strength to the latter.

MAGAZINES FOR NOVEMBER.

HARPER for November is the first of the magazines to reach us for this month. It is characterized by its usual excellence in illustrations and reading matter.

Following Harper we have Godey's Lady Book with the following excellent table of contents: "Out of an Engagement," a beautiful steel plate. The Colored Fashion-plate contains six figures.

others contribute to the Literary Department. Two Thanksgiving stories in this number. Drawing-room and Library Curtains. New Music; Drawing Lessons; and a country Residence, with plan. The present is a most excellent time to make up clubs for this magazine.

THE OFFICIAL RETURNS.

OFFICIAL returns from sixty-four counties in this State place Geary's majority at 17,151. The two counties unofficially reported are Butler and Forest, both of which are small, and decidedly Republican.

THE VOTE FOR CLYMER.

Table listing votes for various candidates in the vote for Clymer, including Adams, Bedford, Berks, Bucks, Cambria, Carbon, Centre, Clarion, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Cumberland, Elk, Fayette, Fulton, Greene, Juniata, Lehigh, Luzerne, Lycoming, Millin, Monroe, Montgomery, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Pike, Schuylkill, Sullivan, Wayne, Westmoreland, and Wyoming.

THE VOTE FOR GEARY.

Table listing votes for various candidates in the vote for Geary, including Allegheny, Armstrong, Beaver, Blair, Bradford, Butler, Cameron, Chester, Crawford, Dauphin, Delaware, Erie, Forest, Franklin, Huntingdon, Jefferson, Lancaster, Lawrence, Lehigh, M'Kean, Mercer, Perry, Philadelphia, Potter, Somerset, Snyder, Susquehanna, Tioga, Union, Venango, Warren, and Washington.

FULL OFFICIAL RETURNS OF COLUMBIA COUNTY.

The following is the full official vote of this county:

Table showing full official returns for Columbia County, listing candidates like Beaver, Benton, Berwick, Bloom, Blair, Bradford, Centre, Clarion, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Cumberland, Elk, Fayette, Fulton, Greene, Juniata, Lehigh, Luzerne, Lycoming, Millin, Monroe, Montgomery, Montour, Northampton, Northumberland, Pike, Schuylkill, Sullivan, Wayne, Westmoreland, and Wyoming.

THE OLD ROMAN CAPITAL IN THE SOUTH.

The old Roman capital in the south of Britain has been unearthed. The main street and a street running from it have been laid open, together with two large Roman houses with tessellated pavements. The walls which surrounded the capital were three miles in length.

A CALCULATION of the salaries paid to preachers in this country, and the number of sermons preached, according to the New York Observer, shows that the average price paid for sermons, taking the land through, is three cents a sermon.

IMPORTANT LETTER.

The following letter was written by Ex-Archbishop General Bates some two months since, but for some reason was never published until the ninth instant. It will be read with interest by all classes, showing as it does the views of Mr. Lincoln and his Cabinet on an important question.

THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE.

Men who think cannot fail to perceive in our country an alarming growth of influences calculated to destroy all real freedom in the use of the ballot, and to prevent anything like a fair exhibition of the will of the people with regard to public affairs.

LOSS OF LIFE.

GREAT FIRE IN OTTAWA.

FIRE IN ST. LOUIS.

At four o'clock yesterday morning a fire began in the house of Mr. Trudel, grocer, on St. Joseph Street, near the Jacques Cartier Market. Owing to the early hour of the morning few people were about. The wind, which had blown all day, was now from the east, and had slightly abated, but still continued with such violence as to cause serious apprehensions, which were afterward unfortunately realized.

By the time the brigade reached the scene Trudel's house was enveloped in flames. The sappers were already there, but there was some delay in laying the hose and getting sufficient water, which was not remedied for nearly an hour. Meantime the fire made rapid progress; no less than ten or twelve houses were on fire, and the lumber and wooden sheds on all sides were ignited.

By half-past five o'clock eighty houses, all built of wood, were in a blaze. The flames, driven by the wind, were spreading in all directions. At half-past six over one hundred and fifty houses were consumed.

The fire by this time had run along St. Joseph and Notre Dame des Anges Streets to the junction of St. Valier Street, carrying everything before it. The Church of La Congregation stood in great danger, but a sudden veering of the wind saved it.

NORTHERN EMIGRATION WELCOME TO THE SOUTH.

As the Fall advances the immigration into the South from more northern regions heavily increases. With greater interest we watch the northern immigration, which, settling toward this part some time ago, continues increasing in volume, and brings with it the constituent properties of a prosperous people—capital, intelligence, enterprise, and industry.

There is one aspect in which we view this immigration from northern regions which is especially pleasing, inasmuch as it shows that the persistent false reports of pestilential sectionalists of the state of feeling in the South toward Northern men, of the insecurity of their lives and property, the humiliations to which they are exposed, and the widespread combinations to injure and expel them from among us, have no effect on the minds of those who, in great numbers, come to be with us and of us, and to assist in restoring this fruitful southern land to its former prosperous condition.

It may be, and doubtless is, the case that some of those who have selected this region as the field of their future enterprise have their minds influenced in some degree by the bitter and keenly unjust prejudices which Northern Disunionists, alas, with too much success, have striven with might and main to bring the Northern people to accept as gospel truths. Well, they also are welcome. They will have the opportunity of judging for themselves of the truth or falsity of the lessons dinned into them by those who are a disgrace to American citizenship.

GREAT FIRES.

QUEBEC, CANADA, NEARLY DESTROYED.

A Mile Square of the City in Ruins.

Fire Raging Unchecked for Thirteen Hours.

TWENTY-FIVE HUNDRED HOUSES BURNED.

Eighteen Thousand People Left Homeless.

Two and a Half to Three Millions of Property Sacrificed.

The Fire Dies Out for Want of Fuel.

LOSS OF LIFE.

GREAT FIRE IN OTTAWA.

FIRE IN ST. LOUIS.

At four o'clock yesterday morning a fire began in the house of Mr. Trudel, grocer, on St. Joseph Street, near the Jacques Cartier Market.

Owing to the early hour of the morning few people were about. The wind, which had blown all day, was now from the east, and had slightly abated, but still continued with such violence as to cause serious apprehensions, which were afterward unfortunately realized.

By the time the brigade reached the scene Trudel's house was enveloped in flames. The sappers were already there, but there was some delay in laying the hose and getting sufficient water, which was not remedied for nearly an hour.

By half-past five o'clock eighty houses, all built of wood, were in a blaze. The flames, driven by the wind, were spreading in all directions. At half-past six over one hundred and fifty houses were consumed.

The fire by this time had run along St. Joseph and Notre Dame des Anges Streets to the junction of St. Valier Street, carrying everything before it. The Church of La Congregation stood in great danger, but a sudden veering of the wind saved it.

NORTHERN EMIGRATION WELCOME TO THE SOUTH.

As the Fall advances the immigration into the South from more northern regions heavily increases. With greater interest we watch the northern immigration, which, settling toward this part some time ago, continues increasing in volume, and brings with it the constituent properties of a prosperous people—capital, intelligence, enterprise, and industry.

There is one aspect in which we view this immigration from northern regions which is especially pleasing, inasmuch as it shows that the persistent false reports of pestilential sectionalists of the state of feeling in the South toward Northern men, of the insecurity of their lives and property, the humiliations to which they are exposed, and the widespread combinations to injure and expel them from among us, have no effect on the minds of those who, in great numbers, come to be with us and of us, and to assist in restoring this fruitful southern land to its former prosperous condition.

It may be, and doubtless is, the case that some of those who have selected this region as the field of their future enterprise have their minds influenced in some degree by the bitter and keenly unjust prejudices which Northern Disunionists, alas, with too much success, have striven with might and main to bring the Northern people to accept as gospel truths. Well, they also are welcome. They will have the opportunity of judging for themselves of the truth or falsity of the lessons dinned into them by those who are a disgrace to American citizenship.

THE ELECTIVE FRANCHISE.

Men who think cannot fail to perceive in our country an alarming growth of influences calculated to destroy all real freedom in the use of the ballot, and to prevent anything like a fair exhibition of the will of the people with regard to public affairs.

The means proposed by which money is made by betting on elections is this: The "knowing ones," generally furnished with means by the leaders of a party which can raise large sums for such a purpose, determine to bet either upon the election of a particular candidate or upon his election by a stated majority. They then supply their underlings with means to make deposits for stakes, and instruct some of them to appear enthusiastically in the belief that the opposing candidate will be elected, and to make sham bets with confederates as a decoy for unsophisticated persons, who, judging from the tone of popular sentiment, believe that the opponents of the candidate of "the ring" are in the majority.

By the time the brigade reached the scene Trudel's house was enveloped in flames. The sappers were already there, but there was some delay in laying the hose and getting sufficient water, which was not remedied for nearly an hour. Meantime the fire made rapid progress; no less than ten or twelve houses were on fire, and the lumber and wooden sheds on all sides were ignited.

By half-past five o'clock eighty houses, all built of wood, were in a blaze. The flames, driven by the wind, were spreading in all directions. At half-past six over one hundred and fifty houses were consumed.

The fire by this time had run along St. Joseph and Notre Dame des Anges Streets to the junction of St. Valier Street, carrying everything before it. The Church of La Congregation stood in great danger, but a sudden veering of the wind saved it.

By half-past five o'clock eighty houses, all built of wood, were in a blaze. The flames, driven by the wind, were spreading in all directions. At half-past six over one hundred and fifty houses were consumed.

The fire by this time had run along St. Joseph and Notre Dame des Anges Streets to the junction of St. Valier Street, carrying everything before it. The Church of La Congregation stood in great danger, but a sudden veering of the wind saved it.

By half-past five o'clock eighty houses, all built of wood, were in a blaze. The flames, driven by the wind, were spreading in all directions. At half-past six over one hundred and fifty houses were consumed.

By half-past five o'clock eighty houses, all built of wood, were in a blaze. The flames, driven by the wind, were spreading in all directions. At half-past six over one hundred and fifty houses were consumed.

GENERAL PRESS DISPATCHES.

From Washington.

APPLICATION has been made to the Secretary of the Treasury by the Union Pacific Railroad Company for bonds for twenty-five miles of the road from the one hundred and fifth mile-post, making one hundred and sixty miles, including the Leavenworth branch of the eastern division. The bonds will be issued tomorrow. The Omaha division received to-day bonds for an additional section of twenty miles just completed and inspected.

THE MASSACHUSETTS DISTRICT-ATTORNEY.

The President appointed on Monday Hon. George S. Hillard, the eminent lawyer and author, to be United States District-Attorney for Massachusetts, in place of Dana, resigned.

INTERNAL REVENUE TAX.

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has decided that the glazing of brown earthenware does not subject it to a higher tax than two and a half per cent., and the well known Eastern yellow is taxable at five per cent., that not being included in the description of common or gray stone ware.

THE COLUMBIA TYPOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY.

at their meeting on Monday night, adopted an amendment to their scale of prices, as follows: Compositors and pressmen employed by the week shall receive not less than twenty-four dollars a week, eight hours to constitute a day from October first to March thirty-first, and ten hours to constitute a day from April first to September thirtieth, inclusive; for extra work, fifty cents per hour; after midnight, seventy-five cents per hour. Time work in all offices except morning papers, which has hitherto been forty-five cents per hour, shall be increased to fifty cents. A committee was appointed to inform the employees of Washington that the new scale would go into effect on Tuesday. The Bookbinders Association also held a meeting and passed a law to work from one hour after sunrise to sunset from October first to March first, inclusive.

A COUNTERFEIT OF THE NEW 500 COIN IS IN CIRCULATION.

It may be distinguished from the genuine by the softness of the metal.

RESIGNATION OF SECRETARY OF WAR.

It is stated upon high authority that Hon. Edwin M. Stanton has, in writing, requested the President to relieve him of his position as Secretary of War, and that Mr. Stanton will be sent to Spain as Minister of the United States, in place of Mr. Hale. Lieutenant-General Sherman will be requested to assume the duties of the War Department, as acting Secretary of War.

WIDOW'S CLAIMS FOR BOUNTY.

In cases where the additional bounty provided by the Act of July twelfth, 1865, is claimed by the widow of a deceased soldier, she having remarried, it has been decided by the Second Comptroller of the Treasury that if the remarriage took place before the passage of that act she is entitled to receive it. If married after the passage of the act, then the widow would not be entitled to the bounty.

THE AMERICAN PRISONERS IN IRELAND RETURNING.

On Tuesday the Government received official intelligence that the list of the Fenian prisoners in Ireland, who claimed to be citizens of the United States, had been released by the British Government; that his friends, etc., had been returned to him, and he had been shipped for his home upon a vessel bound for this country.

SALE OF GOVERNMENT PROPERTY.

The United States Direct Tax Comptroller will sell to the highest bidder the following Government property, situated on the Islands of Port Royal, Ladies, St. Helena, Boosa, and Perry. The sales will commence as follows: November 1, 1866.—Forty-four lots and houses in the town of Beaufort.

November 5.—Nearly three thousand lots in the newly laid-out City of Port Royal, at the southwest end of St. Helena Island.

December 3.—Thirty-three sections of farms, all improved, and containing in the aggregate six thousand acres.

These sales are to be made under the act of July sixteenth, 1866, which provides that the school farms in the Parish of St. Helena, South Carolina, shall be sold, subject to any leases of the same on or before January first, 1867, at not less than ten dollars per acre, and the lots and houses in the town of Beaufort, which have been bid in by the United States at tax sales, shall be sold at public auction, and the proceeds of such sales, after paying the expense of surveys and sales, shall be invested in United States bonds, the interest of which shall be appropriated to the support of the schools without distinction of race or color, on the Islands, in the Parishes of St. Helena and St. Luke.

As a man, accompanied by his wife and child, was riding leisurely on the road between Columbus and Fall River, Wisconsin, one day last week, two boys aged twelve and fourteen, demanding his "money or life," and no attention being paid to their demand, grasped the bridles of their horses. The child at the same time drew a revolver and fired, the ball coming in close proximity to the gentleman's head. The report of the weapon startled the team, which left the precious urchins standing by the roadside. The boys have been arrested.

MISS CAROLINE BLEWER, aged about seventy years, died in the Alms House in Portland, Maine, on Friday last. She had been an inmate of the house for the last thirty-five years, and had just spoken an intelligible word in all this time. Having been disappointed in love, in early life, she made a vow never to speak another word, and she religiously kept her vow till her tongue was paralyzed in death.

TOM SAYLER has a monument of Sicilian marble weighing eight tons. The champion's dog is represented guarding the entrance to the tomb, and above is a medallion of the deceased.